THE MILITARY ELECTION!

The good people of Abbeville witnessed on Tuesday and Wednesday last, the most extraordinary event of their lives. Nothing of the kind, we believe, has ever occurred before, until within a month past, when similar events commenced taking place in other parts of the poor, unfortunate Southern country—once Southern States.

In a time of profound peace in one of the original thirteen States, which fought through the revolution of 1776, under military orders issued by an officer characterized as the military commandant, a something called an election was held in which the inhabitants having intelligence and property were prohibited from voting, and those, who were lately emancipated, and, of course, have very little stake in the community, and are of a different race and color, were allowed and solicited to vote for delegates to form a new Constitution for the government of the State! This is a precise statement of the fact, and we ask in all candor, if any such farce was ever before enacted in the history of the world?

The day was gloomy, although not cloudy; the very sun was darkened. It seems that tickets had been printed beforehand with the likeness of the late lamented Lincoln on them, and sold to the ignorant and deluded negroes. As soon as the polls were opened, they thronged and crowd d about them for two successive days, and we have heard that the result here was the polling of 1067 of the said printed tickets—1064 black, and 3 white! No Conservative ticket was run. A large number of whites were disfranchised, and the whole thing was looked upon as an extraordinary spectacle. This is a striking event, and one, in our judgement, so absurd and monstrous, we make the prediction that in three years from this day, the party which has done this thing in violation of all law and every principle of justice and good government, will be buried so deep under popular condemnation, that they will be below the soundings of "line or plummet."

We have considered this matter with all the fairness of which we are capable, and it is difficult to understand by what motives the extreme Radicals are animated. We confess that we cannot comprehend their object, unless "as one Sawyer said in Charleston, last summer, to consolidate their power." But is it possible that any party—any party respectable in numbers in the United States—could doom the fairest portion of the continent to destruction and ruin for no other purpose than to perpetuate their party in power? The time was when parties in this country struggled in a glorious emulation for the prosperity, honor and welfare of the whole country; and we cannot even yet believe that any party which acts from such a motive can live one hour after the people understand it.

In the name of liberty they laid a whole people in military subjection! In the name of Republicanism they impose upon us a government not of our seeking, and necessarily destructive in its character. In the name of statesmanship they proscribe intelligence and property, and subject it to the control of the ignorant and the needy. But this is not the worst of it. Absurd as all this may seem, it does not even touch the enormity of this deed. In the name of kindness and philanthropy to the poor blacks they are doing that which, as certainly as the day follows the night, will end in their ruin. As we looked on and saw them led in thronging crowds to the polls, from the bottom of our hearts we commiserated the fate of the poor negro. We yield to no man in kindness to the blacks. We have proved our sentiment by a life-time of works; but we would consult their true and lasting interest, and not bring ruin upon them for selfish party purposes!—They make the line of blood and color distinct—do they see in this no harbinger of evil to them? Do they think they can survive a fierce conflict in politics with the white man? Do they think it wise or just to follow the lead of strangers? Are they taught that it is in the catalogue of the possibilities for them as a people to ignore the white man, or push him from his stool and take possession of the government of this country? If so, they are deceived and misled. We feel for them, but not for those who would ruin them. The signs of the times are significant. The party in power will soon be overwhelmed by the storm of indignation which the American people are already beginning to raise about them. The cry of treason and rebellion will no longer save them. Every single Southern and Western State, where they have recently held elections, has gone against negro suffrage." They have made a clean sweep. Even where their numbers are as one in a hundred, the people have decided against it. Does any sensible man suppose that that same people will approve and enforce unqualified suffrage where they have the majority, and thus turn over to them the Government. Such gissing and monstrous inconsistency will never be perpetrated. It is impossible—never! never! never! Deliverance is at hand! The whirl wind is rising!!

Mr. Jefferson was a good as well as a wise man. He has never been accused of unkindness or injustice to the negro, and he spoke with the inspiration of a prophet when he said, "Nothing is more clearly written in the book of destiny than the emancipation of the blacks; and it is equally certain that the two races will never live in a state of equal freedom under the same government, so insurmountable are the barriers which nature, habit and opinion have established between them."

☞ See in another column the advertisement of the Panorama of the city of Columbia which will be upon exhibition at this place on Friday the 29th inst. The Panorama has been very highly commended in the Columbia papers. We make the following extract from the Chronicle.

The presentation of the Panorama of the City of Columbia took place last evening, at Calisthenic Hall, before one of the largest and most select audiences we have seen assembled since the war. Among the auditory we observed the familiar countenances of many of our most prominent citizens, whose attention is only given to first class exhibitions of a high moral character.

The design and execution of the various scenes and events which constitute the highly interesting series of views reflects the highest credit upon the taste and skill of the artists, Messrs. Lee and Richard. They have demonstrated beyond doubt that they are justly entitled to the chaplet of "excelsior," in the successful completion of this work, which free-lanced their most patient and laborious devotion for many long and weary months.

The first scene—Columbia in 1860—moves into view beneath a cloudless sky, with all the surroundings of peace and plenty in the foreground, so fully illustrative of the prosperity which at that period crowned more the entire State. Many points of local interest here present themselves which, prominence at once striking and truthful.

In the view of the Torchlight Procession of the Minute Men, many familiar faces of leading citizens are recognized, the artist not even neglecting to transfer to the living canvas the simple but useful features of "Bob Tanner"—a local news dealer—who is ever alive to the interest of demonstrations of this character.

The interior of the Baptist Church, which has subserved such important part in the several conventions which have convened in this city, is delineated, with an accuracy of representation beyond cavil.

Following this, was the representation of the funeral, on April 21st, 1861, of all to the Sixteen Gem Guard, Capt. Wallace. This alone will be remembered as the gift of the relics of Co-Founders, and form a suitable tribute to the genius of one of the artists (Mr. Richard) whose peculiar talent has contributed so much to the success of the exhibition, of which we speak.

The last view belongs to a point just anterior to the occupation of Columbia by the Federal troops, and represents the destruction of the bridge over the Congaree River.

With the above exception of the general features of the exhibition, we commit its patronage to the care of a liberal and discriminating public, assured that the merits of its production will receive no detriment at their hands.

OUR EXTRA COURT.

The Extra-term of the Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions for ope District commenced on Monday last, his Hon. Judge P. Munro of Anderson presiding with his usual courtesy and ability. By a previous understanding, the Criminal Dockets were alone called, and the pending business has engaged the court until the present time. The only cases of interest are two involving charges of capital felony. The first tried was the case of the State vs Wright, a new-comer into the District from North Carolina, who was indicted under the act of 1859 for administering strychnine to his wife with intent to kill. The defence relied upon was, that the poison had he obtained for the purpose of killing crows, and that the bottle which contained it had afterwards been inadvertently used in administering medicine to the wife. There were many suspicious circumstances in the case, but probably not sufficient to warrant a conviction, and the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal.

On Thursday the Court was engaged all day in the trial of the State vs. Edmund Pratt, (colored,) charged with the murder of John Pitts. After thorough investigation, and able argument, the case was submitted to the jury who returned a verdict of guilty. The Court will adjourn to day.

☞ The Election for Members of the Convention on Monday and Tuesday last, passed off very quietly. The managers of election here were Messrs. John Enright, T. B. McCord, and Willis Cason. The Blacks were out in strong force, and deposited 1064 votes, which with 3 white votes made an aggregate of 1067—all, we believe, for a Convention and the following Republican ticket: John A. Hunter, Bailey Milford, Hanson Lomax, Nelson Joiner and Thomas Williamson. The quiet and good order which prevailed among the blacks, was in a great measure owing to the good advice given them by Major S. C. Allen of the Freedmen's Bureau. He advised them to conduct themselves civilly, and as soon as they had voted to go home. He also notified them that he would prohibit in future all unauthorized meetings in old fields and elsewhere which had already been attended with much injury to the interests of employer and employee.

THE DISTRICT COURT.—The regular session of the District Court commenced on Monday last, Judge R. H. Wardlaw presiding. The Judge makes an admirable presiding officer, dispatching the business of the Court promptly and satisfactorily. The Court has been steadily engaged since Monday on clearing its Criminal Docket, the cases are principally larcenies in which freedmen are the parties accused, and present no features of special interest. In the case of the State vs Cook, who has been in jail for some time under a charge for horse-stealing, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.—In the absence of the Solicitor J. P. Reed, Esq., in the Superior Court where he was engaged in prosecuting offenders with his accustomed zeal and eloquence, his duties before the District Court were very efficiently and satisfactorily performed by Wm. H. Parker, Esq., and Jas. S. Cothran, Esq. The Sentences will be passed to-day, when the Court will adjourn.

THE NEW FIRM OF MESSRS. EAKIN, WIER & MCDONALD.—We direct attention to the advertisement of these gentlemen who have just opened a first class grocery and commission house in our town. These gentlemen are too well known for their reliability, business capacity and experience, to need any commendation. We can only say to our friends, give them a call, and their establishment will speak for itself. They have laid in a select and varied stock—In the way of provisions and groceries they are prepared to exhibit the very best that the market affords, and have a choice variety of nicknaces and delicacies of all kinds to please the taste of the most fastidious—Read their advertisement for particulars and then examine for yourselves. They pledge themselves to sell as cheap as any body. A word to the wise is sufficient.

☞ See advertisement of the sale to the highest bidder on Sale-day in December next, of the house and lot in the village of Abbeville, known as the Methodist Parsonage. The house is situated in an eligible lot, containing one one and a half acres more or less. Terms, one half cash, with note at twelve months with approved security, for the remainder of purchase money.

☞ Mr John C. Speer, Trustee, advertises the sale, at public outcry, on Sale day in December next, (if not disposed of before,) the valuable Mills, on Rocky River, known as Speer's Mills. The Mills are now in good running order, and are getting a fair share of custom. Persons desiring to buy, would do well to examine for themselves

☞ Mr. H. W. Lawson offers for sale a desirable farm within three miles of Abbeville C. H., containing one hundred and sixty acres. Of these, thirty acres are in woods and the remainder under fence and in cultivation.—Upon the premises is a dwelling house and necessary outbuilding. For terms, apply to A. W. Shillito, on the place.

☞ Mrs. Sue A. Marshall advertises for sale at her plantation 3 miles west of Abbeville C. H., on the 23d December next, valuable personal property, consisting of household and kitchen furniture, one stallion, mules, cattle, hogs, sheep, corn, fodder, shucks, cottonseed, one wagon, blacksmith tools, farming implements, and many other articles. Terms strictly cash. Will also rent at any time prior to the day of sale her cleared plantation for the year 1868.

OBSTRUCTION OF RAILROADS.—The following order has been issued from the Headquarters of the 2d Military District.

"If any person have intent to obstruct, stop, hinder or delay or displace the cars traveling on any road or to stop, hinder or delay passengers or other passing over the same, shall wilfully place or put any matter or thing upon, over or near any railroad track; or shall wilfully apply any agency to destroy, injure or remove the road bed, or any part thereof, or any railroad or other part of the future appurtenant to or constituting or supporting any portion of the track of such railroad; or shall wilfully or maliciously do any other thing with the intent to obstruct the road-bed or the fixtures aforesaid, or any part thereof, with any other intent whatever such person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof before a military commission, or other court of competent jurisdiction, shall be fined not exceeding $5,000 nor less than $200; and be imprisoned not more than three years, nor less than six months, and shall be committed in jail till he pay the fine. And if he shall happen the sentence of imprisonment, or any part thereof, by reason of the commission of the offences aforesaid, or any of them, by engine or engine shall be displaced from the track, or shall be stopped, hindered or delayed, so that any person therein or in any other cars shall be injured in his person or property, the offender shall, on conviction, suffer the pains of imprisonment, in the discretion of the Court."

SCIENTIFIC FARMING.—The New York Herald says farmers need a little more practical knowledge of their business, and a little more rational education of the mind.

"In the Institute of Agriculture, knowledge of the principles of the universe, instead of Greek and Latin, should be taught. Science should be made the guide in all things. Where experiments are known and shown to be in harmony with the present ideas of the people, it is only therefore that General Grant acts out his own ideas of on his farm, that people may know where he is."

PRESENTMENT OF THE GRAND JURY.

CALL COURT, Nov. 18, 1867.

The Grand Jury would respectfully present that they have examined the jail and find it clean and well kept, and the prisoners well cared for and kindly treated. The occupants of some of the rooms would be the better of additional blankets, should the weather become cold. The building, it is thought, is pretty secure, and will be entirely so when the lining of the two rooms with iron bars, which has been commenced, shall have been completed. A part of the jail lot is not enclosed, and in the present condition of the District the jury does not think it advisable to recommend that it be done at present. The town council's attention is directed to the bad condition of the street leading from the main street to the jail. The Court House at present needs no repairs, but an additional supply of chairs, for the use of the jurors and the bar, would be desirable. The jury looked into the public offices they appear to be well kept and in good condition. The following bridges are reported as not being entirely safe, viz: The bridge at Calhoun's Mills; the one over the Bellette Creek, and Cremer's bridge over Long Cane Creek. It is recommended that these bridges be repaired. A part of the road between White's Bridge and Calhoun's Mills is reported to be in bad order, and a part of the Cambridge Road near McCord's Creek—the former to be repaired, and the latter to be changed to a different locality to avoid a large gully which has cut across the road and is constantly increasing in size, requiring the bridge from time to time to be lengthened, and it is thought that the road can be changed without incurring any expense beyond opening the road, and will not increase the length to be traveled. Also the road from Mrs. Parker's to McGaw's Mill needs working badly, and its is recommended that the Commissioners of the above roads attend to the repairs and changes of said roads. The poor house was examined, and all matters connected with the institution appear to be in good condition, and the inmates well cared for and supplied with all the necessaries of life, with, perhaps, the want of a few blankets, should the weather become cold.

Respectfully submitted,
J. T. RIED, Foreman.

CHARLESTON, November 19.—The State election began to-day in this city. For Convention 2428 blacks, 15 whites. No vote against the Convention. All quiet in this city. The whites take no part in the election.

The Grand Lodge of Ancient Free Masons, of South Carolina, assembled at Masonic Hall to-day. There are representatives present from seventy five lodges. The Grand Master, Gov. Orr, in his address, declares the condition of Masonry in this State encouraging, and acknowledges contributions from the North and West for the benefit of distressed brethren.

WASHINGTON, November 19.—Stevens will introduce a bill dividing Texas.

Internal revenue receipts to-day $299,00.

Life Insurance! Life Insurance!!!

"HE that provides not for his own family is worse than an infidel." I will give a policy in a perfectly reliable Company on the life of any healthy man, on the following terms: One-half the amount of the Premium to be paid in Cash, or at three months credit, if not convenient to pay the cash at once—the other half, note, at 6 per cent interest; the principal of which will probably never be called for. The party insuring will pay the following sums:

At 25 years of age, annually, $10.00 cash, and note for $10.00 at 6 per cent.

At 30 years of age, annually, $11 56 cash, and note for $11.50 at 6 per cent.

At 35 years of age, annually, $13.45 in cash, and note for $13.45 at 6 per cent.

At 40 years of age, annually, $15.85 cash, and note for $15 85 at 6 per cent.

At 50 years of age, annually, $22.40 cash, and note for $22.40 at 6 per cent.

Intermediate ages, and over and under ages, pro rata.

These premiums will secure $1000 at death, and larger sums in proportion. The credit rates will be paid in a few years, by dividends, as the party becomes a stockholder, and is entitled to dividends. Call and get further instruction.
