The Gus Fowler from Paducah will report at the packet wharf this evening at 2 o'clock, and leave on her return for Paducah at 5 p. m.

The City of Greenville from Vicksburg arrived here yesterday morning at 8. Her freight trip was light, but she had a large number of passengers, and left for St. Louis at 8:30 a. m.

The Will Kyle, Capt. Carter master, leaves this morning for New Orleans. Passengers going south by river can procure tickets from W. F. Lambdin, agent; office 54 Ohio levee. The Kyle has large and elegant furnished rooms and her table is supplied with the best the markets affords. Mr. James Alexander has charge of office, and Gus Young acts as assistant.

The City of Providence arrived at 4 p. m. yesterday with a moderate trip for Vicksburg. She left for that city last night.

The Andy Baum is due up from Memphis for Cincinnati early this morning. Capt. H. J. Vinton, master of ceremonies.

The Fannie Tatum arrived last evening at 6 o'clock. She had a fine trip, and departed for St. Louis at 7:30 p. m., with heavy engagements above.

The new Mary Houston from New Orleans landed here yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Her freight trip was light, but Charley Miller had registered 140 cabin passengers to this port since leaving the Crescent City. The Houston left for Cincinnati at 9:30 a. m.

We saw a stalk of corn yesterday on the Gus Fowler, which came from Lichten's landing, Tenn., on the Mississippi river. It was 6 feet high and measured 7 inches in circumference, and was raised on a tract of land belonging to Messrs. Johnston and Bethshores, of Pacucah. It is by far the heaviest looking stalk we have seen this season; and if the sample is a fair one, Messrs. J. & B. will realize handsomely this season on their corn crop.

Yesterday was very warm, and during the day a nice shower visited Cairo.

The Andy Baum left Memphis with 533 bales of cotton, 250 barrels of oil, 300 sacks of cotton seed meal and 5,000 feet of lumber, and 30 cabin passengers.

ATCHISON, Kas., June 27.—A tornado passed through the state last night. In this city it uprooted trees, demolished chimneys and barns and scattered lumber in all directions. At White Cloud, Kas., it prostrated four buildings and blew a section boss into the river. He was afterwards fished out. The wind raised the roof from the depot and set it down square across a building. At Kerwin, Kas, several churches, residences and barns were demolished. At Talmage, Kas., fifteen freight cars were blown from the siding onto the main track, where they started down a steep grade and met a hand car on which the section men were huddled, killing three out of five. At Avoca, three miles from Talmage, five houses were prostrated, and crops were laid low in all directions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.—The demeanor of Guiteau has undergone something of a change. He appears to have abandoned all hope of a pardon and while retaining a sullen demeanor still appears to derive some real comfort in considering himself a martyr. He says he will certainly go to heaven and reasserts himself as the agent of the Lord in the commission of the crime. To-day he has not had much to say. He is kept alone, and a close watch is kept upon all his movements. Preparations for the execution are about completed.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The law department was asked this morning to commence prosecution against the owners of some of the leading dailies here, including the Tribune and Inter-Ocean, for publishing lottery advertisements in direct violation of state law provided in such cases. Judge Wallace of the Armory police court, was appealed to yesterday afternoon to issue a warrant for the arrest of Joseph Medill, proprietor of the Tribune, but he refused, stating that the owners of newspapers were too big men to fight without the backing of the city law department. Accordingly that institution has been appealed to, and if it consents to open hostilities against the newspapers in this particular line there will probably be some tall fighting done. It is a fact worthy of note that while the Inter-Ocean claims the credit of inaugurating and carrying on to a partially successful issue the war against gambling in Chicago, the owners of the sheet are willing to take money from gamblers to publishing gambling advertisements.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Benjamin Thistlewood went to Memphis Tuesday morning.

Mr. S. S. Torry, who has been very ill for some time past, and was taken from here to Joliet in the hope that the change would affect him beneficially, is said to be improving.

Mr. S. S. Garrett, of Memphis, general superintendent of the steamboat inspection service of the United States, and his daughter, were guests at The Halliday yesterday.

CUPID'S CAPTIVES.

Miss Ella Turner, of this city, and Mr. Albert Sherwin, of Streator, Ills., were married at the Presbyterian church by Rev. B. Y. George yesterday afternoon. The church was plentifully decorated with beautiful flowers. A large bell, composed of flowers of many varieties artistically arranged, was suspended from the ceiling over the spot on the platform where the bride and groom were to stand.

A fair audience had gathered at the church by three o'clock, and the church would have been crowded, but for a heavy rain which prevailed for several hours before. At 3:30 o'clock the wedding party, consisting of the bride and groom and Mr. Alex. Able, as groomsman, and Miss Annie Rily as bridesmaid, headed by the ushers, Messrs. Max. Black and John Horne, entered the church and moved up the aisle to a grand march, produced upon the organ by Miss Emma James. At the altar the contracting couple were met by Rev. B. Y. George who, after a short, impressive prayer, pronounced them husband and wife, and impressed upon them the importance and beauty of the state into which they had entered. The answers to the questions were clear and loud enough to be heard and understood by every one in the house.

From the church Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin went to the residence of Mr. Al. Hurd, where they were met and congratulated by a number of relatives and friends. They left on the 4:20 train for Chicago and other places, and will finally settle at Streator, where Mr. Sherwin is express agent.

The presents to the bride, from her many friends here and elsewhere, were many and very beautiful.
