

St. Mary's Beacon COUNTY NEWS Localwise and Otherwise.

The report from the wheat crop for St. Mary's shows a splendid year. We regret to learn of the illness of Mrs. Rose Turner, of Leonardtown.

Mrs. Charlotte de C. King, of Leonardtown, is visiting relatives in Washington.

Mr. Walter B. Dorsey, of Killmarock, Va., was in Leonardtown, during the week.

Mr. De Ford Brenaman, of Baltimore, is spending the summer with his friend, Mr. J. Poe Russell, of near Morganza.

During the severe storm of Saturday last the tower of Christ Church, Chaptico, was struck by lightning and considerable damage done.

Miss Nellie Bond, who has been on an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. Abbott, of Baltimore, returned to her home on Saturday last.

The Emerald Minstrel Troupe, of Washington, have been playing in the halls throughout the county. A large attendance greeted them enroute.

Because of the lack of space we are forced to hold several communications from valued correspondents. They will appear in an early issue.

We regret to learn that a fine horse and cow belonging to Mr. Frank Dent, of California, were killed by lightning during Sunday's storm.

Leonardtown and Hughesville will cross boats on the local oval today, (Thursday). You should not miss this, as a good race is promised.

Capt. John T. Barclay, of the Maryland Pilot Association, motored from Baltimore on Sunday last to pay a short visit to his sister, Mrs. S. G. King.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Pilkerton left for Baltimore on Monday last where they will make their home. Mr. Pilkerton having secured a position in that city.

Miss Lenore Russell, a student of St. Gregory's School, is home for her vacation. She was accompanied by her friend, Miss Margaret Dudd, of Baltimore.

The rainfall for the month of June as shown by the report of the local weather station at Leonard Hall was 54 inches, the highest for years for that month.

We are pleased to learn that Dr. Z. R. Morgan, of Mechanicsville, who, for some time past has been indisposed, has sufficiently recovered to be up and about again.

We beg to call our correspondent's attention to the fact that unless copy is received before Tuesday noon we cannot publish the same in the current issue.

Mr. Wm. V. Waters, of Leonardtown, who has been in Washington having his automobile overhauled, returned on Tuesday last and resumed the Mechanicsville-Leonardtown route.

Mr. James B. Parzan, Miss Jeanette Parzan and Miss Ellen Page, of Baltimore, who have been visiting the family of Mr. Thos. H. Bond, of Rosedale, have returned to their home.

Editor Ed. Fuller, of the Hyattsville Independent, accompanied by Messrs. Holden, Gray and Chapman, spent the week-end in Leonardtown. All of these gentlemen are well and favorable known in our town.

The steel bridge at Bryantown was swept away by the recent freshet. This is a great inconvenience to motorists, who make the Washington-Leonardtown run. It is to be hoped that the bridge will, within a short time, be rebuilt.

On our first page we print in full the address delivered by Rev. Father Conroy at the Leonard Hall Commencement exercises. Read it, for besides its eloquent English, the facts brought out by the Reverend speaker are well worth recalling.

Medley's Neck baseball team defeated the Hollywood nine on the latter diamond on Sunday, June 28, by the score of 13 to 3. The features were the batting and playing of the winners, Batteries, Medley Neck: Raley, Lahley and Owens; Hollywood: Latham and Higgs.

A steamer especially chartered for the purpose will leave Leonardtown wharf at 5 a. m., Saturday, July 4, to convey the baseball team and as many fans as care to make the trip. A delightful trip is anticipated. Besides the two baseball games, with Feathers will be races. The fare is $1.50, round trip. Don't forget that 5 o'clock is the hour of departure.

On Saturday last the Commissioners Court met and signed the 1914 levy fixing the rate at 83 cents on the $100. This is a much lower rate than was anticipated because of the numerous expenditures that had to be made according to law. The Commissioners deserve a great deal of credit for the good judgment and hard work which enabled them to keep the rate down.

The Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway Company has been forced to put on an extra steamer to handle the freight between Washington and the Potomac River landings. The schedule will appear in our next issue. Extra steamers will leave Baltimore on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays for river landings as far as Cowarts. Regular steamers leave Leonardtown at 5 a. m.

The following postmasters in the county have been appointed: E. F. Smith, Alredale; Edward Pershing, Beavertown; Maggie C. Burns, reappointed at Compton. The following re-appointments under the order of May 2 are also announced: Clarence D. Sales Sasser, Huntersville; Ernest D. Burch, Milestown; Alvis C. Yeatman, Point Lookout; Geo. C. Hobbs, St. George's Island; Essie P. Jones, Handgates, and A. Michael, Scotland.

The Minstrels.

The Emerald Athletic Club of Washington, under the direction of Mr. F. C. Parker, gave a delightful entertainment for the benefit of St. Aloysius church in the Town Hall on Monday night last, that was witnessed by a large and enthusiastic audience. The troupe numbers among its members some of the finest talent of which Washington boasts. The music under the direction of Mr. Gates G. Rapp was tastefully selected and well rendered.

The end men, Messrs. Joseph O'Brien, George Dowden, John Murphy and William Sanderson, rivalled in their antics and clever joke-telling, the renowned Primrose and Dockstader of olden days. The soloists, who together with the chorus comprised the circle, showed a range of tone and quality, seldom heard in our section. The opening chorus, by the entire company, was a melody of the latest and most popular songs, preceded by the minstrel ballad "Old Black Joe." Exceptionally well rendered by George A. Dowden. George T. Lockett sang, "When the Twilight Comes to Kiss the Rose Good Night," and was well received. A number of the program that won merited applause was Mr. Felix Murphy's rendition of the Irish lyric, "When I Dream of Old Erin."

Before the troupe became seated the audience was thoroughly convinced that a most enjoyable evening was to be their portion.

In "While they were Dancing Around" Mr. William H. Sanderson, who is an old favorite with the Leonardtown audiences sustained his reputation as an excellent entertainer. The solo by J. Edward Nicholson, "A Little Love, A Little Kiss," came near being the hit of the evening and would have won first place but for the splendid rendition by the same gentleman of "To Have 'n' To Hold, To Love."

Mr. and Mrs. John Wiley's clever impersonation of old time negro dancing in the olio which succeeded the show, where he demonstrated conclusively to the audience his ability as a dancer. Mr. Wiley responded to numerous encores, "On the Old Fall River Line," Mr. Joseph O'Brien sailed into a burst of applause because of an apt and impromptu parody in which he complimented the Southern Maryland Railroad, thereby giving local color to an already clever number. Mr. George A. Dowden "Cross the Mason and Dixon Line" in good order. He was coming south, and for the time being, as a negro, was exceedingly happy; having the natural faculty of imparting to his audience the joy that was within his heart, figured high in the general average. Mr. John J. Murphy in "Underneath the Cotton Moon," provided himself as a singer of rag time songs far excellent.

The harmony in the choruses by the company deserves especial mention. The effort made by the company to please was unqualified and how well they succeeded was evidenced by the reception of each number.

The vaudeville program consisted of numbers rendered by various members of the company heretofore mentioned, and in addition thereto Mr. George A. Dowden in a monologue that was surprisingly original and gave "good entertainment," and was well received. However, he admitted "You're a Better Man than I am, Gunga Din."

Mr. Thomas E. McFale as interlocutor was timely with his terse interrogatories and pertinent questions.

Mr. F. C. Parker for some time preceding the performance has accorded to the production his personal attention, and who personally directed the show, gave during and as one of the numbers of the olio some exceedingly clever impersonations of the Honorable Walter C. Kelly in the "Virginia Judge," which were enthusiastically received.

Mr. Parker, at the conclusion of his impersonations thanked the audience for the many courtesies and the hospitality extended to the members of his company and paid tribute to what he styled "the exemplification of the deservedly renowned hospitality of Maryland."

Following the vaudeville program there was dancing, participated in by a large number. Music was furnished by members of the company and he it said that Mr. Harry Mercer demonstrated beyond doubt by his brilliant execution, his rare ability as "master of the drums."

Editor St. Mary's BEACON, Dear Sir: Allow me to trespass upon your valued space to make a few suggestions in the interest of our public schools. We are all agreed that the school rally was a great success, and as we would like the same to be continued, something should be done to lessen the responsibilities and trouble that such rally places upon the shoulders of teachers.

I would suggest that the trustees of each school help in seeing to the safe transportation to and from the rally, put into action in the coming election in August when the citizens will have the opportunity to eliminate this curse from our old home land.

Then, brother friend, get busy and stand shoulder to shoulder in this great issue which is now before you. I know you will meet the revenue howler at every turn, who, perhaps, will tell you the public highways cannot be kept up without it; but if such was the case, had we not better trudge along in mud than walk on a solid foundation, paved with the blood morals of fallen, victims to this issue and the food which their suffering offspring should enjoy, and may I not say, dear brother, who have fallen, to rise up and be manly men; and join the ranks in this issue and put this year's deadly enemy, out of business. Mothers! sisters! you have not as yet the right of suffrage, if you had I would not fear prohibitions defeat; but you have a part in this grand work in your kind, gentle way, you can use your influence with those who can vote, and you may be able to convince them of the great importance of this issue who otherwise, could not see it that way.

For I am fully convinced that with liquor removed where want now exists little homes will spring up and our dear old county will be seen to blossom as the rose. Then let us hope and pray that it will not stay here; but that prohibition may become State and National wide and that this gigantic curse of the liquor traffic shall no longer stand out in solon's power to cure the Nations of the earth, but it shall be removed and we shall all be able to walk soberly together and be at peace with all mankind.

Sheppard-Rogers.

A beautiful wedding occurred at the home of the brides mother, Mrs. Ida F. Sheppard, Edgelyield, Va., Wednesday afternoon at 6 o'clock, when Miss Josephine Elizabeth Sheppard became the bride of Raymond Douglas Rogers of Marlboro county.

During the ceremony Miss Margaret May played Schubert's serenade. The bride was clad in a rich messaline satin gown, with the waist being of shadow lace. The only ornament worn by the bride was a sunburst, a gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses, lilies of the valley and fern. The bridesmaids were prettily attired in dresses of crepe de chine, with shadow lace trimmings, all carrying bouquets of white roses except the maid of honor, whose bouquet was of pink roses.

The refreshments consisted of green and white ice cream and cake. The bride quietly withdrew from the merrymaking and donned a handsome traveling suit and about 7 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Rogers left by automobile for Johnston, where they boarded a train for a wedding journey in the North.

The groom is a grandson of the late John E. Carpenter. The young couple visited their uncle, Mr. T. B. Carpenter, and their aunt, Mrs. M. E. Gough near Budd's Creek. Our congratulations.

Emerald Minstrels. Seventeen young men from Washington composing the Emerald Minstrel Club of that City, came down on Saturday's boat to Leonardtown to give a series of minstrel and vaudeville entertainments in Leonardtown, St. Joseph's Hall and Holy Angel's Hall. The first performance was given in the local hall Monday evening. The troupe was under the management of Mr. Fred C. Parker, and the musical direction of Mr. Gates G. Rapp. Mr. Thomas E. McFale was interlocutor and the end men were all experts, Messrs. O'Brien, Jno. Murphy, Dowden and Sanderson. The latter was already popular with St. Mary's county audiences. Messrs. Nicholson, Wiley, F. Murphy and Lockett sang solos. In the chorus were Messrs. Emerson, Mercer, Scheible, Payne, Lansdale, Dezan and Louis Guy. The musical numbers were extra good. Perhaps the thing most enjoyed was a bit of vaudeville by Messrs. Sanderson and Wiley, the latter in Ethiopian character, giving some inimitable buck dancing. There was the usual good natured fun poked at local persons and institutions and heartily enjoyed by the large and appreciative audience. Newtown sent over a large delegation. Mr. Parker, the Manager, was recently married to Miss Alice Abell, daughter of Mr. Perry Abell, of Compton.

A Showery Season. For nearly a fortnight St. Mary's has been experiencing a series of showers, which, however gratifying as a means of bringing relief from the heat, have nevertheless caused considerable anxiety as well as much inconvenience to pleasure-seekers. The rains have been accompanied in almost all cases by high winds and severe electrical discharges, and considerable damage has been done, especially by the storm of Sunday night which centered chiefly in the regions of the Patuxent section of the county.

An immense quantity of water has fallen in the course of these showers and storms, but most of it has run off quickly owing to the violence of the downpour. Still the country, which had suffered somewhat from lack of rain, is on the whole benefited by these visitations. The moon is now entering a new stage and it is possible that a change is at hand. It would be ideal if these summer rains could fall all ways between midnight and dawn, to give the necessary soaking to the soil without interfering with the outdoor diversions of the people. Nature, however, has but little regard for pleasure schedules of humanity, and often seems to take a perverse delight in sending showers just in time to catch picnic parties, excursions and spectators at outdoor games when they are unprepared.

[COMMUNICATED.] Editor St. Mary's BEACON, Dear Sir: I was very much grieved to read in your last issue, in a card from Scotland, that the rights and pleasures of the citizens of that section were marred by the presence of Sunday drunks, a condition which is sad but true to an extent in most any community where the liquor traffic is licensed. It shows its curse. But let us hope that these conditions will only give food for thought, and that this thought will be put into action in the coming election in August when the citizens will have the opportunity to eliminate this curse from our old home land.

Then, brother friend, get busy and stand shoulder to shoulder in this great issue which is now before you. I know you will meet the revenue howler at every turn, who, perhaps, will tell you the public highways cannot be kept up without it; but if such was the case, had we not better trudge along in mud than walk on a solid foundation, paved with the blood morals of fallen, victims to this issue and the food which their suffering offspring should enjoy, and may I not say, dear brother, who have fallen, to rise up and be manly men; and join the ranks in this issue and put this year's deadly enemy, out of business. Mothers! sisters! you have not as yet the right of suffrage, if you had I would not fear prohibitions defeat; but you have a part in this grand work in your kind, gentle way, you can use your influence with those who can vote, and you may be able to convince them of the great importance of this issue who otherwise, could not see it that way.

For I am fully convinced that with liquor removed where want now exists little homes will spring up and our dear old county will be seen to blossom as the rose. Then let us hope and pray that it will not stay here; but that prohibition may become State and National wide and that this gigantic curse of the liquor traffic shall no longer stand out in solon's power to cure the Nations of the earth, but it shall be removed and we shall all be able to walk soberly together and be at peace with all mankind.

They are slaves who fear to speak. They are slaves who will not choose. They are slaves who dare not be in the right with two or three. —Lovel.

MORE GOOD THINGS TO EAT. There are various methods of cooking and serving asparagus, but it should be cooked until tender whatever may be the after methods of serving.

When it is desired to serve the whole stalk in white sauce or on toast with drawn butter, tie the stalks so that the lower tougher portion will have the hard cooking, while the tips are steamed. Let the bunch stand upright in the saucepan while cooking.

When the tougher portion will not cook tender save those to flavor soup. Lay the cooked stalks, tips all cut away, on tin, well buttered toast, and pour over the sauce. Add but little sauce, for this is not to be milk toast. If more sauce is desired it may be passed in a sauce boat.

Asparagus Cream Soup.—Boil the hard ends of two bunches of asparagus and a slice of onion and cook until tender. Drain and rub the pulp through a pure sieve or colander and return the water in which it was cooked, adding a half-teaspoonful of salt.

Scald three cups of milk, cook together two tablespoons each of butter and flour, cook in the asparagus stock and then add the milk. Just when ready to serve beat an egg and add a quarter of a cup of cream; add this to the soup and serve at once.

Mock Duck en Casserole.—Place on a round steak a filling of a pint of bread crumbs seasoned with salt, pepper, onion, butter and sage. Roll up the steak and tie or skewer with toothpicks. Place in a casserole, add a cupful of stock or water and bake well covered 45 minutes. The meat may be browned first before baking in a little hot fat; this improves it and gives it a different flavor.

New Beets.—Beets are most delicious if baked. They seem to be sweeter and have a different flavor from those which are boiled. Wash and place them in a saucepan and bake in a hot oven. Slice, after peeling and serve with butter and a dash of lemon juice, salt and pepper.

From any point of view the 1914 Overland is the world's greatest automobile value. It has with its powerful, smooth running, 35 horse power motor; its 114 inch wheel base and 33 1/2 tires, the largest tires of any car at this price in the world; the roomiest tonneau and the finest and best finished chassis.

In the 1914 OVERLAND you get "a quality car at a quantity price," because the Willys-Overland Company will build 50,000 cars or nearly 500 a day for this season, which is more than all the other manufacturers in their class put together. They employ 10,000 men 12 months in the year; occupy 98 acres of floor space and are backed by a $50,000,000 factory, which is the secret of the price and the value of the 1914 Overland. The smaller manufacturer must charge from $1250 to $1500 for a similar car.

We ask you to compare our cars with any you might have in mind from the standpoint of Appearance, Comfort, Roominess of Ease and Safety of Handling, of Power, Hill Climbing Ability—of Downright Money's Worth—That's all we ask.
