A. F. KING, Editor. LEONARDTOWN, Md., Thursday Morning July 16, 1914.

Hear the latest Republican chirp? They're going to carry Louisiana. What they swine with it?

To leave the trust bills in midair between Senate and House until the short session next winter would mean their defeat and another two years of business uncertainty.

If the present Federal reserve system had been in operation in the fall of 1907 it could have averted a currency famine.—Financial Gossip in Pittsburg Gazette-Times (rep.)

When his satanic majesty contemplates Boise Penrose preaching in the pulpit of Philadelphia churches, the old fellow certainly must treat himself to a good laugh.

By announcing that they proposed to fight their campaigns for re-nomination by staying right here in Washington until the trust bills are passed, the Missouri delegation in the House played uncommon good politics.

When the Underwood Tariff Bill was under consideration in the Senate and House last summer, all the republican spellbinders, led by such high priests of the protection theory as Senator Penrose, Cumming, Smoot and Mcumber, and Representative Payne, et al., charged that that great measure, which brought relief to the people, was framed in the interest of the big importing firms. Day after day these republican orators gave emphasis to their contention that the bill would benefit no single class, save and excepting the importers.

What do they say now? A few weeks ago one of the biggest dry goods firms in the country failed because it could not keep up with expanding trade. The head of the firm admitted this was the case, but the little republicans throughout the land got busy and charged the new tariff law with responsibility for the failure. Representative Mondell, a standpat republican congressman from Wyoming, was one of the first to attempt to give expression to this political, false pretense.

In view of the fact that Clafin & Co. was one of the largest importing dry goods firms in the United States, it is now a question of who falsified. Was it Smoot, Cummins, Penrose, Payne & Co., or is it Mondell et al.?

BUOY ON HISTORIC SPOT
A mammoth buoy painted red, white and blue will be placed in the Patuxent River, three miles from Baltimore, to mark the spot where during the bombardment of Fort McHenry by the British in 1814, was anchored the cartel ship "Minden," from the decks of which Francis Scott Key witnessed the spectacle that inspired him to write the National Anthem.

The National Star Spangled Banner Centennial Celebration under whose auspices the centenary celebration will be held in Baltimore from September 6 to 13, has taken this matter up with the United States Department of Lighthouses. A favorable reply has been received and the buoy will be placed in position shortly according to the plans of the commission.

During the bombardment 100 years ago, Key and his friends were detained aboard the "Minden," while the British fleet attacked the water defenses about Baltimore, and the land forces struggled to take the city. Through the night Key paced the deck eagerly gazing in the direction of the old fort that stands at the entrance of Baltimore harbor. His feelings are vividly expressed in the "Star Spangled Banner," verses which he wrote then and there.

The "Minden" was anchored a little north of the present 35-foot channel and there the buoy will be placed. It will stand 13 feet above the water line. The apex will be painted blue, spandled with fifteen stars. Fifteen stripes alternate red and white will cover the body of the buoy. This will be in keeping with the design of the flag that floated over Fort McHenry during the bombardment.

A huge mushroom anchor weighing 5,000 pounds will keep the buoy in position. At present a line of small buoys mark the channel and the placing of this monster affair in that line will attract the attention of thousands of passengers who come to Baltimore from abroad and ports along the Atlantic coast. The buoy will be dedicated during Centennial Week.

Look Too Long to Reach It. "I wouldn't mind my wife's having the last word," said Mr. Hopcock, "if she would only hurry up and get to it!"—Lippincott.

SAUL AND THE SHEEP.

By E. H. Parkinson, D. D.

It is with pleasure we note that the anti-saloon league people are abandoning the local-option regime for that wiser and saner project, the nation-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic. Doubtless many of them will now claim that that was always their goal that the local work was only preparatory to the larger area of plan and operation. But it is evident that the traffic has grown in the very face of the glowing reports of local victories and the people have wondered and some have become wearied over the untoward circumstances. The fact is the professed Christians of the land were but re-enacting the conduct of King Saul when he returned with some of the sheep after he had been commanded of God to destroy all of them. Probably Saul intended to destroy all but it was not in God's way or time. That seemingly pious purpose of his to use some of the sheep in sacrifice did not receive God's sanction. And so he who dealt so exactly and rigidly with Saul uses a similar method with his children now. The people have used long enough the ill-gotten gains of the liquor traffic. That partial prohibition or destruction of it through local option has not borne good fruit. And how could it when it flew right in the face of God's command? Trifling with Divine mandates is a most disastrous procedure in any clime and among any people, pomp and parade to the contrary notwithstanding. Let us take fresh courage today since God's will is more clearly discovered and the spirit of obedience is becoming correspondingly commensurate and equal to the occasion.

Joseph M. Mattingly, plaintiff, vs. S. Johnson Panton and Mrs. S. Johnson Panton, his wife, and Aloysius F. King, Administrator of the Estate of Chas. Frederick Panton, deceased, Defendants.

The object of this suit is to procure an order or decree for the sale of certain real estate in Saint Mary's County, State of Maryland, of which a certain Chas. Frederick Panton, late of said County, died seized and possessed, situated in the Sixth Election District of said County, and called and known as "St. Mary's Manor" or "Part Della Brook Manor," containing undivided interest in another tract of land called "St. Johns Manor" or "Part Della Brook Manor," for the purpose of paying the debts of the Plaintiff and all other creditors who will come in and contribute to the expense of said sale. The bill states in addition to the above: 1st. That said Chas. Frederick Panton was in his lifetime indebted to said Joseph M. Mattingly on a judgment in the sum of $29.04 with interest from July 18th, 1909 and 65 cents costs, subject to a credit of $5.95. 2nd. That said Chas. Frederick Panton being so indebted, departed this life intestate and unmarried about the month of March, 1911, seized and possessed of the above mentioned land and being as his only heir at law, his brother, S. Johnson Panton, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and who has a wife also a non-resident of said State. 3rd. That administration on the personal estate of said Chas. Frederick Panton, deceased, has been granted by the Orphans Court for St. Mary's County to Aloysius F. King, who in virtue thereof has taken possession of said personal estate, but that the same is insufficient to pay the debts of said deceased. 4th. That the said real estate of Chas. Frederick Panton, deceased, does not exceed in value the sum of $200.00. It is thereupon, this 14th day of July, 1914, ordered by the Orphans Court of St. Mary's County, that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 1st day of September next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree or an order ought not to be passed as prayed. JOS. H. KEY, WM. S. COFFAGE, M. R. BAILEY, Judges of the Orphans Court of Saint Mary's County, State of Maryland.

On Commercial Fertilizers By The Use Of CRIMSON CLOVER
A bushel of Crimson Clover Seed sown on four acres of ground, increases the standing yield of Corn or Cotton about the same amount as would a ton of complete fertilizer applied at the rate of 100 lbs. per acre. A good stand of Crimson Clover turned under will entirely double the yield of the crop which follows. The physical condition of the soil also will be improved. The Sandhills Clover is especially valuable as a Winter Cover crop. It is generally sown under as a green manure crop. The plants retain for 1st use of the ground during the Winter and early Spring. A good stand of Crimson Clover not only reduces the erosion and the washing of the soil by the wind, it greatly increases the fertility of the soil. It is a great fertilizer. The plants also serve to hold the frost to a greater extent than if the field was left bare during the Winter. It is especially valuable to the farmer as calling the importance and great value of Crimson Clover.
