In planning for Christmas week don't forget the fine supper, dance and first-class music at St. James' Chapel, Three Notch Road, near Park Hall, on December 30.

Three barns belonging to Mr. J. M. Jones, of Ridge, were burned early last Thursday morning, Dec. 2. Everything in the barns was lost excepting the horses. The fire started in the tobacco barn, which was filled to the doors with fodder and tobacco. The other two were closely adjoining this one, and the flames quickly spread to the second and third houses. The loss included about 300 bushels wheat, all his tobacco crop, fodder, reaper, drill, two new buuggies, a new trapper, car, plows, cultivators, etc. In fact, all that was in or near the fire was destroyed. The loss is estimated at about $4,000, and there was no insurance. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin.—Solomon.

An Appeal for St. Mary's Hospital.

In providing a hospital, a timely need, to the people of St. Mary's county, which is a convenient, commodious, well equipped building, supplied with water, acetylene light and the most up to date heating outfit, the Board of Managers have incurred an indebtedness of a little more than six thousand dollars.

Owing to the deficiency in the revenues, the State is nearly a year behind in its payment of appropriations made by the last Legislature for operating expenses, necessitating, therefore, the borrowing from our contingent fund of several hundred dollars, which was much needed to pay interest and supply necessary finishing touches to the building and grounds.

We feel that this is an opportune time to call upon the people generally to interest themselves and to aid their worthy public institution, which has already demonstrated its usefulness. The constitution, formulated by the incorporation, provides for a Hospital Association to be composed of persons over the age of eighteen years who have contributed two dollars towards the hospital.

Nearly every one should be able to join this association, thereby exhibiting their interest, entitling them to a say in the management and aiding at a time when most needed. Those who contribute five dollars are eligible to election as managers. Do not wait to be asked but send your own contribution, which may not be limited to the above amounts, to Mr. Stephen M. Jones, the Treasurer, and attend the association meeting on Jan. 3, 1916.

F. F. GREENWELL, Acting President.

Circuit Court.

The intermediate term of our Circuit Court began on Monday morning last with Judge Camaher presiding. After the call of the docket and entering of judgments in non-jury cases, Mr. Robert C. Combs, in touching words, announced the death of Judge George C. Merrick, formerly one of the judges of this Court. The Court then appointed a committee consisting of Mr. Combs, Gen. L. A. Wilmer and Mr. A. F. King to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of the distinguished late jurist, and to report the same at the next term of Court, after which, as a further mark of respect and esteem for his memory, the Court adjourned for the day.

Judge Camaher also on Monday evening in Mr. Enoch B. Abell, our very efficient Clerk, to begin his fourth consecutive term as Clerk of the Circuit Court for six years.

Mr. Abell re-appointed his same trusty and efficient deputies; and they were also sworn in by the Court.

News-Goodrich.

At eight-thirty a. m., Monday, November the twenty-ninth, a very pretty wedding took place at St. Nicholas Catholic Church, when Miss Sarah C. Goodrich and Dr. P. Jennifer Bean, both of Jarboeville, were united in holy matrimony by Rev. J. B. Matthews, S. J., celebrant at the Mass, assisted by Rev. Father Emerick, S. J., and Mr. Harry F. Goodrich, brother of the bride. The wedding march was produced from Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus. Miss Lillian Freeman presiding at the organ.

The bride was very prettily attired in blue wool-poplin, handsomely trimmed in hand embroidery. Mrs. Joseph T. Blank, Jr., sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor, wearing a lovely crepe de chene. Mr. L. Calvert Goodrich, another brother of the bride, served as best man.

After the ceremony a very delicious breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Goodrich, a few intimate friends participating.

Doctor and Mrs. Bean left on the evening steamer, enroute to Washington and other intervening points, departing many friends, wishing them hearty congratulations and God's greatest blessings.

Due to the large number of patients awaiting the Doctor's return, will necessitate their trip being made quite brief.

Owes Her Good Health

Cedar Point Literary and Debating Society

The meeting held November 19 was called to order by the president who, on taking the chair, was forced to apologize to the great assembly for the program default. Seemingly a contingent stream of circumstances crossed the expectations of many who were timed to appear, thus giving a weakness to the night.

These regrets, however, melted away by the kindly presence of one whom we had hoped so much to hear, viz: Mr. A. F. King of Leonardtown. For a half hour or more the audience was held enthralled, listening with mute attention to a style without pretension, to a language without friction. Concise facts in the life of Rudyard Kipling were the basis, in which were built many illustrious poems of the brilliant writer. The "Vampire," "Tommy," "Mandaly" and "....." were expressed with sentiment and feeling. But "The Ukoni," written by Robert W. S. .... "the Kipling of the United States," was without a peer.

With one consent the audience arose to offer due acknowledgment of the splendid arrangement and hearty thanks for his valued presence. Mrs. Pritchard, being requested to recite, gave a facsimile of her recital of two weeks back, and, as then, enjoyed the admiration of the house.

As the debate proposed was not presented, Mr. J. S. Jones chose the following: Resolved, That in Youth we are More Happy than in Maturity. The happiest period, defined by Mr. Jaeger, is when ripener years, bearing their gusts of sorrow, fecker with their little rays of peace—we must taste the bitter that we may know the sweet.

The judges confirmed the argument of Mr. Jaeger. The program for December 10 reads as follows: Call to order. Harmonic solo—Mr. Neal Hayden. Recitation—Master Paul Hayden. Accordion—Mr. John Mitchell. "My First Recital"—Miss Madge Hilton. Accordion—Mr. John Mitchell. Question Box. Harmonic solo—Mr. Neal Hayden. Address—Dr. Chas. V. Hayden. Accordion—Mr. John Mitchell. The Railroad Crossing—Miss Katherine Hilton. Debate: Resolved, That the Country Boy Should Stay on the Farm. Decision of Judges. Adjournment.

SOCIETY NOTE.

Thanksgiving night—all joy to enhance. The St. George's Church gave a supper and dance. It seemed the whole county had known of it long—For really and truly 'twas some joyous throng That gathered on this night of all the long year. When joy and pleasure link arms with good cheer. The people from Leonardtown came in and Cedar Point people by similar means; While those from round Valley Lee, in the crowd congregated there didn't make much. And gray as the summer breeze laden with flowers, The girls danced around to the fast speeding hours. The soft, dreamy strains of the two violins, Brought succor a moment, it seemed of Earth's sins—But—coming to earth again—think of the pleasure, Of oyster eating in plentiful measure. There were oysters stewed and oysters fried. And oysters raw that everyone tried. And, added to that there were all kinds of food. So really you couldn't give each a fair trial. A happy Thanksgiving day very well passed. Was surely the thought as each one homeward went. The proceeds, I'm sure, aren't easy to guess. But everyone knows it was quite a success.—FRANCIS W. LARDE.

Why You Should Use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Because it has an established reputation won by its good qualities. Because it is most esteemed by those who have used it for many years, as occasion required, and are best acquainted with its good qualities. Because it does not contain opium or any other narcotic. Because it is within the reach of all. It only costs a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.—adv.

Resolutions.

The following resolution was adopted by members of the Boys' Agricultural and Girls' Home Economic Clubs of Maryland while on their visit to Baltimore Nov. 19 and 20, as guests of the business men and organizations of Baltimore:

Whereas, The public-spirited citizens of Baltimore, having at heart the welfare of rural Maryland, and its people, have entertained us on a two-day's visit to their city, which is OUR city as well, and through their generosity have made our coming possible; and

Whereas, The royal hospitality of Baltimore and its people has been most fully appreciated by us.

Be It Resolved, That we, representing the Agricultural Club Boys and Home Economic Club girls of Maryland, do heartily thank you for the many kindnesses and courtesies you have shown us in recognition of the part the Boys' and Girls' Club Work is taking in developing into successful farmers and home makers the country boys and girls of the State, whose business it shall be to develop the agricultural possibilities of Maryland and build up a still more perfect home life in our country communities.

Be It Further Resolved, That we do especially thank the following Baltimore organizations that have made our visit pleasant and profitable: The Maryland State Bankers' Association, the Board of Trade, the Chamber of Commerce, the State Agricultural Society, the Maryland Week Exhibition, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Mother's Club, the management of the Maryland Theatre, Hon. J. H. Preston, Mayor of Baltimore; Robert Crain, A. W. Sisk, J. Van Lear Black, J. H. Whelan, J. H. Bladen Lowndes, B. C. H., and J. Collin Vincent. Be it further

Resolved, That we thank the press of Baltimore, particularly the Baltimore Sun, for the interest it has taken in our work; and that we are going back to our homes, neighborhoods and counties, proud of being citizens of Maryland, proud of our city of Baltimore, proud of the progress of farmers, home-makers and community builders, and determined more than ever to live up to our motto: "To make the best better."

St. Mary's Seminary Bulletin.

DEC. 4, 1915.

With that delicate humorist and true interpreter of childhood, Eugene Field, as conductor, we were transported into the fairy land of childhood Monday night, when Marjorie Maddox introduced her Freshman class in the first of a series of entertainments to be known as "The Children's Hour of Poetry."

In keeping with the sentiments treated so tenderly by Field, in the selections presented, the stage underwent a magical transformation into a nursery fit for any mother's darling. The walls were white enameled, in the corner, in which sat a doll so life-like that we expected any minute to hear a cry of delight as each child made her bow before the audience.

The wall decorations were of white cloth, a frieze of red roosters and black ducks striking a picturesque note in the setting. Screens also of white had a double border at top and bottom of the same cherry roosters and black gobbles. On the floor, side bed nestled good old Teddy Bear, the children's friend, with other toys, household gods in babyland.

The significant "ah!" of the audience as the stage was revealed was sufficient tribute to the art of Miss Maddox in arranging so lovely an effect.

As the program proceeded, all too soon to its close, we were young participants had been fortunate in being assigned that poem for which she was so well adapted, every ounce of feeling finding apt and sympathetic expression. The program was as follows:

- I—Life of Eugene Field—Ruth Parsons. II—Pittypat and Tippetoe—Margaret Spaulding. III—The Naughty Doll—Elizabeth Polley. IV—Fiddle De Dee—Gladys Mitchell. V—Little Boy Blue—contralto solo. VI—The Limitations of Youth—Hazel Bailey. VII—A Little Peach—Cavilla Guyther. VIII—The Duet—Dorcas Boggs. IX—Wynken, Blynken and Nod—Rachel Dubois. Refreshments of pink popcorn balls and cookies of sugared goods and cake were served by Misses Dubois, Bailey, Spaulding, Polley and Mitchell. The event for which the Vocal Music Department has been preparing for several weeks, The Christmas Cantata, of Franz Abt, will take place on Wednesday night, the 15th inst., in Commencement Hall. Costuming and scenery will be in charge of Mrs. L. Maddox, whose gift of grafting beauty upon the most unpromising material, leaves much to the imagination of those who witness her skill in other Seminary attractions. The program has been arranged as follows: I—Processional. The Benedictus with setting by Gore, sung by a noted choir of thirty-one voices. II—Cantata—Christmas, by Franz Abt. The vested choir will sing this noble music under the leadership of our vocal trainer, Virginia Hallist. III—Introduction and Chorus. 2—The Angels' Song—Chorus. 3—Song of the Shepherds—Chorus. 4—The Angel of Peace—contralto solo, Frances Hopkins. 5—Chorus of the Angels. 6—An Angel Voice—Maud Calloway. 7—The Shepherds' Greeting—Chorus. 8—The Angels' Lullaby—Chorus. After the entertainment coffee and sandwiches will be sold in anticipation of a cold and dreary homeward trip. Admission will be free, and every friend of the Seminary in St. Mary's county will be cordially welcomed. At the King's Daughters' meeting of Sunday night Katherine Casor read an interesting paper upon "The Songs of the Bible." This feature of Seminary activities grows in interest with the devoted attention bestowed by Mrs. Moore upon each branch of the work. The choir, with Elizabeth Willison as trainer and pianist, will assist in the program which the class in English composition are preparing for Saturday, the 11th inst. On the Christmas stories, voted the best work of the students, will be read before the school, with the addition of several exquisite selected Christmas poems. The best Christmas antheus, sung by our Seminary choir. The faculty and student body felt keenly the sorrow which visited the family of our esteemed postmistress, Mrs. Wm. Dent, in the death of her father, Mr. Pembroke, at the home of his nephew, Dr. Dent. Expression of this sympathy was feelingly given in a letter of condolence prepared by the Sophomore Junior and Senior classes with Mary Chichester, Elizabeth Dale, Frances Nicols and Mary Hines as the committee in charge. The following committee attended the funeral services in Trinity Church Wednesday morning: Mrs. L. V. Maddox, Mary Chichester, Frances Nicols and Mary Hines. Virginia Stonebrist and Lydia Mortimer made the highest score in the Rhetoric test of Thursday, while Gladys Moffatt led the Sophomore Grammar test of Tuesday morning. Mrs. Maddox and Miss Creighton

attended the Current Events Class on Thursday afternoon. Clementine Clarke also showing her interest by riding up for the meeting. Mrs. Marie Manning, Elizabeth Dale, Frances Hopkins and Mary Hines were particularly interesting in their remarks which covered a two-week's record as the class was suspended for Thanksgiving.

Miss Virginia Maddox is a contributing factor to the happy home life at the Seminary, having returned on Thursday morning.

Miss Jessie Walker will return to her home in Cumberland on Sunday.

News reaches us that Miss Mary Strong, a former Seminary girl, is teaching in the public schools of Baltimore.

Miss Mildred Speldon, a graduate of 1914, is a successful teacher in the county school near Cambridge, Md.

Misses Bessie and Julia Dent were week-end guests of their aunt, Mrs. Pembroke.

The faculty of St. Mary's enjoyed the delightful evening spent with Mrs. Brown and her guests, Mrs. Brown and Miss Susette Brown added to their laurels as pleasant hostesses.

Mrs. G. W. Maddox is visiting the Seminary.

Miss Bernays is working busily upon the kit which she expects to send off to the English hospitals for Christmas. As there have been very few of these timely gifts, she solicits more donations from those charitably disposed at this beautiful Christmas time. A.R.K.

HAULING STOCK TO MARKET

It Will Pay Small Producer to Have Loading Chute for Loading and Unloading From Wagon.

The farmer, especially the small producer of stock, will often find it convenient to load and unload stock from the wagon. A few hogs are sold to be delivered at the nearest shipping point, and, of course, the seller is expected to deliver the stock to the shipping yards or scale yards. This demands the loading and unloading from the farm wagon. It will pay to have a good, substantial loading chute for the farm, with hurdle fence to hold stock while being loaded and unloaded in the barnyard or feed lot.

This is a simple contrivance and not expensive, but should be strong and durable so as to last for many years. It will pay for itself every year. There are cheap, insecure, frail chutes made and there are substantial ones, which are the cheapest in the end. This is only one of the conveniences that every farm should be supplied with, and not depend on borrowing from a neighbor. The wagon frame for hauling hogs or cattle is also a great convenience and should be on every farm, and for each wagon on the farm. These should be stored away in the wagon shed when not in use.

USEFUL FENCE-POST PULLER

Sketches in General Detail Illustrate an Excellent and Simple Jig for Quick Work.

The lower portion of a wooden fence post after it has been in the ground for a long time becomes so set that it is almost an impossibility to draw it out necessitating the use of a spade or shovel to remove it. When it is necessary to withdraw a considerable number of posts, the usual method is extremely laborious and expensive. The sketches in general detail illustrate an excellent and simple jig for instantly and easily pulling the posts from the ground, no matter how securely they may have set them into the ground.

A hitch is taken on the post near the ground by means of a small chain, the free end passing over a fulcrum stick. A, to the doubletree behind a team of horses. The point of bearing, or axis, of the stick is carried by the heavy block B, which is easily thrown with

HOUSECLEANING FOR COWS

Barn should be Thoroughly and Systematically Cleaned Before Extremes Cold Weather.

By G. W. GERRARD, Dairy and Animal Husbandry Division, Minnesota Experiment Station. Before the dairy cow is taken from the pasture, the barn should be thoroughly and systematically cleaned. All cowbats should be brushed down and the walls and ceiling should be whitewashed or painted some light color. Either whitewash or paint will give a clean surface and make the whole stable look lighter and brighter. It might be well, too, to put in a few extra windows.

The dairy cow has had the freedom of the pasture and the fresh air of the field for the last five months; she has practically maintained herself and produced milk upon succulent feed; she will soon be returned to the barn where she will spend the greater part of each day. It should be the aim of every keeper to see to it that his cows are housed as comfortably as possible and provided with a goodly quantity of a variety of palatable feed that will nourish them abundantly and help them produce an even flow of milk.

The right kind of a cow will repay with interest every cent invested for her comfort or for warmth, light, ventilation and feed. If she is not comfortably housed her returns will be cut down in proportion to her discomfort.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is to be at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, and thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Dollar as a reward for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. For a Damp Room. When repairing a damp room the following hint will be useful: Take half a pint of alum and half a pint of glue-size. Dissolve each together in a pint of boiling water; take off the old paper and wash the wall once or twice with the solution; when dry it can be papered. No damp will ever show through the solution.

Naturally So. "Did you see where a ship was held up in our port because it had a cargo of false teeth for Germany?" "Now, mustn't that have made the consignors look down in the mouth?"

The Difference. "I think our taxicabs are such ugly affairs." "Then you ought to go to London. There you can always getansom cabs."
