GENERAL NEWS

The President has used the table to call an extra session of Congress to meet Monday, May 19th, to pass necessary appropriation bills deflected by the Republican filibuster in the last regular session, and to take action on the treaty of peace.

It is practically settled that the first meeting of the League of Nations will be held in Washington in October of this year and that President Wilson will be the presiding officer.

The full text of the official summary of the peace treaty was made public in Paris on Wednesday, May 7th, when a copy of it was presented to the German delegation. The latter expressed themselves as being "shocked" at the severity of the terms imposed on Germany.

Nothing seems to have been omitted that could have added to the utter and complete destruction of Prussian militarism. In fact, it hardly seems possible that she can comply with the terms and still maintain her economic existence as a nation.

Following the refusal of Governor Harrington to promise that he would not interfere with holding the world-wide inter-continental boxing match in Cumberland, the promoters selected Toledo, Ohio, as the site for the championship bout.

Duke Bond, a former St. Mary's counsellor, was elected to the Second Branch of the City Council in Baltimore, from the 3rd district, by a plurality of 1,350.

The 1917 crop of Maryland tobacco marketed in 1918, consisted of approximately 28,552 hhds, of which 23,198 hhds. were sold to the Baltimore market, including 620 hhds. of ground leaves of the 1918 crop, while the remainder, about 5,354 hhds., went directly to private purchasers.

The market assumed an activity with about the first arrivals of the new crop, readily picking up at the previous year's price of about 15 cents for common to medium, and 20 cents for fancy grades, and rapidly advancing, with high proportionately on all grades when by the latter part of July the unprecedented advance of 20 points was attained, the best at this time were selling for 50 cents per pound.

During the early part of August a perceptible change prevailed in the market, buying began to slacken, stocks began to accumulate and prices began to decline, while not more than half the crop had come to market.

Under these influences the market grew sluggish and prices continued downward. The sellers, however, maintained stubborn resistance to the downward pressure with the result that considerable stock was carried over at the end of 1915, which was subsequently sold at prices ranging from about 15 to 40 cents.

The new system of selling and buying, inaugurated in March, 1916, has met with general favor and the feature giving right to buyer and seller to a direct deal on accumulated stocks, not in daily or current demand, has proved an especially desirable feature that developed during its first year's tryout.

The new crop is now arriving in apparently ample supply and indicates a well-cured crop of excellent quality, prices ranging from 15 to 25 cents for common to medium, and 20 to 30 cents for medium to high ripeness. Tendency of market is as yet undecided.

With the war at an end the transportation situation is clearing up for both foreign and domestic shipments, and prospect looks bright for an active year in the trade.

There are many women who will gladly accept of a free offering of potatoes, vegetables, eggs, fruit, butter, or any delicacy for those who are suffering. In the same spirit she may lend fruit or vegetables when she has them in abundance, and women gave four tons of fruit and vegetables for the use of sick soldiers and sailors.

MARYLAND NOTES

John Bloodgood Wallis, Treasurer of the City of Annapolis, and brother of the late Dr. Geo. Wells, of that city, died suddenly of heart failure on Tuesday, May 5. He was a graduate of the Maryland Agricultural College and served one term as Sheriff of Anne Arundel Co.

Following the refusal of Governor Harrington to promise that he would not interfere with holding the world-wide inter-continental boxing match in Cumberland, the promoters selected Toledo, Ohio, as the site for the championship bout.

SALVATION ARMY NEEDS

Annual Budget Shows Reasons for $13,000,000 Drive.

Vast Activities Conducted by 1,000 Corps in United States—Future Plans.

New York.—(Special)—The annual budget of the Salvation Army, containing a detailed and comprehensive statement of the cost of maintaining its varied activities throughout the United States, has been issued from National Headquarters, 122 West Fourteenth street. The statistics show why it is necessary for the Salvation Army to continue to raise money.

There are 629 corps and outposts of the Salvation Army in the United States. The cost of maintaining these is $2,685,000. The maximum income which these corps may expect from collections in meetings, contributions of members and other outside contributions is $715,000, making the net total cost of supporting the corps $1,970,000.

The cost of maintaining divisional and provincial headquarters, which services the work of the local corps, will be, according to the budget, $330,000.

Besides the work of supervising the local headquarters, the provincial and divisional headquarters are in charge of several of the Salvation Army's largest activities, including the operation of fresh air camps for children, relief and employment bureaus and the provincial bands.

Under the heading of "national and territorial obligations" the Salvation Army includes the expenses of maintaining what are among its best known institutions, those which may be grouped under the general name of "social work." For this purpose the Army wants $270,000.

The pension fund budget is $400,000. The Salvation Army has determined on the erection of many new buildings for social work in the future. The building program will require expenditures of $175,000.

The remainder of the amount sought for the Home Service Fund is for corps, divisional and provincial buildings and a small contingent fund.

Details of the Salvation Army's activities in the United States for the last year show how remarkable is the scope of the Army's endeavors and what vast numbers of people it serves. For instance, the Army maintains seventy-five hotels for men and women. Last year, 1,556,529 persons found sleeping accommodations in these beds were supplied for 127,880 children in the Army's four children's homes in the same period, while 48,419 children were sheltered in the stum nurseries. In the industrial and domestic beds were supplied for 1,742,815. In the rescue homes and maternity hospitals 1,890 girls went under the care of the Army last year.

The Army has 2,018 officers and cadets in the United States. Last year they preached to over 24,000,000 persons.

EVANGELINE BOOTH TELLS HOME SERVICE FUNDS' NEEDS.

Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, explaining the purpose of the campaign for $13,000,000 which will be conducted from May 19 to May 26 for the Salvation Army Home Service Fund, said:

"The Salvation Army has been tolling on the upward trend for more than half a century, doing just what it did in France, all in the same spirit and manner, but you did not happen to hear of it, perhaps.

"The war depleted our forces and our finances at home. There must be not only a rehabilitation now, but we must rise to the new high-tide mark and equip ourselves to maintain here in the United States the contracts we were privileged to make on both sides of the sea because of the war."

The Salvation Army Home Service Fund campaign for $13,000,000 will be conducted during the week of May 19-26. Its success will enable the Salvation Army to practically double its efforts among the poor.

The Salvation Army returns from the trenches of France to take up its battle against the new in the trenches of poverty in the United States. Remember the Salvation Army Home Service Fund campaign for $13,000,000 May 19-26.

LLOYD GEORGE PRAISES "ARMY."

Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, received the following letter from David Lloyd George:

"British Delegation, Paris, April 6, 1918. 'Dear Madam—I have very great pleasure in sending you this letter to say how highly I think of the great work which has been done by the Salvation Army amongst the Allied Armies in France and the other theaters of war. From all sides I hear of the most glowing accounts of the way in which your people have added to the comfort and welfare of our soldiers. To me it has always been a great joy to think how much the sufferings and hardships endured by our troops in all parts of the world have been lessened by the self-sacrifice and devotion shown to them by that excellent organization, the Salvation Army. Yours faithfully, DAVID LLOYD GEORGE."

"Commander Evangeline Booth, New York City."

"The Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign for $13,000,000 will be conducted during the week of May 19-26. Your contribution will help prove the truth of the slogan."

*****

The success of the Salvation Army Home Service Fund campaign for $13,000,000—May 19-26—means less poverty and less crime in the United States.
