LEONARDTOWN, MD.

Thursday Morning, Dec. 8, 1921.

Localwise & Otherwise

There are remaining fourteen shopping days before Christmas. Shopping days before Christmas. Shopping days before Christmas.

The Circuit, Orphans' and Commissioners' Courts were in session on Tuesday last.

Mrs. B. Harris Camaller, who has been quite ill, is, we are pleased to note, quite well again.

The Weather Bureau forecasts generally fair weather for this week with normal temperature.

Mrs. Wm. J. Martin and Mrs. Edward W. Kock, of Washington, were guests of Mrs. A. F. King last week.

Work is progressing nicely on the new homes of the George Washington and Mr. James F. Mattingly, in the North End.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Frank Dent have moved from California to Mr. J. Fenner Lee's, near Leonardtown, for the winter.

Misses Louise and Estelle Wilkinson and Misses A. B. Adams and Walter Cox, of Washington, spent Sunday last with Miss Doris Raley.

The Bureau of Animal Industry of the Dept. of Agriculture reports the existence of hog cholera on the premises of Mrs. Pembroke, at St. Inigoes.

The Bazaar for the benefit of St. Aloysius' Church will begin this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 p. m. See advertisement elsewhere for its elaborate program.

Note the Christmas Section, wherein are to be found the announcements of the progressive Christmas parties.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Duke, of "Across the Bay," announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Mr. James Edward Todd, of Baltimore.

Dr. Wm. G. Schaffert and Mr. Henry H. Byrne, of Washington, paid the BEACON office a pleasant visit on Saturday. Both of them are boyhood friends of Mr. L. F. Abell.

Southern Maryland was about the only part of the State that had no snow on Sunday. There was a heavy fall in Western Maryland, Washington and the Eastern Shore.

The much heralded Bazaar, scheduled for Dec. 8, 9, and 10th, opens at the Town Hall Monday afternoon, 2 p. m. See advertisement in this issue a complete program. See it.

Help the Leonardtown boys organize their 1922 football team by attending their dance at Leonard Hall on Saturday, Dec. 11th. Karl Beyman's 4-piece Orchestra will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hascom Brown, Jr., who have been visiting relatives in the Northern Neck of Virginia, motored through Leonardtown on Friday last en route to Washington. They were accompanied by their small son and daughter.

Miss Bessie Bussler, of Baltimore who has been visiting her sister, Miss Helen Bussler, of Leonardtown, returned to her home on Sunday last. She was accompanied as far as Washington by her sister and Mr. Floyd Turner.

If you lie, the easy lie on a genuine pure white ivory for men's use. They are beautiful and are positively worth $10.00. We have a big stock of them and if you will just ring me up I will deliver one for you. Also plenty of beautiful beds. Paul B. Long, Clements - Advertisement.

An entertainment for the children of the county will be given by the Odd Fellows at their hall, Ridge, on Dec. 21, to which all are invited. There will be a Christmas tree and gifts for the little ones and a good entertainment for the grown-ups. Admission free.

Among the applicants who will take the Civil Service examination to be held to fill the postmaster's office of the Leonardtown Postoffice are George V. McCall, Charles F. Powell, Harry M. Jones, C. Ethelbert Abell, J. F. Raley, Kenneth B. Duke, J. Roland Duke, present incumbent, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood, of Hollywood, were visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon's Christmas party last week. Mr. Dixon, who has been confined to his bed for the past four weeks with a severe attack of rheumatism, is convalescent and expects to be able to receive his many kind offers during his illness.

Among the advertising pages of this issue will be found an array of offerings such as cannot fail to meet the requirements of a holiday. They are shrewdly and it reflects a progressive and up-to-dateness among our commercial activities that ranks us well ahead of most rural communities. Patronize our advertisers—their goods are of excellent quality and their prices are reasonable.

SELLMAN - HAYDEN
A wedding of great interest took place on November 29 at St. Anselm's Church, Washington, D. C., when Miss Laurel Langley Hayden, daughter of Mrs. Katherine M. Hayden, became the bride of Mr. Ross Jones Sellman. At the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. F. W. Von Heim, who gave her in marriage. She was dressed in a charming gown of brown satin and lace with trimmings of three to correspond with a hat of the same color, and carried a lovely shower bouquet of bride's roses. Her special bouquet of bride's roses, the only ornament set with diamonds. Miss Miriam Hicks, of Washington, the bride's maid, carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. William Hayden, a brother of the bride, acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Norman Birsted, an intimate friend of the bride since her childhood. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for New York and points North.

Miss Hayden, a native of this county, is an accomplished young lady and numbers a host of friends both here and in Washington. Mr. Sellman is a veteran of the Civil War, having served in France during its duration as a Lieut. of Infantry. After the 15th of December the happy couple will reside at 1405 Newton St., Washington. Our congratulations and good wishes attend on them.

Thal Belsaco, recognized as one of the world's greatest dramatic producers, has written an article for readers of the Washington Star next Sunday. He tells just how to get up the Christmas entertainment—the selection of the play, selection of participants, stage scenery and properties. One of the best Christmas articles of 1921, in the "Magazine" of next Sunday's Washington Star. Order your copy from newstander today.

NEW COUNTY OFFICERS INSTALLED

On Tuesday last at eleven o'clock Judge Camaller administered the oath of office to Joseph M. Mattingly, Esq., the recently elected Clerk to the Circuit Court, after which a testimonial was offered by Gen. L. Allison Wilmer on behalf of the members of the Bar commending the efficient and courteous services of Mr. Enoch B. Abell, who retires after twenty-four years as Clerk. The Court highly commended Mr. Abell for his ability and fidelity in the discharge of the duties of his office and extended to him the wish for a long and successful career in his capacity of private citizen.

Mr. Louis F. Abell was appointed and sworn in as deputy. There were present besides the members of the Bar, a number of Mr. Abell's friends, Mr. Benj. Combs qualified as Register of Wills, Mr. Wm. Ernest Clark as Sheriff and Mr. P. T. Graves as County Commissioner.

ST. MARY'S TOBACCO GROWERS' ASSN.

The regular annual meeting of the Association met on Saturday last at the home of Mrs. George L. Lawrence, at Leonardtown, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, Jos. M. Mattingly; vice-president, Dr. W. B. Deane; secretary, G. Frank Walker. Delegates to the State Directors' meeting selected were Thos. Bond, Jos. L. Davis and Dr. W. B. Burch.

Dr. Deane, a member of the Maryland Agricultural Corporation, outlined the scope and purpose of that organization, and it was decided that the corporation would cooperate with the corporation and perfect the plan as soon as possible, so as to be ready for business in January, 1922.

News From the Seventh

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Lawrence, of Mount Airy, recently celebrated the birth of a bouncing baby boy. "Pop" George is wearing the smile that won't come off.

Mrs. Cora Morgan, wife of Capt. Eugene Morgan, is dangerously ill in a Washington hospital, where she has undergone two serious operations. Mr. Morgan was called to her Saturday last. Mattingly's friend selected were Thos. Bond, Jos. L. Davis and Dr. W. B. Burch.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Spear, of Bluff Point, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Capt. Ed. Dent, of Oakley, while out hunting last week, saw three partridges flying toward him separately and he wanted to kill all three and had only two loads of shot, so he remembered his past major league baseball experience and baited down one bird and shot the other two, one with each barrel. The Captain said the birds had him puzzled for a second.

Mr. John Deane, of Bushwood, has purchased a Ford, the Leonardtown Implement Company making the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Croyer returned to their home Saturday last from their honeymoon trip to the south, and were welcomed at the home of the Misses Palmer, of Friendly Hill.

These are very active in this section, several parties having missed a number of turkey. They seem to have a liking for young gobblers.

Judge Taggart, of Washington is enjoying at "Little Backley," the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Tony Schreth.

Mr. John Thompson's prize porker won the first prize in the list for this section so far as reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Morris, of Friendly Hill, are the happy parents of a fine baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Yates, of Bushwood, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a sweet little baby girl.

Old "Doctor Stock" has certainly been a busy old fellow for the past two weeks. —GABRIEL.

Fourth District Items

The Fourth District Community Club held its regular monthly meeting Thanksgiving night. Mrs. M. J. Jones, C. Ethelbert Abell, J. F. Raley, Kenneth B. Duke, J. Roland Duke, present incumbent, and others.

At the house meeting it was decided to have a Christmas tree for the children of the Fourth District. Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Kilian offered to donate the candy for the tree. Their very kind offer was accepted and a note of thanks given them. At the close of the meeting the enjoyable program under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Welch followed:

America—Aloel children. Welch. Thanksgiving—A. C. Welch, Jr., Recitation: Miss Danese Mullin. Tableau. Oueretta—"Bobby Brewster's Room." School children. Closing Song—Bertie Davis, Mary Fowler, Ella Simpson.

Mrs. O. G. Hayden and daughter, Mrs. W. E. Gladstone are spending several days in Washington and attended the wedding of Miss Laurel Hayden and Mr. R. J. Sellman on Tuesday.

Mrs. George L. Boyd, of Washington, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis.

Mrs. Colton and son are the guests of Mrs. L. B. Johnson.

Miss Fanny Mattingly entertained Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mattingly and family over Thanksgiving.

TESTIMONIAL TO MR. ENOCH B. ABELL

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR ST. MARY'S COUNTY, December Term, 1921.

To the Honorable, the Judges of said Court:

We, the undersigned, members of the Bar of this Court, in welcoming Joseph M. Mattingly, Esquire, as the incoming Clerk, whose character, habits and high sense of civic duty are commended to you, believe that he will be a faithful public servant in this responsible office, desire to express to the outgoing Clerk, Enoch B. Abell, Esquire, our appreciation of his service in this office for the past twenty-four years.

Mr. Abell has been a competent and an efficient Clerk of this Court, serving the Court and its officers and the people generally, faithfully, diligently and attentively. We have never known, nor have we every heard, that any State officer to whom he may have had to report or to account has ever made any complaint or any adverse criticism of the manner in which he has discharged his duties.

And now that our official relations with Mr. Abell are severed, we wish him long life, happiness and prosperity in whatsoever station or occupation in life he may hereafter direct his activities.

We pray the Court that this testimonial be entered as a minute in the proceedings of this term.

Respectfully submitted, L. ALLISON WILMER, WM. MEYERBELLOKER, JOHN H. T. BRIDGECOCK, A. DANA HODDSON, JOSEPH H. CHING, A. KINGSLEY LOVE, A. F. KING, C. HENRY CAMALLER.

In ordering the above testimonial placed upon the minutes of the Court, Judge Camaller said:

The Court warmly commends your testimony, Gentlemen of the Bar, in presenting this testimonial, and heartily approves the sentiments which you have expressed. Indeed, you have anticipated action which the Court intended to take, of its own motion, in closing this session of the Court which marks the retirement of Mr. Abell from the office which he has held for twenty-four consecutive years.

In the discharge of the duties of Clerk of this Court Mr. Abell has at all times performed those very responsible duties faithfully, efficiently and well, and it is fitting and proper that there be placed upon the records of this Court this testimonial of his long, faithful and efficient service.

Therefore, it is ordered, on this sixth day of December, in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-one, that this testimonial with the remarks of the Court and the endorsement upon the minutes of this term, with the desire and most earnest wish of the Court that Mr. Abell, in his retirement to private life, will feel assured that he carries with him the Court's best wishes for his health, happiness and success and its unanimous verdict of "Well done, faithful servant."

B. HARRIS CAMALLER, Judge.

END OF PACIFIC ALLIANCE SEEN

Anglo-Japanese Pact Believed Futile as Far East Solution Looms at Washington.

BRITISH ARE MUCH GRATIFIED Australia Sees Need of an "Agreement" to Protect Her Interests—Alliance Is Melting Away—British for Ending It.

Washington.—With limitation of naval armament in an advanced stage of progress, events are marching fast in the co-ordinate branch of the conference—Pacific and Far Eastern questions. The overlooking issue of them all—the Anglo-Japanese alliance—is in process of solution without the world's attention as much as having been drawn to the fact.

Any day, according to information which became available, it may be revealed that the alliance, for all practical purposes, is considered by both contracting parties null and void. It will die a natural death. It will expire automatically and peacefully without the firing of a diplomatic shot from any quarter.

That is the amazing situation brought about by the rapidly unfolding American-Chinese program for regulation of Asiatic problems. It is too early to acclaim it as a triumph for American diplomacy. Events have developed in a direction agreeable to the United States rather than in consequence of any systematic plan to bring them about.

Undoubtedly the American delegation to the conference now will be spared the unpleasant task of declaring to some psychological moment that the Anglo-Japanese alliance is inimical to American interests. The United States was fully prepared to take such action. Both Great Britain and Japan are aware of American hostility to the alliance. Their only doubt has been when and under what circumstances its abrogation would be called for.

As matters stand, it will not have to be called for. The alliance is melting away under the white heat of the logical, concrete, irresistible program of the United States, first, in the realm of naval limitation, and, secondly, in combination with China, in the sphere of Far Eastern affairs.

No outraged emotions are likely to be aroused in either British or Japanese breasts by the subtle but steady trend of events in Washington. The essential trade privileges of Great Britain and Japan will be guaranteed by the eight-power agreement into which they themselves are about to join hands with America, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Portugal. The naval security of Great Britain and Japan will be certified and sanctified by the tripartite agreement for limitation of armament at sea, proposed by the United States and about to be accepted by them all.

So much of vital moment is destined to spring from the Washington conference that it is difficult to foreshadow what particular achievement will stand forth as the outstanding one. But by those who discern international good in a closer rapprochement among the great powers, the impeding dissolution of the Anglo-Japanese alliance may be regarded as the conference's piece of resistance.
