The new ad., of J. C. Baldwin.

Both Snake and Clearwater rivers several feet the present week.

COURT.—This court adjourned on Tuesday morning of this week.

Wesley Mulkey has offered for sale in his addition, to Lewis ad.

Barber from Mt. Idaho has been a few days among friends in Lewis.

Parties from the Prairie report that large quantities had lately fallen on the Prairie.

PROPERTY.—The price of town property in Lewis is advancing, as was evident by several sales this week.

The ore now being removed from the Rescue mine by Davy & yielding at the rate of $35 per ton.

The telephone in connection with the telegraph of Mr. J. P. Volles not operate well, some defect instrument.

A man measuring 8 feet and 2 inches in tips of his wings, and with bill 17 long including head, was killed just above town on the Clearwater.

Eleven government soldiers with families of soldiers and left Lewiston this week for the post Cour d'Alene Lake.

J. V. Valentine, Superintendent of the firm of Wells Fargo & Co., Pacific Coast, was in town this week. Also Mr. Evans, agent of the firm and.

Two companies of cavalry consisting of 80 men besides officers are from Walla Walla to Lewiston. Winters and Capt. Trimble are their leaders.

C. McCoy from Walla Walla contractor for the mail route to Lewiston is in town this week, and will put on a wagon for carrying mail and passengers.

On Monday night and Tuesday quantity of rain fell in this vicinity made the farmer look cheerful and crops every where around us are to promise well.

Dr. Bluke is coming from the ferry boat across Silcott's grade, to drive his team around another which was in advance of him, off the grade and come near swampy deep water.

The dance at the Grange on Wednesday evening, was a pleasant gathering, tho' not so large as expected, owing to the excessive rain on Wednesday. Four and six gentlemen from Lewiston were present. Dancing and singing continued till the wee hours of morning. Mrs. Mitchell the hostess had an excellent supper for the occasion and all seemed to enjoy it, themselves and the company with a keen relish.

Some four Indians applied in the Land Office this week and on their land claims. They had previously taken out their citizen papers and now qualified to hold lands. One unqualified had his claim filed on by a man, and a contest we suppose will result. This, we think, is a great mistake as those applicants for land have always been on friendly terms with the Indians, and during the Indian war of 1856 rendered valuable service to the volunteers. They furnished quite a number of fresh horses to the volunteers so doing incurred the displeasure of the Indians. We would like to see the matter fairly dealt with.—W. W. Union

Conrad Wintch has long done business in this place for the Tehno for a visit to his "fader" in Europe. He came here a young man in vigor, was badly frozen in the arms of the Oro Fino mines and loss of his legs by amputation to save his life was assisted by the charity of the people. He encouraged to open a trading stand as he could get about on crutches, and so, has attended closely to his business and made money so that now he goes worth from $20,000 $30,000 as the result of his fidelity under adverse circumstances. He expects to come back here to resume business unless the English or an war catches him. But he says his wooden legs will prevent his participation as a soldier and he can't see how he can be of any service in the war unless he make him a General commanding a regiment.

FOR HIS FAMILY.—Wm. Kettenbach, Esq., who has been here a few months is so well pleased with the country and its prospects, that he left on the Annie Faxon for his former home in Indianapolis, to bring his family, and induce others to come here and make permanent settlement.

NEW TENINO.—This steamer arrived on Monday morning at 7 o'clock bringing a few passengers and 20 tons of freight. She entered Snake river with over 100 tons of freight, but discharged 80 tons at points below. By her, through the politeness of the steward we received the Oregonian of dates the 8th and 10th.

ARMS SHIPPED.—Since penning our article on the delay of arms, Col. McConville has received a line from Gov. Brayman stating that he had received a dispatch from Kress at Vancouver to the effect that 250 rifles and ammunition had been shipped from Vancouver on the 10th inst for Lewiston. Perhaps they have concluded that the TELLER would make it too hot for them if they longer delayed or perhaps the Colville Indian scare may have induced them to believe that the aid of citizens might be needed yet in repelling Indians.

FROM SPOKANE.—We learn that the new post at the Cour d'Alene Lake is progressing rapidly, that the site has been changed for one on higher ground than where first selected on the margin of the lake, that the logs and timber have been prepared for building a good quantity of logs cut for the saw-mill, that the machinery for the mill has already arrived on the ground and that it will soon be erected and put in operation. The post garden has been planted on the margin of the lake, and much other work done and all done by the troops themselves under the directions of Col. Merriam, who is reported to be a good business manager and worker, and understands mechanics. All seem to anticipate that this post will be one of the best if not the best in the country.

ANNE FAXON.—This boat arrived on Wednesday night at 11 o'clock and departed Thursday morning at 4 o'clock. She brought up to this point only a few passengers and a small freight. By her, through B. Loewenberg Esq., we received the Oregonian of the 13th. From this we learn that the House committee on appropriations have decided to report the army bill with sections reorganizing the army so as to reduce it to 6 regiments of Cavalry and 150 Infantry. This decision stirs up considerable feeling in military circles. The steamship Sardinian belonging to the Allan line and costing $800,000 took fire in Merrill harbor was scuttled and sunk in 39 feet of water. Several persons were killed in the melee. The Havre authorities will not permit the landing of arms for the Russian government from the United States. An attempt was made to assassinate Emperor William of Prussia by shots of a pistol while riding in his carriage with the Duchess of Baden. British regiments in the Mediterranean are to be recruited to 1,000 men each. An officer of the Russian navy announces in New York that the Cimbric is under his orders and that an expedition is to be organized on the Pacific Coast, that a squadron will soon leave the Baltic for American waters that his government was preparing to attack England on the sea it necessary that no letters of marque would be issued and no privateering would be carried on under strict navy discipline. The prizes captured would revert to the home government. The withdrawal of Russian troops from the vicinity of Constantinople is denied by the Russian press, and affirms that they will not till the Turks surrender the fortresses and the English navy retires from its present anchorage.

War on the Pacific. The New York Sun says: We naturally think of an Anglo-Russian war as one 3,000 miles away; yet its first gun might be fired on our own border. "It is almost certain," says the Broad Arrow, a good naval authority "that, in the event of a war Esquimaux would be one of the first points attacked." Now Esquimaux is on Vancouver's Island. Its importance comes from its being the only British naval yard on the eastern shore of the Pacific. The loss of V. Island would, according to the authority just cited, be the loss of almost the whole of the British trade with the Pacific ports of the American continent. Thus a Russian attack on the Island would be justified by both its strategic and its commercial value. A few days ago a Russian man-of-war, the Crayser, Capt. Nazimoff, threw the authorities into a panic by steaming into the harbor. Fortunately H. B. M. Corvette Opal. 14 guns, was also there, and sent a boat forthwith to see if the visitor's intentions were wicked or charitable. It was found that the Crayser had put in for repairs, on her way from San Francisco to Sitka. But the freight proved a wholesome one. Since then batteries have been erected commanding the entrances of Esquimaux and Victoria harbors, three companies of volunteers artillery have been enrolled to man them, and it has been suggested that at least one British ironclad should be sent to this station.

It is your Bull that has Gored my Ox.

Our Portland cotemporaries have on several occasions intimated that the press of the interior was inclined to aid in stirring up Indian scares for mercenary purposes, because they keep the people apprised of the movements of disaffected Indians. We publish extracts to-day from the Oregonian and Standard which express more strong endorsement of the probability of Indian troubles impending than anything we have seen for months in the press of the interior. The Portland papers seem to base their opinions upon the reports of military officers, while the interior press gather their information directly from the movements of the Indians themselves, and their expressions as seen and heard by citizens who have long been conversant with their habits. No unnecessary alarm should be given, but all indices of trouble should be made known to the exposed settlers that they may not be liable to raids without some preparation.

Our Delegates in Congress.

In the Congressional Record of the 1st inst. is reported a speech from each of the delegates from Washington and Idaho, on the question of the reduction of territorial legislative expenses, and reducing the number of members of a territorial legislature. Delegate Jacob's is short and made to the point. Delegate Penn's is more lengthy and is a center shot at the absurdity of the position taken by the committee on appropriations in reporting such provision in the bill. Other delegates resisted the parsimonious retraction of appropriations for the expenses of the territories, but their appeals were not regarded, and they were plainly told that because Congress had the power over the territories, therefore Congress could reduce territorial expenses as it pleased, whether just or unjust, and men in the territories were putting on airs to claim otherwise. It is a bitter pill to swallow, but we must stand it so long as we remain in a territory.

No Fault of the Press.

Whatever may be the course pursued by the freighting public in regard to the late edict of the O. S. N. Company, certain it is that the newspapers of the country, with two or three exceptions, have denounced that edict as subversive of the rights of the people and urged freighters not to obey its behests. In this respect the press is urging the merchants and all others who send goods and farm products, to assert their manhood and teach that company that they do not own the Columbia and Snake rivers, that the hundreds of thousands of dollars of the people's money appropriated by Congress and already expended in improving of the navigation of these rivers, was not intended for the sole benefit of that company, but for the benefit of all who see fit to run steam boats on these waters.

Just So.

The first thing done in dressing a fowl is to strip it stark naked.—Etc. That was the case with one of our butchers when requested to skin the Pelican, so that the hide could be stuffed for preservation. He chopped off his wings and picked the feathers all off, and left him stark naked.

TROUBLE EXPECTED.—It seems to be the opinion of parties in Eastern Oregon and Idaho that there will be Indian troubles again this Summer. Already the Hannocks at Fort Hall have begun their crusade by stealing hogs. It is thought the Snake's from the Malheur will join them in making war against the whites.—P. Standard, May 10th.

The Antecedents of Disease.

Among the antecedents disease are inessence in the circulation of the blood, an un-naturally attenuated condition of the physique, indicating that the life current is deficient in nutritive properties, a wan, baggy look, inability to digest the food, loss of appetite, sleep and strength, and a sensation of unnatural languor. All these may be regarded as among the indicia of approaching disease, which will eventually attack the system an overwhelm it, if it is not built up and fortified in advance. Invigorate, then, without loss of time, making choice of the greatest vitalizing agent extant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an elixir which has given health and vigor to myriads of the sick and debilitated, which is avouched by physicians and anal ysts to be pure as well as effective, which is immensely popular in this country, and extensively used abroad, and which has been for years past one of the leading medicinal staples of America. 20-1m
