

The Girl for Everybody.

There is a type of a girl that everybody likes. Nobody can tell exactly why, but after you turn away to some other woman you say: "Don't you like Miss So and so?" Now the reason you like her is a subtle one. With out knowing all about her, you feel just the sort of girl she is.

She is the girl who is sweet and womanly to look at and listen to and who doesn't strike you as a poor imitation of a vulgar boy.

She is the girl who appreciates the fact that she cannot always have the first choice of everything in the world.

She is the girl who is not "too bright and good" to be able to find joy and pleasure all over the world.

She is the girl who, when you invite her anywhere, compliments you by looking her best.

She is the girl who makes this world a pleasant place because she is so pleasant herself.

She is the girl who has tact enough not to say the very thing that will cause the skeleton in her friend's cupboard to rattle its bones.

And, by the by, when you come to think of it, isn't she one of those girls who makes you feel she likes you, and therefore she likes you.—Selected.

Editor W. H. McNeal, of Carthage has won his suit against the Durham and Carthage Railroad and was awarded $5,130 damages on account of injuries received in a wreck. He was riding on a pass at the time, but that makes no difference in this State, the court holding that a contract of this kind can not protect the company from negligence.—Record.

The visit of Prince Henry to this country is exciting considerable comment. He will arrive in a few days with valuable presents for favored ones in the United State. He will come as far South as Chattanooga and will go West as far as St. Louis. One feature of the trip shouldn't be lost sight of, for it is full of significance. He will not travel on Sunday.

Just who is the richest man in the world it seems to be a mooted question, but there are many people who contend that W. A. Clark, the copper king, and the owner of the United Verde mine in Arizona, is that man. Experts have placed values on these mines that run into the billions.

President Patton's remark "There is no blatant infidelity today among educated men," has been taken as the sober truth. A hundred years ago it was rare that an educated man was not an infidel. And yet some good people think the world is growing worse and worse.—Presbyterian Standard.

Too Late:

There are a great many roses placed on graves and coffins too late to bring gladness to those above whose silent forms and pulseless hearts they have been placed. Better press them with loving words into living hands in time to fill their hearts with gladness. Flowers are never so beautiful as when they are used to convey a message of kind regard or tenderness to others, and thus become doubly fragrant and lovely. We do not object to flowers for the coffin. They speak of love and hope and life that outlive the earth and that find their perfect beauty in God's paradise. But we do not want to keep our flowers for the funeral. We want that those whom we love should have them day by day, while hearts are throbbing and the love light is beaming from their eyes.—Exchange.

It is announced that Mrs. Jefferson Davis will visit Jackson, Miss., this week and committees of the Legislature has been appointed to receive her. The visit is with the view to the sale of the Davis home "Beauvoir" and 100 acres of land to the State for a soldiers home.

"You never can tell what a woman will do next." "I can." "Well, what?" "That's it—A woman will talk and tell her friends of the wonderful cures made by Johnston's Sarsaparilla, and the proprietors have to thank thousands of good noble women in this country for having made Johnston's SARSAPARILLA (quart bottles) famous."

Here is the way a young man sizes up his girl: "There is gladness in her gladness when she is glad—there is sadness in her sadness when she is sad, but the gladness of her gladness and the sadness of her sadness is nothing to her or address when she's mad."

File-in Cures Piles. Money refunded if it ever fails.

"Hub," said a farmers wife on December 25th: "We have been married 25 years. Don't you think we ought to kill the fat pig and have a feast?" "Kill the pig!" growled the farmer. I don't see what we want to jump onto the pig and kill it for. He isn't to blame for what happened 25 years ago.

The Last Heard of It.

"My little boy took the croup one night and soon grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Reynolds, Mansfield, Ohio. "We feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That's the last we heard of the croup. Now, isn't a cough cure like that valuable?" "One Minute cough cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure. Very pleasant to take. The little ones like it. T. J. Coffey and Bro.

Life's Calendar

Off goes another leaf! We tear it away, and put it in the waste basket. We have no more use for the dates of the days that are past. And is that true also of our lives? Have the days been such that there nothing further for them than to be torn off and put in the waste basket at the end of the month? Or is there an eternal quality in them? Have we put some thing into them such that they shall be cherished and kept if not on earth, then in heaven?—like one of those calendars which have on them, with the passing date, some great word of poet or prophet, which comes as a message to us, so that we do not cast the leaf away but save it, put it in our scrap book. That passing day has a living word. Such should be our lives.—Sunday School Times.

An Iowa court has established a precedent which carries breach of promise beyond the grave. A young woman was engaged to be married, the hour was fixed but postponed, and a later date named. The man died before the time came around and the young woman sued for damages. The court decided that the agreement settled the matter, that she was to all intents and purposes in the eye of the law his widow, and entitled to a widow's dower, which in her case amounted to $6,000. The deceased would probably make no objection, as he really intended to marry her and would have done so if he had not died.—Ex.

Healthy Mothers. Few mothers are healthy, because their duties are so exacting. The anxiety of pregnancy, the shock of childbirth, and the care of young children, are severe trials on any woman. But with Wine of Cardui within her grasp, every mother—every woman in the land—can pay the debt of personal health she owes her loved ones. Do you want robust health with all its privileges and pleasures? Wine of Cardui will give it to you. WINE OF CARDUI strengthens the female organs and invigorates weakened functions. For every female ill or weakness it is the best medicine made. Ask your druggist for $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui, and take no substitute under any circumstances. Mrs. Edwin Cross, Cooper, Mich. "When I commenced using Wine of Cardui I was unable to walk across the house. I was unable to eat half a meal and gained no weight. When my other child was born I suffered with labor pains 24 hours, and had to ride in on a horse because I had no milk. After using the Wine during pregnancy this time, I gave birth last month to a baby girl, and in labor only two hours, with but little pain, and I have plenty of milk. For this great improvement in my health I thank God and Wine of Cardui.
