TOKEN OF LOVE AND ESTEEM.

Raleigh Evening Times.
At the business meeting of the Edenton Street Epworth League last night in the league room there was enacted a most beautiful and touching scene, and one that is not on the program of the league meetings.

In the presence of a large number of league members Rev. W. A. Stanbury, who has been pastor of Edenton Street church since last June, was presented with a handsome gold watch. Engraved in the back of the case are the words:
"From Edenton Street M. E. Church."

There was an unusually large crowd of leaguers present and the quiet of the league meeting seemed the most fitting time for the presentation. In no department of the church work perhaps has Mr. Stanbury taken deeper interest or come closer to his members. It is with deep regret that the league sees him go to his new field of work at Tarboro.

Mr. Joseph G. Brown presented the watch in his usual graceful way, but underlying his factual words was a current of deep feeling that expressed the sentiments of the whole church, for during his short ministry here Mr. Stanbury has made his way into the hearts of the people and won their respect and esteem by his courage, faithfulness, cheerfulness, and loyalty.

It would be impossible to quote Mr. Brown's words here or Mr. Stanbury's response, for both were from the heart, simple and earnest.

To relieve the tension of feeling Mr. Brown presenting the watch, referred in a roundabout way to Mr. Stanbury's approaching marriage, saying that his congregation felt he needed to be "watched" and that he hoped it would keep him from embarrassment in the future and enable him to be on time, particularly on one important event.

Mr. Stanbury said he felt that it was one time when "silence was golden" and the few words he said left no doubt in the minds of those present of his grateful appreciation of the love and thought expressed in the gift. He thanked them for their kindness to him since he came among them and their loyalty in sustaining all he attempted to do. He felt, he said, that some of the best people in the world would be found right there in Edenton street church. He asked their prayers in his new church, that his one mission might be that of saving souls.

When the meeting broke up Mr. Stanbury was surrounded by eager friends wishing to bid him farewell. He will leave in a few days for his work at Tarboro.

Money Comes In Bunches to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell N. Y. now. His reason is well worth reading. "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness and general debility," he writes: "I could not sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infallible for stomach, liver, Kidneys, blood and nerves, Soc. at all druggists.

General—Send my orderly to me at once. Alde-de-Camp—Sorry, sir, he has just been cut in two by a bullet. General—Then order that part of him to be bound which contains my tobacco pouch.

Frightful Fate Averted.
"I would have been a cripple for life, from a terrible cut on my knee cap," writes Frank Diaberry, Kelliber, Minn., without Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which soon cured me." Infallible for wounds, cuts and bruises, it soon cures burns, scalds, old sores, boils, skin eruptions. The world's best for piles. 25c. at all druggists.

The French government takes 15 per cent of all the money staked at the casino of the seaside and other health resorts on the little horses and other gambling devices. For the season of 1908;09 this percentage amounted to $948,392, the summer season naturally contributing the greater part—over $600,000.

The greatest danger from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. Sold by J. M. Hodges.

Mrs. W. L. Winkler.
Mrs. W. L. Winkler, nee Miss Daisy Gragg, died at Cedar Valley, Caldwell county, Nov. 24, 1909.

This was, indeed, a sad death, and brought sorrow to every one who knew her. Born Aug. 6, '87, having lived only 22 years, 3 months and 5 days. But few young women have done more in so short a time.

At nine and a half years she professed religion and joined the church at Three Forks and lived a consecrated life thereafter. She had a great desire to get an education. She came to Boone and entered the Appalachian Training School, where she stayed until graduation. She was a splendid student, obedient and kind. She had fine musical talent, and was organist at the Baptist church in Boone.

It was only a year ago that she was married to Prof. W. L. Winkler. Both being teachers, they started a fine school in Caldwell county, and Mrs. Winkler was at her chosen work when death came as a result of typhoid fever.

She bore her sickness with very great patience, and expressed a willingness to pass over the River of Death, if it was the will of her Savior.
When the news of her death came to her former home in East Boone deep sorrow and genuine sympathy pervaded the entire community. When the remains passed through town school was suspended; work stopped. Short exercises were conducted by the Rev. Harrison Farthing, amid a great concourse of people, including relatives and friends, teachers and school mates, we have not witnessed a more touching scene.

Four miles east of Boone, on a bold eminence, overlooking the sparkling New River, is her grave. The hearse was followed by class mates, teachers and friends. They went to show their last respects to one they honored and loved.
"Daisy Gragg," as she was most generally known, will not soon be forgotten. She will be remembered for her character, her intellect and her culture. She lived an exemplary life and has gone on to receive her reward.

We extend the profoundest sympathy to her father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gragg and to her two sisters, and to her sorrow-stricken husband, Prof. W. L. Winkler.

A Land Without Sunday Undesirable.
Lexington Dispatch.
There seems to be growing a stronger sentiment against breaking the Sabbath, and while we don't aim to preach, we call attention to the fact the observance of Sunday is a matter of vast importance to any people, because any trouble always follows that town, county, State or nation that does not give heed to the Lord's Day. There isn't much Sunday in the United States, and we have heard it said that west of the Mississippi there isn't any at all. It is also claimed that there is more respect for the day in the South than in any other section of the Union. However these things may be, Sunday is Sunday and it ought to be observed. Not by blue laws that rile folks and do little or no good and perhaps much harm, but by proper action on the part of the people. A land without Sunday does not appeal to us a desirable place to live in. If people do not care for the seventh day and turn it into a day of frolic, they do not care for any thing else that is worth while. The movement of which we see evidence here and there having respect for the Sabbath, has our most cordial support.

"EVENING"
Written for the Democrat.
The rain is past, and thro' the gloom
I see the church spires dim;
'Tis evening and the town is wrapt
In ghost-like shrouds of film.
And just above the village looms
The hillock grey and still,
And down beside the silver stream
In faint outline—the mill,
And in the meadow down below
The night hawk sings his lay
And thro' the darkness and the mist
The fireflies light the way.
An hour ago the dash of gold,
That made the sunset bright
Has faded out and left behind
Grey shades of coming night.

The twilight falls, and far away,
Beyond you mountain's crest
The last faint breath of dying day
Floats softly out to rest.

Who Will Oppose Cowles in the Eighth Conced Time?
It is generally conceded that Congressman C. H. Cowles will be nominated by his party in the eighth district. A prominent democrat from that political territory was asked who would be the nominee of his party for Congress next year. He replied that at present it looked like either R. L. Doughton, of Alleghany, or L. C. Caldwell, of Stateville. The friends of these gentlemen are pushing their candidacy and it appears that the contest over the nomination will be quite lively.

Several others are being mentioned, among them being Whitehead Klutz and Walter Murphy, of Salisbury, and T. C. Bowie, of Jefferson, but it is understood that neither of these three gentlemen will make an active fight for the nomination.

Watch Repairing.

More good watches are ruined in the hands of inexperienced workmen than in any other way. A watch is too costly an article to entrust to any one who may claim the title of Watchmaker.
During my many years of business I have always given the closest attention to the careful repairing and adjusting of watches brought to me and have bought none other than the best material. My charges are never excessive; only enough to cover the cost of the work; neither do unnecessary work nor charge for work I do not execute. Don't wait until your watch refuses to run before having it cleaned, adjusted and freshly oiled.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away call by call.
Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.
Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, and don't let anyone sell you something in place of it. If you do you will be disappointed.
