

Watauga's Quota in Battery Of Artillery

Following is the list of the Watauga boys who, rather than wait and be drafted into the regular service volunteered with Recruiting Officer Jones last week, for the Battery of Artillery. They went to Lenoir Friday, were examined, and came back the same evening, all meeting the physical requirements: El Hodges, Russell Maltba, Graham Gilliam, Stuart Brown, Rom Lovill, Grady Barnes, Cleveland and James Gross, Stuart Barnes, Walter Winebarger, Jessie Danner, Roby Brown, Bob Honeycutt, and Edgar Hardin. They all returned to Lenoir yesterday, where they will remain until they are ordered to the training camp at Greenville, S. C. They are a great bunch—young, stalwart, and the best fighting blood of our citizenship coursing through their veins. Boys, we are all proud of you. May the Divine hand guide you safely through the perilous days that are before you.

A Part of the Watauga Draft.

- Following is a partial list of those drafted for army service in Watauga, and it is thought that the county's quota will be selected from this list. The first column of figures show the order in which they were drawn, and constitutes the order of liability to service. The second is the serial number. Every registrant was drawn, but the quota from this county will be selected from the first names, not excused for cause. The economy of the best range

Every bread-baker that falls every cake that falls a perfect, uniform, golden-brown range. The Majestic gets more baking results because the heat is distributed evenly over all parts of the oven, and is reflected onto the baking by the asbestos lining, thus baking evenly, without burning. Sure baking means economy of both food and fuel. The heat cannot escape because the oven is a vacuum-tight and requires no fire. Fuel is retained, heat food is ready in 10 minutes, and even higher temperatures. Better baking with less fuel, is double economy.
