Get into One Of Our Chamois Vests

They are the breastworks that will protect you against sudden changes in the weather, from extreme colds.

To protect the chest when suffering from lung trouble, nothing is quite so effective as a good Chamois Vest.

We have them of beautiful designs which can be worn as a common vest—they are lined with flannel and can be laundered the same as a piece of woolen cloth. We have other designs to wear over the underwear and these will last several seasons, and are certainly most effective in protecting the body and in preventing sudden colds, especially in long cold drives. They are worn by many people.

C. D. White Buys Mill Privilege.

Charles D. White of this city, owner of the Uncasville Manufacturing company, has bought the mill privilege at Montville, has made arrangements for the purchase of the lower mill privilege at the water in the river town. The sale has not been yet fully completed, but everything points to a change of ownership. This privilege, regarded as one of the best on the stream, was in years past used by G. Hopper to operate a shoddy mill. There is no mill on that site now, however, nor has it been used for a long time. The women mill, some few yards further west, is also idle at present, but the expectation is that something will be doing there very soon.

STONE SENT TO STATE PRISON

Pleaded Guilty to Rape on One Count and Gets One to Two Years—State Rests in the Case Against Dr. Dimon and Defense Opens.

At the opening of the superior court here Thursday morning, Dr. H. M. Lee was recalled to finish his testimony on the night of February 29, and stated that the alleged rape, occupying about two hours of the morning session. He stated that the wounds he mentioned could have been made otherwise than by the instruments used. He was asked many questions with the idea of showing that he was as strong as a horse and the result of the treatment received after Dr. Dimon left her. He said she died from septic peritonitis, due to the injuries described.

Julia Rodmansky, fourth cousin of the deceased, testified that she was at Mrs. Bulvet's house the night of February 29, and stated that the alleged rape, she spoke to him about having another doctor, but he said he didn't need one, and spoke of a duly accout case he had at the next house when everything came out right. He said before taking charge of the woman that she was as strong as a horse and would come out all right. When Mrs. Bulvet began to recover from the alleged rape, he was asked to stay, but she said she had no light and left two pills for her.

The defendant's brother-in-law of Mrs. Bulvet, testified of helping at the birth of the child. When Dr. Dimon was asked if he had seen any other doctor, he said: "What in the devil do I want another doctor for? I can do it myself." He claimed the doctor was at the house, and Mrs. Bulvet was in agony when he left. She was lying across the bed and he gave orders not to touch her.

Dr. E. Henkle, when called, testified that he was called to treat Mrs. Bulvet and found her in a state of collapse. After treating her he called in Dr. Perrin and desired to have her taken to the hospital, but the family did not wish to do so.

Dr. C. F. Perrin of New London testified that he was called by Dr. Henkle to see Mrs. Bulvet on March 2 and considered then that she was dying of septic peritonitis.

The state rested at this point, and the first witness called by the defense was S. Paul Forbes, a barber in New London, who testified that he closed his shop Saturday night about 9 o'clock on the night of February 29, 1908, he met Dr. Dimon after he had closed his shop and walked along with the doctor for some distance. Dr. Dimon carried a handbag, instruments used. He was asked many questions with the idea of showing that he was as strong as a horse and the result of the treatment received after Dr. Dimon left her. He said she died from septic peritonitis, due to the injuries described.

At the conclusion of a short recess taken at 2:30, Joseph Stone of Central Village, aged 45, was brought into court on a bench warrant, he having been bound over from the city court on Wednesday. He was charged with rape on two counts, but the second was nolle, and he pleaded guilty to the charge of rape upon Annie Falvey, who is not quite 15.

Attorney E. T. Burke spoke in behalf of Stone, stating that Stone came here from Central Village last week for the purpose of seeing his mother in Talman street. There he found Annie Falvey and Lizzie Donovan and the Smith woman. Liquor was bought by him and while under the influence of the Falvey girl made advances and asked him for a dollar, which he gave her, and while under the influence of the Falvey girl he stole from him. The girl said that Attorney Burke is no novice in that business, having led such a life for over twenty years, and while under the influence of the Falvey girl he thought the man ought not to be sent to state prison as the girl was the cause of it.

State's Attorney Hull told the court that his attention had been called to the fact that Stone had been in the city of New London, and that he had been contaminated by bad associates. It is not a case where an innocent child had been abused. He did not recommend a severe sentence, although he would wish it should be state prison, as there is too much of such crime, and it should be a lesson to others, as the girl was state prison for one and not more than two years.

FEEBLE OLD LADY Has Strength Restored by Vinol

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewistown, Pa., who is 80 years of age, says: "For a long time I have been so feeble that I have had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair. I had no strength and took cold at the slightest provocation, which invariably settled on my lungs, and a cough would result. My son learned of the cod liver preparation called Vinol, and procured a bottle for me. It built up my strength rapidly, and after taking three bottles I am able to do most of my work, and I can walk a quarter of a mile easily. Every aged or weak person who requires strength should try Vinol. I am delighted with what it has done for me."

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness, Vinol is unequalled. If it fails to give satisfaction we will return your money.
