

Turkeys Turkeys

The Right Goods in the Right Store at the Right Price

We have the best in quality from all over the universe, not only today and tomorrow, but at all times.

PEACHES - Fresh, delicious, from Cape Colony, South Africa. Imported Hamburg Grapes and Asparagus.

Received today a flock of Fancy Native Turkeys, "Extra." Ducks are fine. Broilers are not plenty. Guinea Broilers are still good. Young "DELICIOUS HAM," better than boiled. We have the finest Bacon in this country.

READ THIS LIST AND SELECT

- Mushrooms, Tomatoes, Spinach, Beets, Squash, Sweet, Cauliflower, Beans, Andive, Lettuce, Peppers, Parsley, Red Cabbage, Pines, Arizona Oranges, Mal. Grapes, King Oranges, Very Fancy Apples, Pears, Raisins, Figs, Nuts, and a load of other good things.

Somers Bros.

Geo. R. Harris, M. D. Physician and Surgeon

Room 24 - Shannon Building.

In addition to regular hours 8 to 10 and 6 to 8, I may be found at the office from 1 to 2 p. m.

Fine Tailoring at SWANN'S

Valentines! Valentines!

MRS. EDWIN FAY, Franklin Square

Another Five o'clock Dinner at the Wauregan, Sunday, February 7.

Tables reserved upon application.

Standard Toilet Preparations

LUCY A. SPARKS, Tel. 443-3

JOIN THE RANKS of the well dressed men whose clothes are made by C. B. Nickerson, 123 Main St.

STEINER'S BRONCHIAL LOZENGES

STEINER'S BRONCHIAL LOZENGES

DR. N. GIBLERT GRAY, GRADUATE VETERINARIAN

One Bulletin.

Norwich, Saturday, Feb. 6, 1909.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

The February thaw has set in early.

There was a heavy white frost early Friday morning.

Leaky roofs and gutters kept property owners busy on Friday.

Peach-growers state that so far the weather has been very favorable to the buds.

Merchants will make a big effort today to dispose of the last of their winter stock.

Sunday will be the 31st anniversary of the Christian Endeavor movement.

Pre-Lenten gayeties will have to be hurried. Lent begins two weeks from Wednesday.

Great and small, there have been 18 snowstorms already this winter, according to one record.

Clergymen about the state are already beginning a crusade for the more serious observance of Good Friday.

Orchardists in some localities are already beginning preparations to spray trees to kill the San Jose scale.

Sunday, February 7, will be the 45th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bills of Summit street.

At the fourth quarterly conference of the M. E. church in Vernon, District Supt. J. H. Newland of Norwich presided.

Many thousands of ties have been drawn to town this week from points north, for shipment, and for use hereabouts.

Rev. P. C. Wright will speak at the Central Baptist church Sunday evening upon the topic, "Waiting Seven Years for a Bride."-adv.

Men will begin painting the interior of the new barracks at the navy yard next Monday. The contractor hopes to have the building completed by March 15.

In a number of places schools will not be dismissed on Lincoln day, but one session will be held, the last period being devoted to memorial exercises.

The little black and tan dog Toodles owned by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Parker of The Hemlocks, East Great Plain, died this week, aged 14. He was an exceptionally intelligent animal.

See the charming operetta, "The Miracle of the Rose," presented by the Maids of the Sacred Heart, St. Mary's parish, at the new Olympic hall, Friday afternoon and evening, Feb. 12. Tickets, 25c, 50c and 60c.-adv.

On draught today at the Theater cafe: Anheuser Busch Budweiser, Anheuser Busch Faust, 107 Water street. T. W. Wilson.-adv.

The commissioners of the geological and natural history survey of Connecticut announce among reports in preparation one on a Study of the Terraces of the Thames Estuary, by Dr. F. P. Gulliver of Norwich.

The Graduate Nurses' association at its meeting in Danbury this week, elected a delegate to attend the national convention of the nurses' alumni at St. Paul, Minn., in June, Mrs. E. Baldwin Lockwood of Granby.

The New London county branch of the Episcopal Sunday school union of Connecticut was organized at a meeting in Grace Episcopal church at Norwalk, this week. For president, Rev. C. J. Marston of Stonington was chosen.

A Winsted correspondent writes: The condition of ex-Warden Gustav Reuter, who is in a sanitarium in Norwich, according to advices received from his brother, Louis, who is visiting him, is showing marked improvement, but not enough to warrant his return home.

State members of the Typographical union, have been notified by International President L. Lynch of the resignation, because of ill health, of J. W. Bramwood, who for the past twelve years has been secretary and treasurer of the International Typographical Union of North America. President Lynch has named J. W. Hays, the first vice president, to succeed him.

Reported That Freight Agent Doll of New London is to Be Promoted.

There is a rumor current among the railroad section in London, that changes will be made in the New London freight office soon. It is understood that E. L. Doll, freight agent for the New Haven, will be made assistant superintendent of the Shore Line division to succeed Assistant Superintendent E. T. Horn. Mr. Doll will have office in New Haven.

Charles H. Briggs, formerly station master in New London, now freight agent in Mystic, will succeed Mr. Doll in the New London office, according to rumor.

Prize Readers Selected.

Preliminary Contest Held for Those at Free Academy After Williams Prize.

On Friday afternoon the preliminary contest for the Williams prize reading contest at the Free Academy was held with the result that the following were selected to compete for the prize: Misses Armstrong, Coughlin, Frink, Gibbs, Greenberg, Hendrick, Latimer and Mitchell. The reading will take place in March.

Social by Pigeons.

The third annual social by the Pigeons, in T. A. B. hall on Friday evening, was their best and most largely attended, and the hall was filled with a merry throng of dancers who made one of the largest crowds in the hall this season. The music was by Baker's orchestra.

Permission to Third Company.

Formal order was issued Thursday by the adjutant general, giving permission to the Third company, coast artillery, to leave the state under arms to attend the funeral in Washington.

PERSONAL.

Rev. A. P. Blinn was called to Maine this week by the death of his aunt.

Max J. Foley of Hedge avenue 49 continued to the house with the grip.

William Stafford of Norwich, was a recent visitor with Rockville friends.

Miss Edah Comstock leaves today to spend Sunday in New York with friends.

Nicholas Walsh of Trinity college is at his home, on North Main street, for over Sunday.

Patrick O'Connor, who has been visiting here, returns today to Hartford, where he is head waiter of the Garde hotel.

Bert Caron, who is employed by the Allen-Beeman company, has been confined to the house for a week with rheumatism.

James R. Frew of Boswell avenue leaves this morning for Springfield, Mass., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Frew.

Miss N. W. King and Miss Lydia G. Curran of Boswell avenue leave this morning for Springfield, Mass., to visit Miss Curran's grandmother, Mrs. Lydia A. Curran.

Sunshine Mission Band of Lefingwell Baptist Church Gives Delightful Programme at Home of Deacon Lefingwell.

An open meeting of the Sunshine Mission band of the young people of Lefingwell Baptist church was held at the pleasant home of Deacon J. O. Lefingwell Friday evening, including members of the band and their guests there were thirty-three present and the program was delightfully rendered.

Voluntary, Mrs. T. C. Lefingwell; prayer, Rev. J. G. Ward; Scripture reading, Psalm 139; recitation, A. M. Box, Myra Ellis; recitation, The Silver Plate, by Eola Browning; recitation, Our Little Member, Elsie Beard; recitation, The Burman Girl's Lament, Ruth Palmer; recitation, A Child's Prayer, Annie Peabody; recitation, What They Do in China, Ella Lefingwell; dialogues by five girls, The New Society; recitation, The Dead Poet, Hazel Calkins; recitation, One Brave Little Member, Elsie Beard; paper on Indian Customs and Curiosities, Edith Lefingwell. An offering amounting to $175 was taken. The programme closed with the Missions benediction.

The Mission band then provided coffee and other dainties, bringing to a close most enjoyable evening with informal singing.

COTILLION ON CLOSING NIGHT.

Miller's Thursday Night Class Had Enjoyable Time.

Professor Miller's Thursday evening class at his academy on Oak street made their evening this week, which was the last of the regular course, one of special attractiveness and enjoyment, by arranging for a cotillion, which was led by Thomas M. Connor and Mrs. Gertrude Quinn of Hartford. This was a really carried out with four favor figures, Mrs. F. L. Farrell and Miss Katharine Lyons presiding at the favor table. For the figure, the Misses were introduced with the lights in the hall darkened. Among the guests were the Misses Quinn of Hartford, Miss McLaughlin of New York, and Joseph Burns of Hartford.

The class has enjoyed a very successful season under the management of Thomas M. Connor, Miss Nellie A. Lyons and Miss Isabel P. Crawford. It is to have one extra evening before calling its season closed.

TWENTY NEW MEMBERS.

Record Established by Central Athletic Club.

The Central Athletic club made a record for taking in new members at an adjourned business meeting held in their rooms in the Pierce block, Friday evening, with President William Hourihan in the chair. Twenty new members were taken in and a membership committee to keep up the good work was appointed. This committee consists of Charles McCarthy, William Fitzgerald and Joe Desmond.

Plans were also put under way for their annual ball in Olympia hall after Lent, and a committee of ten was appointed, with Luke Riley as chairman. The club intends to make this the most notable event in their history.

Guest of C. H. Hobson.

Hon. Robert L. La Follette, the speaker at the Lincoln service for men at the Y. M. C. A. service on Sunday, is to be the guest of Principal C. H. Hobson, of the Lincoln school, at the special music arranged for his service to be by an orchestra directed by John M. Ewahn, and vocal solos and Mrs. F. H. Lunt and Charles D. Geer. The service has been arranged to start half an hour earlier than the usual time of 4 o'clock.

Lincoln Memorial Service.

The Bible school of the First Baptist church is planning to hold a Lincoln memorial service Sunday evening, Feb. 14th. Interest in this event will be augmented by the giving of a stereoscopic lecture this Sunday evening. Mr. Charles H. Lunt, has secured over a hundred views covering the life of Lincoln, war views in which he participated and southern negro scenes dealing with the work of the Baptists in the south.

AT BREED THEATER.

Illustrated Songs and Pictures.

There were many at the Breed theater on Friday afternoon and evening. Madame M. Foster, the hostess, gave up another engagement to come here in place of the quartette, was heard at her best in the soprano solo Goodbye, Sweetheart, Goodbye. The audience was delighted with her singing and gave her several encores. Meet Me in Rose Time. Rosie, the song by George Cooper, whose pleasing tenor voice brought out the best in the song. The pictures are all distinct and stand the test of time. A Wonderful Moment, Pirates' Gold, The Tramp and the Clubman.

Rose Alley Scores.

High single at the Rose alleys on Friday was rolled by Hill with a score of 120. Hill also looks like the winner for the week with a three-string total of 341, but he has the lead for the King dandy prize for a five-string total, having a score of 597.

The Waterbury Habit.

No Waterbury person was surprised at reading in the American that Admiral Sperry arrived at Gibraltar two full days before his battleships were expected. It is a common rule in Waterbury to get there ahead of time. It is one of the reasons why Waterbury is leading the procession.-Waterbury.

Her Deep Interest.

The daughter of Emerson showed in her will how deep an interest she had in the playground movement, one that will bring so much real good to thousands in the coming generation.-Boston Record.

PORTUGUESE COUPLE WERE HERE

Chief Murphy Investigated but Found Girl's Story was Not True About Their Actions--Stopped at Hotel and with Respectable Family.

Reading in The Bulletin of the story told by Maria Albr, the 19-year-old Portuguese girl, of Newmarket, N. H., to the Providence police of being held a prisoner in a house in Norwich this week, Chief Murphy at once started an investigation, resulting in establishing the fact that the couple were here, but there were many features of her story which were exaggerated and others untrue, Chief Murphy had received no word from Providence about the matter, but from the story in the paper got his men to work with the result that he soon had the local end of the affair. If the facts had been as the girl described, some arrests might have followed.

Policeman Henderson was sent out on a still hunt by the chief, and he secured much information and himself had some facts, as he was at the station at the time, and recalled when the couple left here for Providence. The girl was not anxious to see a policeman then and apparently had no complaint to make.

It was learned that they came here Monday night and stayed at the hotel, registering husband and wife. The next day they inquired about Portuguese families and were referred to the local end of the matter. The next day they were taken to a rooming house and were kept there for some time. They were then taken to a rooming house and were kept there for some time. They were then taken to a rooming house and were kept there for some time.

It was also said that she well knew the house where she stayed, in connection with the tale told in Providence, but she didn't know where it was, or whose house it was. They left the day following for Providence.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

Albr left the house when forced to do so by the manager. When he returned, fearfully, he found his wife missing. He had heard nothing further from her until he was told she had applied to the Providence police for protection, and that the man with her had been taken into custody.

TIGERS HIGH SCORERS.

Win the Pullups and Lead in Y. M. C. A. Athletic Tournament.

In their tournament of athletic events the employed boys' class at the Y. M. C. A. reached the fifth of their series on Friday evening, contesting in the pullups, which were won by the Tigers with a total of 491 points. This materially increased their lead in the total, which now stand Tigers 3126, Clippers 1825, Merry Widowers 1267, Rosebuds 1907.

F. Clah and Morgan were the individual strong men in this event, each bringing their chips up to the bar in approved form 15 times. The scores:

Tigers. Times. Points

F. Clah 15 100

Morgan 14 97

N. Clah 13 88

Trachtenberg 11 83

Charnetzki 9 82

591

Merry Widowers.

Rydholm 5 70

Burke 6 73

Crumb 11 88

Dufner 11 88

Allen 6 61

Curlin 11 88

465

Clippers.

Tuttle 6 73

Albura 5 70

Calkins 8 79

Oat 10 85

Whitaker 7 61

453

Rosebuds.

Colligan 7 76