NOW, THEN, DO IT.

Evangelist Luther Pleads for the Enthronement of Christ.

With the appeal of Captain Abner to halting Israel to make David their king, as recorded in 2 Sam. 3:17, 18, Evangelist Luther, at the First Baptist church Tuesday evening, urged the importance of enthroning Christ in the heart and doing it at once. This is the only safe thing, and the very thing long desired but delayed by man. The importance of the "now or never" because of the danger of delay by reason of the hardening tendencies of sin, and the uncertainty of a future, were also stressed and further emphasized Mr. Luther's appeal by a closing and impressive address. Tonight Mr. Luther will speak upon "Luther's True Starting Point."

FINISHING UP COURT BUSINESS.

Judge Wheeler will Conclude Sessions at New London this Week—Cochrane Divorce Case Finished—Salter's Appeal Being Heard.

At New London, Tuesday, stories by the husband of presents from the board to the wife's part in the form of affection and emphatic denial of all these charges by the wife featured in recent case which occurred at the attention of the superior court. William Cochrane of Norwich asked a decree from Elizabeth Cochrane, formerly of Norwich, now of Lowell. Adultery is the ground.

The case was started last week, but as there was an unusual amount of testimony the evidence was not completed and the case was continued until Tuesday. Before the Cochrane case was heard the argument of demurrer in the case of William Hoize vs. New Haven road was finished.

Miss Esther Sawyer of Lowell, a daughter of Fred Sawyer, who is the "star boarder" in question, said that she had lived with her father when he made his home with the Cochrane on Laurel hill. She had occupied a room so situated that she would have known of any intimacy between her father and Mrs. Cochrane and in all the time the Sawyers had lived with the Cochrane she had never seen any impropriety between her father and Cochrane.

Miss Sawyer said that her father and Cochrane had gone together to the Laurel hill house, and that she thought of moving there, and that Cochrane had made a proposition for the Sawyers living with the Cochrane. When Cochrane was in the house she saw a letter from Lucius Brown. Miss Sawyer said that she now resides in Lowell with Mr. Cochrane and in all the time she has lived with him she has never seen any impropriety between her father and Cochrane.

SMART HATS

Noted Here and There in the Displays Made on Tuesday.

The search for Easter hats went on actively on Tuesday, and milliners were well satisfied with the sales made.

One attractive model offered was a black chip, mushroom shape, turned up on one side, its trimming large jet beads which circled the crown, two handsome black plumes, a big, flat, tailored black velvet bow.

A stylish Sport tailored hat was of black wool straw, its striking trimming big wavy curls, the modish pale leather trims with touches of black.
