WOULD HURT NORWICH ROAD.

Mayor Lippitt Opposes Public Utilities Bill.

The committee on the judiciary gave a hearing in Hartford at 2:30 Thursday afternoon in continuation of the discussion of measures for a public utilities commission. It was agreed before the hearing began that the hearing could be still further continued. Lewis Sperry conducted the hearing on the part of the opposition to the public utilities commission. Mayor Lippitt of Norwich objected to the measure. He said he was interested in a trolley road intended to run from Norwich to Hartford and apprehended that his company would have difficulty in the financing if a commission were appointed.

Drafted at Norwich for War.

A unique document has come into the possession of the New London County Historical society. It is a copy of the London Daily Star of July 16, 1862, and it is interesting because it contains the names of the citizens of New London drafted at Norwich for service in the Civil war. The fact that the issue is an extra is heralded in black and white. The extra refers to the extra importance of the copy and not to extra size evidently, for it is of handbill size, printed on one side only, and containing simply the list of the drafted men, with no other news. This interesting document makes a valuable addition to the collection of things of historical interest at the Shaw mansion, the New London County Historical society's home.

It Seems Strange

that anyone should have to be told about the goodness of so helpful a preparation

Smith's Beef, Iron and Wine.

When you think of it every one knows that Beef is very strengthening—that Iron gives tone and color and stability, and that Wine is a highly nutritious natural tonic.

There is of course a great deal of difference in the different makes. Smith's Beef, Iron and Wine is a perfectly balanced combination in which only the finest ingredients in their highest quality are used, and is made very palatable with pleasant tasting spices which also have a good effect on the stomach increasing the flow of the gastric juices and toning up the organs of assimilation.

State Police At North Stonington.

Three Men Arrested for Violation of the Liquor Law and Fined $415 and Costs which They Paid—Had Been Watched for Some Time

The state police got busy in North Stonington on Wednesday night and placed under arrest three well known men in that section charged with violating the liquor law. They were given a hearing on Thursday morning in the village of Milltown before Justice H. P. Purdie.

Two pleaded guilty to the charges placed against them, but the third, Charles D. Haven of Westley, was arrested charged with keeping liquor with intent to sell, and with two actual sales. He pleaded guilty and was fined in all $125 and costs, which he paid.

Thomas P. Main of North Stonington was charged with selling liquor unlawfully, there being four counts against him, on reputation, keeping liquor with intent to sell and two actual sales. He pleaded guilty to the two sales, but not guilty to reputation and keeping with intent to sell. He was found guilty of one and discharged on the other. Fines amounting to $40 and costs were imposed.

TESTIMONY COMPLETED IN SUIT FOR $100. Common Pleas Court Occupied All Day Thursday With Case of Rosanski vs. Milecki.

On Thursday in the common pleas court a new panel of jurors was selected for the trial of the case of Charles Rosanski vs. Alexander Milecki, suit for $100 damages for malicious prosecution. It appears that both parties lived in the same house in Greenville, Me., at the time the suit was brought, and when she got up at 3:30 o'clock the next morning to do her washing she saw a bed in her room which she had never seen before. She went to the door and the ducks were gone, and she saw a man in a suit and hat, who she recognized as her husband and had him complain to City Attorney Hall, with the result that Rosanski was arrested and found not guilty in the district court. Mr. Milecki was then sued by Mr. Rosanski for malicious arrest, the case being heard before Justice Burke. He was ordered to pay $100 and costs, and to the appeal from this decision which was heard.

SMALL FIRE IN THE WUTTKY BLOCK. Started in Rubbish Pile in Back Room of Franklin Shoe Store—Damage Will Not Be Heavy.

At 10:25 Thursday evening as Harrison Wilson and others were passing the Franklin shoe store in the Wuttky block No. 29 Franklin street, they saw smoke coming from the store and in back a small blaze. They informed Policeman Kana, who sent in an alarm from box 22. The department got there immediately and soon had the fire out by use of chemicals, no water being put on the fire.

The fire started in a pile of rubbish in a back room in the shoe store, having communicated to a few of the shoe boxes, but not over a dozen boxes were damaged. How it was started, but water was not required.

The shoe store is conducted by Dave Lieberman, while the tailor, Louis Polack, has a portion of it. The shoe dealer carried a partial insurance, but the tailor had none, his only damage, however, being by smoke. He had left there at 8:30, and everything was all right, and the cause of the fire is not known, except that it probably started in the rubbish pile. There was a large number attracted by the alarm, the recall being sent in within a short time. While ringing the alarm on the city hall bell, Captain Linton was unable to complete the three rounds, owing to some trouble with the striker.

The department was called to a grass fire at 10:30, and there it was busy until 11:30, when it returned to the pumping station a half mile above Tantic was burned about 3:30 Thursday morning. A freight train was unable to check the flames and it was entirely consumed.

PROFESSOR GEORGE WAS PRESENT AT SURRENDER.

Bandmaster of Tenth Vermont Regiment Recalls All Details of the Famous Event.

Today, April 9, 1909, is the forty-fourth anniversary of the surrender of Lee's army at Appomattox. For four years ago today was enacted one of the most dramatic scenes of the civil war, when General Grant, the victor, met Lee, the noble chief of the armies of the exhausted confederacy, met, and the one, garbed in the uniform of a prisoner, surrendered his sword to the other, wearing the rough travel-stained garments of a private.

George of this city was there that day, being the bandmaster of the Tenth Vermont regiment and the details of that famous occurrence.

CLOSE OF SALE

Good Sized Sum Realized by Helping Hands.

An Easter sale held for two afternoons and evenings at the Spiritual Academy by the Helping Hands closed Thursday evening with a supper hour and a concert. The proceeds of the sale were offered for sale. A delicious salad supper was served. A good sum had been realized to reward the workers.

There were a number of awards on the show, including a pair of silk stockings; white fascinator, Mary P. Clapp; sofa pillow, Mrs. H. M. Taff; woven rug, Mrs. S. H. Bennett; hat, Mrs. Andrew Harberg; star quilt, Alexander Ramage; set of table mats, Mrs. Jennie Burdick; head neckpiece, Mrs. Ell Whitney.

FUNERALS.

Dr. Samuel Gager Johnson.

At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon the funeral of Dr. Samuel Gager Johnson was held from his home in Bognah, the house being filled with relatives and friends, including many from out of town. The funeral was conducted by Rev. A. H. Wilcox of this city, who made an address. There were many bearers, including Clifford LeRoy and Harry Lathrop and Edward Bishop. Burial was in the Johnson cemetery in Bognah, the latter being in charge of the arrangements.

Dr. O. M. Barber.

At the funeral of Dr. O. M. Barber, Dr. E. J. Groop, who officiated on Thursday afternoon, Rev. C. A. Burdick officiated. There was a large attendance. The bearers were members of the medical profession, Dr. E. H. Linnell of this city being one of the six. Burial was in Elm Grove cemetery in Mystic.

THIRD COMPANY TALKS ABOUT THE CELEBRATION.

No Action Taken, but They Have It in Mind—Plans for a Combined Entertainment.

On Thursday evening at the army of the Third company had a drill in extended order, after which there was a short meeting. A committee was appointed to confer with the Fifth company and the Spanish War Veterans for a combined entertainment to be given later.

There was also a discussion regarding the 25th anniversary celebration of the town and the question of entertaining any visitors who might be here was talked over, but no action was taken. The company having accepted the invitation of the Grand Army to attend their campfire, the members will be at the army next Friday evening for the purpose of going in a body.

On Thursday evening going in a body, the Hopkins & Allen Arms company rifle team were practicing in the army range, and it is expected that the Third company will soon receive an acceptance to their challenge.

MAJOR SIMONSON COMING.

Special Meeting Arranged for Him Tonight.

To receive Major L. M. Simonson of Hartford upon his regular quarterly visit to the city on Saturday, the Thorne of the Salvation Army has arranged to hold a meeting tonight at the city hall, which will be preceded by an open air meeting in front of the church. The captain is looking for a large attendance at both meetings, as all interested will be welcome and are invited.

The birthday of General William Booth, who is 84 years old on Saturday, is an event of world-wide interest and already telegrams of congratulation have been sent by the governors of all states and the mayors of all cities to the founder of the Salvation Army. The telegram sent by Mayor Lippitt reads as follows: "Accept my heartfelt congratulations on this, the event of your 84th birthday, praying God to spare you yet many more years of blessedness."

COSTELLO LIPPITT.

Mayor of Norwich.

The world-wide work of General Booth is shown in a few figures which appeared in the last forty-four years. In that time he has traveled 750,000 miles, addressed 15,000 meetings, visited 42,500,000 people and had interviews with fifteen royal personages and fifteen governors and premiers.

CATHOLIC WOMAN'S CLUB.

Mrs. P. H. Harriman Elected President—Quarters Secured.

Officers for the year were elected on Wednesday evening at the annual meeting of the Catholic Women's club, which was held in the St. Anne's rooms at the A. B. building. Mrs. P. H. Harriman was elected president, Mrs. Thomas McGarrity vice president, and Mrs. John W. Slattery, secretary. Mrs. Harriman has been in direction of the club since the last year, which has been a very successful one, and this election gives her two years as its chief executive.

Plans were formulated for a whist and dance at the Army in May. It was decided to have a headquarters for the club this year and two rooms for this purpose in the new building on the west building on Main street. These will be attractively furnished for the use of the society.

WEDDING.

Osgood-Baldwin.

The wedding of Miss Alice E. Baldwin and Charles Henry Osgood of Lowell took place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elisha P. Baldwin. Dr. M. S. Kaufman being the officiating clergyman. Owing to the sudden death of the bridegroom's father, Mr. George C. Osgood, of Lowell, Mass., on Tuesday afternoon, the wedding invitations were recalled and the ceremony was postponed until the following day. The event was a quiet one, only immediate relatives being present. At the conclusion of the ceremony refreshments were served, after which the happy couple departed on the boat train for a brief wedding tour. Both bride and groom are well known, having resided in East Norwich for several years.

The groom holds a responsible position with the Hopkins & Allen Arms company and is a member of the program circle of acquaintances and friends.

Many pretty wedding gifts attest the esteem in which the newly married couple are held. Upon their return to Lowell, Mr. and Mrs. Osgood will reside in Lowell.

Kamerer-Strong.

At the home of George H. Hamilton, No. 23 Spring street, a pretty wedding took place Thursday evening when George W. Kamerer and Miss Anna C. Strong were united in marriage by the Rev. William Tower Thayer of the Episcopal church. The event was a quiet one, only immediate relatives being present. At the conclusion of the ceremony refreshments were served, after which the happy couple departed on the boat train for a brief wedding tour. Both bride and groom are well known, having resided in East Norwich for several years.

Paper by Mrs. Baruch.

Mrs. Martha Hirsch Baruch of Los Angeles, formerly of this city, was one of the contributors to the programme arranged for the meeting of the Pennsylvania Women's Press association in Philadelphia, Thursday, when she read a paper on "The position of the woman in the world of today." The paper was given in a personal and interesting manner, and was well received by the audience.

This was the second paper contributed by Mrs. Baruch to the association programme this year, the first, read at the annual meeting, being on "Practical Idealism." Her poem, "Lincoln Lives" was read before the Ladies of American Pen Women in Washington, D. C., recently.

Against the Scott Company.

Judge James P. Platt in the district court of the United States Tuesday dismissed the application of the T. A. Scott company of New London, which asked for a decree of limited liability.

Andrew J. Perkins who was a marine engineer, was killed while he was working on the wrecked scow Captain Jack in New Haven harbor. His widow was the T. A. Scott company and obtained a judgment for $5,000. The T. A. Scott company wanted the amount the widow could recover limited to the value of the Captain Jack.

Judge Platt gave his opinion in dismissing the motion for limited liability. The scow had been appraised at $2,925.

The Chinese national beverage, tea, is of various qualities, the better and most delicate being the green tea, the sprout. It is harvested three times a year, and the leaves are prepared as black, green, brick and dust tea. The brick is almost all exported to Russia, Siberia and Mongolia; the other kinds are sent to the United States and Great Britain chiefly.
