

Dean Hurd of the College of Agriculture of the University of Maine has been trying to interest the school children in arboriculture. Apparently he has succeeded, for it is announced that there will be this year over 1,000 arboricultural gardens planted and tended by pupils in the public schools of the state.

CUTICURA CURED HIM

Eczeema Came on Legs and Ankles—Could Not Wear Shoes Because OF BAD SCALING AND ITCHING

"I have been successfully cured of dry eczeema. I was inspecting the removal of noxious weeds from the edge of a river and was constantly in the dust from the weeds. At night I cleaned my limbs but felt a prickly sensation. I paid no attention to it for two years but I noticed a scum on my legs like fish scales. I did not attend to it until it came to be too itchy and sore and began getting two running sores. My ankles were all sore and scabby and I could not wear shoes. I had to use carpet and felt slippers for weeks. I got a cake of the Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment. In less than ten days I could put on my boots and in less than three weeks I was free from the confounding itching. Capt. George P. Bliss, Chief of Police, Morris, Manitoba, Mar. 20, '07, and Sept. 24, '08." Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston.

ORRINE CURES LIQUOR HABIT

CURE EXPECTED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

The medical profession has long since recognized the fallacy of attempting to cure drunkenness by moral suasion. The victim can no more resist alcoholic stimulants than a man with acute mania stop delirium. The "Drink Habit" is a disease and must be treated as such. ORRINE is a modern, highly indurated and has been uniformly successful in the cure of the "Drink Habit."

Read what the Rapelye Drug Co., the leading druggists of Hartford, Ct., say about ORRINE.

"ORRINE has stood the test of use and we know of many who have been cured of the drink habit through its use, and we would not under any circumstances endorse a remedy of the character of ORRINE without we were satisfied it had undoubted merit."

ORRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, a powder, tasteless and colorless, can be given secretly in food or drink. ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to cure themselves.

THE HOUSE. The house was called to order at 11.15 by Speaker Banks. Prayer by the chaplain.

Hospital Appropriations. When the house adjourned Wednesday the senate bill appropriating money to various hospitals was under discussion, after reconsideration, it affecting St. Joseph's hospital of Waterbury. Mr. Chamberlain of New Britain said he understood the trustees of the hospital have agreed to raise the rate for town patients from $3 per week and therefore the committee on appropriations had no objection to increasing the appropriation from $5,000 to $6,000. He offered an amendment to that effect, and it was adopted. The bill as a whole was then passed.

Public Utilities Hearings. The use of the hall of the house was voted to the special committee on a public utilities bill for May 26 and June 1, 2 and 3, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Scott of Plymouth, house chairman of the committee, said a hearing had been assigned for May 25, but that date has been abandoned owing to the library cornerstones laying on that date. Mr. Scott requested that all members desiring to make amendments to the bill as it now stands should hand or send them to Mr. Chandler of Rocky Hill, the clerk, before Wednesday next.

Liquor License Applications. Matters at the foot of the calendar were made the order of the day beginning at 11 o'clock and the debate over substitute for senate bill No. 174, which would amend the present law concerning the granting of liquor licenses. Its principal features being that any dealer making application for a renewal of a license need not secure signers to it, but new applicants must secure signers; also doing away with publicity in connection with renewals.

Mr. Peck of Stratford offered an amendment. Mr. Peck declared that under the present law some saloon keepers charge that they must pay money in large sums to signers in order to secure their names.

Mr. Loos of New Haven thought the proposed bill a good one, but objected to the amendment.

Mr. Payne of Griswold, Mr. Donovan of Meriden and Mr. Mack of Portland also opposed the amendment. The amendment was lost.

Mr. Peck moved that the matter be indefinitely postponed.

Others who spoke in opposition were Mr. Parker of Hartford, Mr. Tomlinson of Danbury, and Mr. Fish of Newington. Speaker Banks in the chair. Mr. Fish referred to a "member who represents the brewing interests" and Mr. Loos jumped with fire in his eye and demanded that Mr. Fish name the man and reiterated the demand. The speaker intimated that Mr. Loos was out of order. Mr. Fish replied that one of the gentlemen who supported the proposed bill was known as a representative of the brewers and had been heard to remark that they (the brewers) would draw some of the teeth of these temperance laws. Mr. Fish thought it a good time to begin to draw them. (Applause.)

Mr. Hall of Willington thought the bill a very dangerous measure; he understood that the temperance people had not been given a hearing on the substitute. Mr. Hall said he believed the only safe thing to do is to table it. He did not believe half the members of the house understand it. He did not think it ought to be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Whiton of New London was also of the opinion that the bill is dangerous legislation.

On motion of Mr. Chandler the matter was tabled.

Order of the Day. Only three measures on the foot of the calendar which were made the regular order of the day at 12 o'clock were reached. One of these, concerning certificates of teachers, was tabled to retain its place. Another, relating to liquor license applications, referred to at length elsewhere, was discussed for an hour and tabled.

The third, concerning the sale and storage of fireworks in cities, raised a rumpus for a few minutes and was tabled. During the time Mr. Dunn of Windham spoke in opposition to the bill, saying that in being made applicable to cities only it is discriminating legislation. He said he has been selling fireworks for twenty-four years. He offered an amendment making the bill apply to cities of 15,000 or over. Mr. Clark of Bridgeport had spoken and somebody else started to say something when the house adjourned to Tuesday at 11.30.

NO MORE SUNDAY FUNERALS. Protestant Pastors of Paterson Have Agreed to Refuse to Officiate.

Paterson, N. J., May 19.—The pastors of the Protestant churches in this city have agreed that hereafter they will not officiate at funeral services on Sunday unless in the case of a death from contagious disease where a speedy interment is necessary.

The announcement will be good news to the citizens of this city, who have been fighting for the abolition of Sunday funerals for a year or more. It is now expected that with the cooperation of the ministers these drivers will refuse to take part in any Sunday funerals.

Three Cent Rate in Mississippi. Jackson, Miss., May 19.—At the night session of the railroad commission last night a final vote, which was unanimous, was to let the railroad passenger rates in the state remain at three cents.

A Monument to Himself. Dick Blumenthal of Hartford, who knows more about horses than he does about ethical philosophy, probably does not consider himself a philanthropist, but when he builds a model five-story tenement on the grimy front street corner, where he was born, equips it with electric lights, fine ventilation and a big gravel yard, for a children's playground, and finally rents four-room flats for $10 a month, he rears to himself an excellent monument. If he can only demonstrate that this sort of enterprise is financially profitable he will have done more for the tenement dweller than most of the professional ameliorators.—Waterbury American.

A Dainty Kitchen Sink. The kitchen sink can be kept as clean and dainty as a tea cup—and why should it not? A spick-and-span housewife insists that her sink shall be as clean as the china washed in it.

The problem is simple; merely rinse the sink thoroughly with warm water and Gold Dust, after each dish-washing. Make this suds in the dish-pan, and thus remove the last particle of grease from that much-used utensil.

Gold Dust has the peculiar quality of dissolving and "cutting" grease. It is, therefore, valuable, not only for keeping the sink and pans sweet and clean, but for keeping the sink "trap" and pipes clear.

These will never become clogged with grease if Gold Dust and plenty of hot water be used for washing the sink each morning and evening.

The Leading Lard Packer Says:

"Leaf is the cream of lards. There is not enough of it to supply one-tenth of the people."

Here is a frank admission from the leading lard packer that nine-tenths of the people are using other than leaf-lard—the only lard that is even safe. So you see what a chance you have of getting purity when you buy lard. You are simply taking chances on a hog-fat product of disreputable ancestors and doubtful cleanliness.

On the other hand when you buy Cottolene you get a pure vegetable product. It is better and healthier than lard because its source is clean—its process of manufacture is clean, and it is marketed in clean, air-tight cans that shut out all odors and contamination.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

Diana's Model's Difficult Pose.

"I never look up at the gracefully poised figure of Diana with her bow which tops the tower of the Madison Square Garden," said an old New York art lover, "without recalling what Saint Gaudens told me of his trials in arranging some way in which his model might hold this difficult pose for any length of time. The position unsupported would, of course, be a physical impossibility for more than a second or two at a time. After experimenting with all sorts of supports a framework of ladders was finally arranged which proved a fairly satisfactory solution of his problem. There were braces for the body at several points, but even with these helps the pose was probably as difficult a one as has ever been required of any model.

"Of the throngs who pass this statue every day and look at it admiringly probably not one in 10,000 ever stops to think what a test of endurance such a pose meant to the model."—New York Sun.

Connecticut is determined to have better roads, and we believe Commissioner Macdonald is giving as good service as anyone could at this stage of the game.—Bristol Press.
