An Agricultural Revival.

Massachusetts farmers have surprised the secretary of the state board of agriculture this spring by their activity in taking hold of business. He reports that they have sent out so many apple trees that they have exhausted the supplies of the nurseries. They have set out thousands of other fruit trees also and indicate that they are going to plant nearly twice as many acres to corn in years gone by. The secretary is especially encouraged over the corn prospect and he sees so many acres growing up to the tasseling stage that he draws a picture of Massachusetts in the fall well supplied with corn without the usual aid of the west. Massachusetts is not alone in this revival of farming interest. The other states, particularly those to the north, are preparing for the corn and the apple expositions that are to be arranged for the special advertising of the fact that the old states are capable of producing more than twice as much as they have in past years on the farms.—Worcester Telegram.

Are You a "Booster?"

Every city needs a "Boosters" club. It need not be formally organized, need have neither charter, constitution nor meeting place; all it needs is an ambition to boost. Every citizen, man, woman and child, ought to be a member of the club, boosting his city by word and deed, in season and out, at home and abroad. Its members should preach the city's advantages as a manufacturing town, as a shipping point, a delightful residential place, a convention center, an excursionists' Mecca. At home the club members should urge the materialization of every worthy plan for improvement, should keep close watch on local officials and see that they serve the public with faithfulness and efficiency. To the outside world the club should say: "Watch us grow." At home they should see that actual growth keeps pace with the boast. Are you a member of the "Boosters" club?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE CARE OF THE TEA KETTLE.

Some people think that because the tea-kettle never contains anything but clean water it need seldom be washed.

Every housewife who lives where water is hard, however, knows how the lime and other "salts" form a coating on the inside. This may be largely prevented, and the outside of the tea-kettle kept free from "soot" and grease, by washing, inside and outside, each morning, with hot water and Gold Dust.

The hard lime and other salts are dissolved by the Gold Dust and the inside of kettle will be kept smooth much longer. If this cared for, Be sure to rinse thoroughly with hot or warm water to remove all soapy water, then re-fill with cold water for heating.

A NUISANCE.

Quinebaug Company Complains Against Sewer Outlet.

A notice has been filed by the Quinebaug company with the borough officials, calling attention to the sewer outlet into the Quinebaug river as a nuisance. The outlet is directly beneath the Quinebaug bridge and all the sewage that passes through the borough sewerage system is flowing into the river just above the dam, polluting the stream and causing undesirable conditions. When the water is low, as it is apt to be during the summer months, and does not flow over the dam, the discharge from the sewer pipe accumulates, with its attendant bad results, flows in part through the mill canal, leaving a disagreeable odor.

Immediate action may be taken in the matter, as the warning for the special borough meeting to be held this (Friday) evening contains a clause, in effect, what action the borough will take in regard to changing the outlet of its main street sewer and to see if the borough will vote to build the trunk line sewer from Main through Water street or land adjacent thereto, across Franklin street, and through land of the Quinebaug company to a point below the Cold Spring, where an outlet into the Quinebaug can be provided. Here, again, the timely notice of the Quinebaug company becomes of value as an aid to the citizens in fixing a new location for the sewer outlet. The place near the Cold Spring is where it was intended the sewer entrance into river was to be is not satisfactory to the mill company, as it is in still water opposite their weave shed and the same objections made against the location of the present outlet would undoubtedly recur at the one that has been considered. A distance farther down the stream the water runs swiftly and would carry away the sewerage cleanly and without leaving a distressing stench. The lower down the river site would be satisfactory to the mill company.

FOR CAMP MEETING

Rev. R. S. Cushman Sending Out Notices of Epworth League Institute.

Rev. R. S. Cushman is arranging the programme for the Epworth league institute and Christian Workers conference to be held at Willimantic camp ground, August 9-12, under the auspices of the Norwich district Epworth league. He has prepared a circular containing the forewords on the approaching meetings. The purpose of the institute is stated as follows:

"This institute is the beginning of an attempt to meet the demand, as voiced by many of our pastors and laymen for a summer school, within easy access and at a very moderate expense, where Christian Workers may be inspired and greatly helped to solve many problems of the Epworth league and the church. An unusually strong programme has been prepared at considerable expense.

"The co-operation and earnest prayers of all Christian people are solicited for the success of the institute. The members of the faculty are persons of experience and reputation, and have been chosen because of their peculiar fitness to teach the special subjects which they are to present.

"Refreshments at the institute will be at reduced rates; rooms and meals will be at moderate prices.

The annual convention of the District Epworth league will be held in connection with the institute on the afternoon of August 12.

Bennett-Mutty Marriage. Miss Rosanna Mutty and George Bennett, both of Williamsville, were married at the Baptist parsonage on Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Denton J. Neely.

Cold Water Sots.

The Brooklyn Eagle publishes an advertisement against indifference in ice water, citing the incident that six champagne bucketfuls of the pernicious beverage were consumed by the guests at a dinner of a church Ladies' Aid society, and that after the dinner there were "35 cases reported of something which felt akin to trouble brewed by green apples." The Eagle recommends that at the next dinner of this organization first aid be given by "something warming served from a teapot—for example, Jamaica ginger."

Hughes No Junkster.

One of the items in the New York budget vetoed by Governor Hughes is a $15,000 appropriation for the expense of the governor, his staff and a committee of the legislature in attending the Seattle exposition. A most praiseworthy veto. It is in line with Governor Lilley's refusal to spend a lot of Connecticut's money in taking troops to Washington for the inauguration.—Waterbury American.

McCOMBER DEATH

Recalled by Arrest Made in Woodstock on Thursday.

There was a revival of interest in the McComber death mystery and a flurry of excitement in this city Thursday afternoon among those who heard a story that an arrest had been made over in Woodstock in connection with the case. The arrest was made, but it had no important bearing on the mystery. A simple minded fellow named Canley was arrested by Deputy Sheriff L. H. Healey.

The man has been going about West Woodstock and other parts of the town trying to do business in old coins, which he claims to be collecting. He made irresponsible remarks to the effect that he was a detective working on the McComber case, and was called about the dead man until his stories tried the nerves of the good people in the section. His arrest, for the purpose of investigation, followed. It was learned that the man has been living in a part of the town of Woodstock for about three years and that he is an eccentric, harmless character. He was released.

As to how McComber died, the Woodstock people generally have come to regard it as a case of suicide.

At each cemetery the graves of the revolutionary soldiers, which have recently been designated by a marker and a flag, will be decorated with wreaths.

A hundred and seventeen graves of revolutionary soldiers have been verified and flagged by the Elizabeth Porter Putnam chapter, D. A. R., and are in the cemeteries as follows: Old Coventry 31, Grove street 1, West Thompson 25, Woodstock Hill 10, Pomfret 24, Abington 16.

McMillan has carried the devices of modern life up to the very doors of the lion's den. You can kill lions within five miles of the porch."—Waterbury American.
