

MOOSUP FIRE
Believed by Many to Have Been of Incendiary Origin—Department Did Great Work.

Worn out after hours of fighting, the members of the Moosup fire department retired from the Salisbury block fire about 7 o'clock Monday morning with a record of a significantly successful battle to their credit.

The Salisbury building is wrecked, but the new brick Hyde building, on one side of the ruined structure, and the frame Bellavance building, on the other, are barely blistered, a remarkable fact considering the very few feet that separated them.

Fire Work of Department.
No department could have made a better fight with the facilities at hand and the valiant efforts of the firemen out of the impending damage by thousands of dollars. The heavy rain of Sunday evening and lack of any breeze were factors in the firemen's favor.

Viewed from the railroad track, where a rear view of the buildings is to be had, the damage to the Salisbury building is most apparent. The interior is gutted and the contents practically a total loss. At times the flames burst with such fury as to nearly kill every hope of confining the fire to the doomed structure, but courage and perseverance finally won out.

Powder and gasoline and the danger of the heavy roof falling kept the firemen on the outside for a time, but after these factors were eliminated they got to work at still closer range.

Just what the losses will amount to and not been positively determined Monday, though they will not be far from first estimates.

Incendiary Charged.
There is no attempt among many Moosup people to conceal their belief that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Previous attempts to destroy the building are claimed to have been made on one instance a cited of chanding a fuse leading from the furnace door to a heap of excelsior.

The fire evidently started this last time at the rear of the building on the first floor level. The one story addition and rear walls for the entire height are gone, two slight accidents resulted from the fire. Chief Thomas Morrissey piercing his foot with a nail that penetrated his boot and William Bellavance spraining his ankle, while assisting his family to escape from his house at the outbreak of the fire.

The Franco-American club, which had a well equipped ball in the block, completed the payment of all their bills only last week. The club is partially protected by insurance.

High School Orchestra.
Entertained at Home of Mr. and Mrs.
George E. Stiles—Informal Concert
Directed by Eugene Wallner.

The members of the Windham high school orchestra were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George E.
Stiles on Windham road, Monday evening.
The handsome residence was beautifully decorated with flags and emblems of school life and presented a most attractive appearance. Mr.
Stiles has done a great deal to make an orchestra in the school possible by his generous financial assistance and untiring interest in its organization and perfected state. This season he has been assisted by enthusiastically responding to the orchestra's needs by leading business and professional men of the city who have contributed generously by subscription to the orchestra's support. These gentlemen, with their wives, were present on Monday evening's reception.

The orchestra, under the able leadership of Eugene Wallner of Norwich, who has been untiring in his tutelage, gave an excellent informal concert that was enthusiastically received. Following the concert lunch was served. In addition to the host and hostess and the orchestra there were present Mr. and Mrs. Lucius S.
Bigelow, Gen. and Mrs. E. S. Bosz, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hardman, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. J.

STUDENTS' JOLLIFICATION.
Pomfret School Boys to Have Annual High Jinks.

Mechanics band will go to Pomfret this Tuesday evening to play at the yearly carnival night, marking the approaching close of the school year. Decorations and illuminations are characteristic adjuncts of this annual event, the special intent and purpose of which is to have the students and their friends, and the beautiful street, cheer the faculty members, their friends, themselves, and everybody in general. The band brings a jolly mood and the celebrations and triumphs of the year are submerged by the exuberant spirit that marks the occasion. The school year and the approaching period of summer freedom. It is always a great night in Pomfret and this year will be no exception.
