Advantages and Disadvantages of the Dow Lot Appropriation.

The practicability of purchasing the Dow lot of Main street for use by the various departments of the city for the storage of tools, equipment, etc., is questioned in some quarters and it is intimated that the action of the board of aldermen at its adjourned meeting Monday evening in adopting a resolution appropriating $2000 for the purpose will not be ratified at the special city meeting to be called by the mayor soon.

The city needs such a lot. The standing committee on streets has looked the ground over carefully and recommends the purchase of the Dow lot, which is well adapted for the needs required of it, and has the added advantage of being centrally located and already has on it a fair barn about 20x40 feet. The lot is approximately 60x135 feet, and has a 12-foot right of way to Main street.

The time is not far distant when provision must be made for housing horses and paraphernalia that will be used in connection with the fire department, for which the Dow lot could be utilized.

KISSED THE PREACHER.

President George M. Morse Manifests Approval of Rev. T. E. Campbell.

President George M. Morse of the Douglas Camp Meeting association, who was in charge of the annual Douglas camp meeting and is taking a prominent part in the revival exercises.

At the morning meeting Monday Mr. Morse invited Rev. T. E. Campbell, superintendent of the Pentecostal Nazarene church of the city of Vermont, to pray. Rev. Campbell left his seat in the auditorium and kneeling in front of the platform, prayed for the people with emotion. His sobbings choked his supplication. He rose with eyes closed and shoulders drooping, and with his hands clasped in prayer, he said: "The things are happening," shouted Rev. Morse, "and you are going to hear from heaven, as sure as you live!" shouted another. The feeling which had been kindled by the prayer had spread to the others. He walked back and forth across the platform, addressing remarks to the congregation. One thing he said was that if the hub of the Holy Ghost could fall on the camp for 24 hours a zeal would result which would convert the world.

Before he sat down he eulogized Mr. Campbell for his work in Vermont and an impulse moving him, sprang up to where Mr. Campbell was sitting and kissed him.

The meetings are attracting many people to the city of the section of eastern Connecticut.

BASEBALL DRIVEL.

Fake Notices Being Sent Outside Papers by Cheerful Idiots.

Read this about the Eastern Connecticut league baseball circuit:

"The circuit is very compact, as most of the towns are connected by the North Groton road, Putnam, Dayville and Danielson are on the trolley line between Providence and Webster, with Waterbury and Jewett City close by, the latter by rail on the Worcester division of the Consolidated road and the former by seeing Jewett City caravans from Lisbon and Voluntown."

It is a sample of the kind of non-sensical junk that is being sent to the trolley line between Providence and Worcester! Who ever heard of such a thing? But it is nearly correct as the locating of Waterbury and Jewett City. It is the authoritative as the weekly letters of ridiculous comment about the Eastern Connecticut league that is being sent to one of the leading papers of the state by this frenzied seeker after space.

The management of the teams invite him to come out of the metropolis of Willimantic into what he is pleased to term the territory of the "Crossroads" league and brush up his knowledge of the geography of this part of the country and incidentally learn at least a few things on the subject of which he writes.

Nine days' sickness per annum is the average for the human being.

SHRINER INJURED.

Judge Edward W. Pratt Thrown Under Car Wheel—Foot Crushed.

A crowd of Shriners returning from a happy afternoon and evening at Norman's Hall, in the city of Jewett City, were plunged into sorrow on Saturday night in East Hartford, says The Courant, when Judge Edward W. Pratt, a past Illustrious Master of the Sphinx Temple, A. O. N. M. S., was thrown under the wheels of the special trolley car of the party. His foot being so badly crushed, he had to be transported at the expense of the Shriners.

Judge Pratt occupied a seat next to the conductor, and when the car started he had asked the conductor to stop the car at East Hartford post office, and just as they were reaching the station, he stepped out on the upturned running board rather than climb over the instruments of the Sphinx Temple, which were between him and the right side of the car. He found that the car was not going to stop and stood outside waiting for the stop at Church Street. His friends jolted him on being carried past his station and some one threw a wad of paper at him. He was thrown under the wheels of the car, and as he dodged, lost his balance.

New Haven Building Increases.

A large business was done in Building Inspector Austin's office during the past week, and the 30 permits which were taken out aggregated the cost of $152,775, which is more than twice as much as the total cost representing the permits for building and alterations for the corresponding week of the past two years. It is also interesting to note that the cost of New Haven's building as represented by permits granted during the past week, more than doubles the combined costs of any combination of two from the choice of Hartford, Waterbury and Bridgeport.—New Haven Palladium.

CUTICURA CURED IN 2 WEEKS

"My daughter, twelve years of age, was afflicted with a terrible itching of the hands which was so bad at night that she was unable to sleep. She scratched herself until she bled. From the fingers it extended over the hand and as far as the elbows. The doctor said it was eczema, and that recovery would necessarily be slow. My daughter had been itchy for seven months but the trouble always grew worse. But after I had used the Cuticura Cream Ointment brought against her hands her hands were healed. Mrs. M.
