MASONIC HOME FARM.

Its Products Show a Fine Profit Over Their Cost.

Local Masons, who, in common with those of the rest of the state, are proud of the splendid home which the order maintains at Wallingford, will be interested in the following story from the Waterbury American:

That farming can be made to pay is shown by the balance sheet of the Masonic Charity Foundation of Connecticut, the operation which owns and controls the Masonic home for aged and disabled members at Wallingford. Supt. Royland's report for 1908 shows that the products of the farm, plus rents collected and produce sold ($395.78) were worth $10,966.74.

From this deduct $2,240.14 for expenses, and there is left the comfortable sum of $8,726.60 as profit. And this on an acreage of less than 100. Although the potatoes were only a two-third crop, 250 bushels, valued at $260, were produced. Peaches did better, as after putting up 600 cans for home consumption and eating 150 baskets of ripe fruit, there was left for the market enough to sell for $1,322.95. There were also gathered 331 quarts of strawberries, 22 barrels of apples, 29 bushels of pears, 36 bushels of grapes, 53 baskets of tomatoes, 2,600 cabbages, and large quantities of sweet corn, carrots, beets, beans and squash. Ten cows produced 66,000 quarts of milk. Seventy tons of hay of varying qualities was cut, 210 tons of ensilage put down and 420 bushels of corn husked. The poultry yard produced 422 1-2 dozen eggs and 289 pounds of fowl went to make Sunday dinners. The farm also produced 1,824 pounds of beef, 2,229 pounds of pork, 274 pounds of veal and 92 pounds of lamb. The sheep industry here, as on all other New England farms, is evidently in its infancy.

The superintendent's report shows that pretty much everything in the way of farm equipment necessary has been provided. The inventory under this head totals $1,837.25. The live stock is valued at $2,933.50. The value of the real estate is put at $75,000, and other assets at $12,751.5. The board of managers have since been authorized to purchase a tract of land of 50 acres about half a mile south of the home. The total number of inmates at the home at the time the report was issued was 89—49 men and 40 women. The average age of the men was 75 and of the women, 72. Naturally, not a great deal of help in running the institution could be expected from people of that age.

To Borrow Money at Four Per Cent.—Warden W. L. Bullard is negotiating for the loan of money to the borough of Danielson to be used for the purpose of meeting the expense of constructing the sewer. The money will be secured on the town's bonds, which is lower than the borough has been able to secure money. The rate that the borough has been paying has been four and a half per cent. The saving of one per cent. on the debt of the borough means an earning of about $300 a year.

Steamer Given Tryout.—The General Putnam steamer was taken out Wednesday and given a workout and was found to work very satisfactorily. The test was given the machine near the engine house on Water street.

Sewer Contractors Arrive.—Louis Petrossi and E. S. Young of Hartford, representing the Petrossi company, who have been selected to build the new sewer in Danielson, came here Wednesday to look over the ground. They are ready to file their bond to do the work in a satisfactory manner and the contract will be signed in a few days. It is expected that the company will be able to get their materials to Danielson and begin excavating in a week or ten days.

Tillinghast Family Reunion.—Local members of the family were at Greene, R. I., Thursday to attend the annual reunion of the Tillinghast family, which has members in nearly all of the towns in this part of eastern Connecticut.

Firemen to Have Tag Day.—Danielson is going to give another tag day, and the date selected is Sept. 11. The tag day is being arranged by the members of the various companies of the fire department, and its purpose is to raise funds to buy furnishings for their new quarters in the new central fire station.

The Danielson Firemen's association is giving serious consideration to the combined members of all the companies. Instead of occupying rooms in different buildings, as they do at present, they will have parlors together in their new home, and considerable money will be required to furnish them in the way desired. The salary the borough pays the borough fire fighters does not permit the men to bear all the expense themselves, so they are going to try the tag day plan.

Progress on Penitentiary Church.—Rev. F. W. Armstrong hopes to have the foundation work on the new Penitentiary church on Academy street well advanced by the end of this month. The contract for the building has not been let yet. The structure will be of stone and prospects are that the congregation of the church will be enabled to erect the building and make it ready for occupancy without assuming a burdensome debt. Not all the funds necessary to meet the cost has been secured, but a sufficient sum has been given or pledged to insure erecting the building.

The funeral procession was escorted from the home of the deceased on the West Side to the church by the members of St. John the Baptist society, of which Mr. Bourke was a member. Rev. John Roux was celebrant of the solemn high mass of requiem. Rev. Father Roux, deacon and Rev. J. Pellet sub-deacon. The bearers were John Lapelle, Joseph St. Germain, Nazaire Hensault, Frank X. Besette, Elot Jette and Isadore Dragon. Burial was in St. James' cemetery, where the members of St. John's society were also in attendance.

The second class match is open to all members of the company who wish to try. The three prizes in this match are gold, silver and bronze medals.

The last scheduled games in the Eastern Connecticut baseball league will be played on Saturday. The teams will face each other as follows: Dayville at Danielson, Putnam at Waterbury, Jewett City at North Groves.

The chances are that the game to be played here on Saturday will be the last one that the fans will have a chance to see on the home diamond this season. It is understood that the league will continue to play with teams outside of the league after the schedule of games is completed. Nearly all of the league teams also have games for Labor day.

Religious Services.—Beginning last (Thursday) evening, services are to be held on the corresponding night of each week at the Advent chapel on Academy street. It is expected that Rev. G. A. Ferguson will be the officiating clergyman.

Rev. Denton J. Nelly will officiate at a combined R. Y. P. U. and evening service at the Baptist church Sunday night.

More than four hundred voters of Thompson gathered in the town hall in special town meeting Thursday afternoon to take action on the acceptance by the town of the Tourtelotte Memorial High school.

There has been some discussion as to whether or not the town would vote to accept the building, but the dissenters at the meeting were shown to number less than a dozen, and a standing vote to accept was almost unanimous and made with remarkable rapidity.

The vote was carried through the old town hall in the unanimity of feeling in the matter was made evident. Ex-Senator Randolph H. Chandler was chairman of the meeting.

Hammond hall, formerly the armory, will be utilized for the convention and will prove an excellent hall for this purpose, being large, convenient, well lighted and newly renovated.

The convention will be in session over Labor day and the presence of the delegates in the city will add zest and interest to the holiday.

PUTNAM FAIR. Good Weather and Fine Attractions Result in Big Attendance—Some Lively Races—Awards Already Announced.

Favored with a perfect day the Putnam fair on Thursday was a magnet that drew a big attendance from all over eastern Connecticut and commensurate in a degree for the havoc wrought by the storm of Wednesday. The crowd came early and stayed late, enjoying every minute of the glorious hours and went home satisfied with everything to be seen within the gates.

Good Races.—There were three good races on the card and these held the attention of the majority of the throng throughout the afternoon, although the wild west show and exhibition halls held the greatest interest for many more. The various very worthy exhibits were constantly under the insatiable eyes of a well-pleased audience for they found many things to hold their attention. This was particularly true in the floral section where the potted plants, ferns, palms and cut flower exhibits make up a beautiful display. The ladies' department also contains a great variety of dainty and chic examples of the needle work of the women of Windham county and many of the visitors were enthusiastic in their praise of the beautiful pieces.

Vegetable Exhibit.—While it is still somewhat early to secure the greatest variety of vegetable products the entries of the various competitors for premiums constitute a fine collection of garden products and there are some extra fine specimens in some of the collections. Considered as a whole the exhibits are very worthy.

Poultry Show.—The poultry section is better than ever this year with more entries and a greater variety of breeds and attracted much attention from poultry men.

All of Thursday afternoon there were many visitors to see the feathered tribe, but this was also true about every exhibit on the grounds. The crowd sifted through the buildings and up and down the midway where the non-silent salesmen were kept busy and punctuated the rambling with frequent visits to the track where there was something doing every minute.

Wild West Show.—Between the heats of the three speed events, running races between cowboys, cowgirls, Mericans and Indians astride the snappy little bronchos with the wild west show were run off.

These dashes down the home stretch took well with the crowd and a chariot race between two drivers from Kemp's aggregation of four teams made a hit. Driving their horses four abreast they circled the track at a grand old clip, their cheese cloth togas fluttering in the wind and when they flashed under the wire neck and neck they got a great hand from the stands.

Acrobatic Stunts.—The Japanese acrobatic troupe of ten members also gave a corking good exhibition of skill and nerve between the heats of the races and they were easily one of the best things seen at the fair.

On the Track.—It was not many minutes after two o'clock when Stiermans and Indians the state in the free-for-all on the (Continued on Page Ten.)
