Rev. F. Johns Bohanan Returns from Vacation—Church Services—Campaign Party—Girls' Friendly Society Has Outing.

Rev. F. Johns Bohanan, pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, returned Friday after his annual vacation. Regular services were resumed in the church Sunday. Rev. Mr. Bohanan preaching an inspiring sermon from the text Luke 10: 25 and 29, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life and who is my neighbor?

At the Congregational Church. In the Greenville Congregational church Sunday morning Rev. Charles H. Ricketts preached at communion service on the subject Christ Calling Us to Himself from the text, 'I am the bread of life, he that cometh to Me and drinketh, shall never thirst, and shall remain in Me, and I will remain in him, and will bring forth much fruit to the glory of the Father.'

Outing of Girls' Friendly Society. The Girls' Friendly society of St. Andrew's church had a delightful outing Saturday afternoon in Mohagan park near the lake. There were about twenty present and the time was spent in games and racing about the woods. Luncheon was served at 5.30. It was the first affair of the kind and its success insures repetition.

Birthday Party. There was a surprise given at the home of Dora Latreiere on her eighth birthday at 357 Central avenue. In one of the cakes there were four prizes: Ora Barry, five cents; Louise Barry, five cents; Michael Kirby, five cents; and Thomas Nevens, one. Those who were present were: Ora Barry, Grace and Marjorie Shea, Vetter Carter, Eva Hyde, Mary Brennan and Dora Latreiere, Felix Barry, Henry Carter, Fred Lichten, and Michael Kirby which pleased the merry crowd.

FALL TERM. St. Mary's Parochial and Greenville Grammar Schools Reopen Tuesday Morning. The summer vacation is at an end and Tuesday morning the Greenville parochial school and St. Mary's parochial school reopen their doors for the fall term of the year 1909-1910.

At all the masses Sunday in St. Mary's church Rev. James J. Smith and Rev. W. A. Keefe emphasized the need of Christian education. St. Mary's school will reopen with a mass at 8 o'clock, after which the pupils will march from the church to the school, where they will be met by the teachers to allow the children to enjoy the fall.

The following are the teachers for the year: Room 9, Sister Luis Gonzalez; room 8, Sister M. Evangelista; room 7, Sister M. Sebastian; room 6, Sister M. Andrew; room 5, Sister M. Madeline; room 4, Sister M. Amelia; room 3, Sister M. Angelina; room 2, Sister M. Esther; room 1, Sister M. Louis.

There will also be but a half day at the grammar school because of the fair. Personal. Joseph Bellefleur has returned after a few days in Boston. Arthur Campbell, Jr., is home after a week's trip through New York. Thomas Sweeney and sister Elizabeth are visiting relatives in Providence.

Arthur Campbell of Prospect street has spent the holiday in and around Boston. William Murray of Golden street will spend this week in New York city and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rothwell of Page street are spending this week with relatives in Lowell, Mass. James Hollin of Prospect street is in Boston and Lowell, Mass. and Manchester, N. H. for some days.

Miss Emma Zahn of Fourth street is at home after an enjoyable vacation trip to Hartford and Rockville. Mrs. William J. Malone of Central avenue has as her guest Miss Margaret O'Hagan of St. Albans, Mass. Carl B. Morgan begins today a week's vacation from his duties with the Norwich Belt Manufacturing company.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Rev. M. S. Kaufman Preaches Timely Sermon at Methodist Church.

At Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday morning, the pastor, Rev. M. S. Kaufman, preached on Christianity and the Labor Problem. He said in part: A question of such supreme importance as to warrant the states of this republic in setting aside legally one of its rights, are encroached upon by those who have the power. On the other hand, He would see with equal clearness the rights of wealth and approve of those who get it honestly and use it wisely. His justice to all classes and conditions of men, if dominant in our generation, would go a long way toward solving the labor problem. It cannot be questioned that very much of the progress made through the centuries in bettering the working man's condition is due to the presence of the Christ-spirit in human society. He who gave us the charming parable of the Good Samaritan; He who went about doing good to all who most needed the helping hand of kindness, demonstrated beyond cavil that He was and still is every man's truest friend who will yield to His guidance. So true Christianity, Christianity as it lay in the mind of Christ and as it is intended by Him to be practiced by His professed followers, is the firm friend of the poor and the oppressed, and put them into practice. We are told that leading labor organizations in their meetings have greeted the name of the Christian Endeavor society as a fellow sufferer, and hence one who sympathizes with them. They are coming to believe that the relations between the laborer and the capitalist are greatly improved if the principles laid down by this Master workman were heeded by both. It would be a very great gain if there could be brought about a better understanding between the church of Jesus Christ and those organizations which have as their aim the protection and prosperity of those who bear the burdens of toil. Several of the principal Protestant denominations have organized efforts to this end. Our own Methodist Federation for Social Service has in view this most desirable aim. If any church ought to be interested in this kind of work, surely ours should. It is in perfect keeping with all the history and traditions of Methodism from its origin to the present time. The Wesleyan movement in England began with a social spirit. It went to the people of all ranks and classes, and it is the protection and prosperity of those who bear the burdens of toil. A. M. E. ZION CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR. First Meeting Since Reorganization—Song Service.

The Christian Endeavor society at A. M. E. Zion church, which was recently reorganized, held its first meeting since then Sunday evening at 6.30 o'clock, presenting an excellent program. There were solos, recitations, a quartet and a short talk by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Eley. An explanation of the Endeavor's duty was given by Mrs. Eley. The song service was led by Prof. Geary, and a report of the Endeavor convention at New Haven was well given by David Hall, the delegate sent to the convention. A program is also to be given next week and a welcome is extended to all.

CAMP AT MASON'S ISLAND. Sextette Found it an Ideal Spot and Had Delightful Time.

"Home was never like this," is the statement given out by the half dozen young men who have just completed a week's camp at Mason's Island, on the southern end of the island, locally known as Nanyang, in Fishers Island Sound.

In the party were August Muller, James E. Polard, J. Murray Henry and George E. Stanton of Stonington, William D. Black of South Manchester, and Camp J. M. S. S. They went into camp Saturday afternoon, August 23, and during the week that followed found plenty to do to make things interesting for themselves as well as for other summer residents on the island. The days were crammed full of seaside diversions, crabbing, rowing, canoeing, swimming, and at night the fellows gathered round the camp fire and sang the good old songs with a vim that roused the islanders.

Muller was the chief cook, and the panache he turned out mornings were models of perfection. Toward the end of camp, however, he had a rival in Black, who came rapidly to the fore in the art culinary. The other fellows did their share of camp work, and everybody managed to have a delightful time. They will strike camp tonight.

Attached for Rent. Acting for Patrick Clifford, proprietor of Clifford's pavilion, Ocean Beach, city, Fred Lichten, of 141 Saturday, attached photographic instruments owned by Charles E. Pratt of New London, formerly of this city. The supplies attached are located at Pratt's antique gallery, Ocean Beach, and at his residence, Learned street, city. The amount of the suit for which the attachments were made is $200. The basis of the suit is the fact that Pratt owes Clifford $100 rent for the antique gallery at the beach, Pratt occupying the lower part of Clifford's cottage there.

Birthday Party. A very enjoyable birthday party was held at the home of Miss Geraldine Howard Spaulding, No. 24 York avenue, Thursday, in honor of the first anniversary of her birth. The following were present: Miss Elizabeth McConnell, Master Gilbert L. Denison, and Misses Eileen and Elizabeth O'Connor. Miss Spaulding received many handsome presents. There were refreshments consisting of cream and cake, which were served by Miss Lucille Tennant Spaulding.

At the Sheltering Arms. At the Sheltering Arms Sunday afternoon services were conducted by the Rev. C. A. Northrup, on the subject, A Well of Water Springing Into Eternal Life. The divine influences of God's grace will be for each individual, and the more we have of it, the more it will draw its source from a living Christ.

At the Methodist Episcopal church Rev. Jerome Greer preached a short sermon on the text, and now behold I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there. This was followed by a communion service.

Return from Exposition.

Mrs. George G. Grant of Providence street and her mother, Mrs. Herbert Watson, of Pautpaug Hill, Sprague, have returned after visiting the Alaska-Pacific-Yukon exposition at Seattle, Wash. They left Norwich July 6. Mrs. Grant was also the guest of her brother, Major Gilbranson, who runs the Pacific Elevator works at Tacoma. Returning, Mrs. Grant and her mother stopped at Niagara Falls. They were met in New York by Mr. Grant and returned home Saturday night.

Fourteenth Banquet of St. Louis Society. The fourteenth annual banquet of the St. Louis society was held in their hall Saturday evening with fully 200 members and guests present. After a well rendered concert by the National band, President Napoleon Beausoleil extended a cordial welcome to all. At 8.30 was held the grand march, led by J. B. Larose and his daughter. Miss Beausoleil. Dances followed until midnight, when after a supper speeches were made by P. A. Beausoleil and Adelard Martin and songs were rendered by Mr. Beausoleil, accompanied by Mrs. Beausoleil, John Thève, accompanied by T. Prégau, John Beausoleil, Wilfrid Levesque, William Chaput and Napoleon Tatro. Among the guests present was President Isidore Boucher, representing the St. Jean Baptiste society.

Monthly Meetings. One new member was admitted, bringing the total up to 236 at the monthly meeting of the St. Jean Baptiste society in Parish hall Sunday afternoon, President Isidore Boucher presiding. Two hundred and thirty-five dollars was paid as insurance of Antoine Lambert of New Bedford.

Death of Seven Months' Old Daughter. Elidore Teller, the seven months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Omer Teller, of Norwich avenue, died Friday night. The funeral was on Saturday afternoon, with services at the Sacred Heart church at 2 o'clock. Burial was in the Sacred Heart cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Teller have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

Local Mention. Henry Fontaine was in Meriden on Sunday. Andrew Tolland of Boston is visiting his uncle, Daniel McSheffery, of South A. street. Charles McSheffery of Providence is the guest over Labor day of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McSheffery. In the Sacred Heart church Sunday morning it was announced that another parish fair might possibly be held in October.

Mrs. William Blanchette of Norwich avenue, who has been seriously ill since Thursday, is reported to be slightly improving. Mr. and Mrs. Amede Lacroix of Attleboro, Mass., were the guests of Napoleon Beausoleil of Front street and Eulid Bourgeois of St. Louis society.

Principal F. J. Werking of the Wagoner school, with Mrs. Werking and family, have returned after spending the summer at Waterbury, Southport and Harrison, N. Y. The T. A. C.'s, with Sam Hague in the box and Robert Pilling catching, walloped the Baltic Tigers Saturday afternoon, 14-4. Only in the fourth inning did the Baltics score.

Local people commented on the fine appearance of the cattle of A. P. Read of Lisbon, the well known breeder of Jersey, which passed along Norwich avenue late Sunday afternoon on their way to the fair grounds. George Walte, in charge of the construction at the new weave shed, left Saturday night for New Britain. Labor day will be a holiday and work will not be resumed by the building force until Tuesday morning.

Misses Annie and Bortha Muller, accompanied by their father, Herman Muller, of Merchants' avenue, left Friday night for Syracuse, N. Y., where the two girls, who are teachers, will enter Franklin school for probably two years. Mr. Muller will return today.

The fact was mentioned Sunday that it was just a year ago, on Sept. 6, 1908, that the Sacred Heart parochial school was burned, together with P. E. Hendrick's houses. Since that time many noteworthy changes have taken place in the village.

Will Play for President's Cup. The green committee of the Norwich club, M. E. Jensen, chairman, has arranged for a Labor day golf tournament to last all day with handicap medal play for the president's cup. This is now held by John D. Moulton, who has twice won it this year, first on Memorial day and then on July 3.

Chelsea Boat House Decorated. The Chelsea boat club house has been decorated for Labor day, with hunting and lanterns. Janitor Geary, who did the work, has shown his skill in the attractive arrangement.
