Kane of Newburgh, N. Y., and two sisters, Mrs. Harriet A. Winsor of Willimantic and Mrs. Stiles L. Smith of Stratford.

MUMMIFIED BODY FOUND In Attic of Clark House at Columbia—Been There Since 1900.

Columbia is excited over the discovery of the dead body of a baby in the attic of a house that has been inhabited up to within a week, known as the Charles Clark place, situated about one-half mile southeast of Columbia lake, on a cross road. William Marshall, a New Yorker, recently purchased the house. Wednesday afternoon he thought he would go over the place and look around and clean up a bit. During his rambles about the old farm house he went to the attic and there in a closet was an apparently new satchel. After much difficulty he opened it and took from it a common shoe box. Upon opening the box he saw a bundle of old papers and unwrapping them found the dead body of a baby. It was pretty well dried up and indicated that it had been in the box for some time. There was no great odor and the body appeared to be the form of a premature child.

Marshall notified First Selectman L. E. Winter, who notified Medical Examiner Pendleton of Hebron, but was unable to get him, so he called in Medical Examiner William L. Higgins of South Coventry. He examined the body and gave his opinion that the body was that of seven months child. Medical Examiner Higgins notified Coroner Robert H. Plisk of Stratford, but was unable to get with him up to a late hour Thursday afternoon.

First Selectman Winter has the body in charge, pending further investigation of the case.

The house where the satchel was found has been occupied for some ten or a dozen years by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark, an aged couple, and a sort of a niece, who has been keeping house for them and taking care of Mr. Clark, who has been in failing health for some time and about a week ago was committed to Brewster's Neck hospital at Norwich. Mrs. T. R. Parker and C. E. Simonds of this city examined him about three weeks ago. Mrs. Clark, when the family broke up about a week ago, went to the home of Emil Hennequin, a neighbor, who lives close by on the same cross-road, to stay a few days, but expected to go shortly to New Britain to make her home in New Britain.

The girl in the case is supposed to be Flossie Edgerton, daughter of an adroit doctor and Mrs. Clark. Her parents died about a score of years ago. She has led such a life at times that Mr. Clark would not tolerate her presence in the household and frequently had to order her from the house. During the time that she had been living there with her grandparents, when they would permit her. A resident of the town stated on Thursday afternoon that for a number of years she had run a house, that was a disgrace to any town, although the old couple were in no wise to blame.

A few years since Miss Edgerton went to New Jersey and Shelton, but for a time, but came back. A few years ago she lived with a man in this city for a while. She has not been seen since the family broke up and no trace of her whereabouts can be found. Mr. Marshall makes the statement that Flossie told him: "You may find a gold mine in the attic."

The papers found wrapped about the body were those of Derby, Shelton, and a New Haven publication and bore the date of 1900. The satchel bore the name of a dealer in Birmingham. Mrs. Clark said that she knew absolutely nothing about the case, but intimated that she was of the opinion that Flossie could throw some light upon the affair. It is the belief that the body has been hid all these years in the attic, the papers found tending to prove the fact.

Kicked in Forehead by Horse.

Henry Dupless, who lives just off the South Windham road, was cleaning off a horse in his stable Thursday morning, when the animal kicked him in the forehead. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital and after an examination, Dr. John Welden pronounced the injuries not serious.

Squabble Over Cement.

Contractor Langford commenced to tear up Main street Thursday morning to get same in readiness for paving the street. The central portion of the city was badly cut up, but a place for a time and unusually so when Chairman Gellins of the standing committee on streets started to tell the contractor a few things about the kind of cement that should be used. The alderman thought that Atlas cement should be used, and the contractor had bargained for Edison, which is a standard cement and it had already arrived in a large quantity. The argument became somewhat heated until the contractor told the alderman very forcibly what he could do. Cement has advanced 15 cents since Mr. Langford placed his order and to change now would be very disadvantageous to him.

Two Men Since Afraid at Christmas Located in Derby and Ansonia.

The stabbing affray and assault case that caused so much excitement in the lower village Dec. 25, 1907, when five men were badly cut up, bids fair to be cleared up. There were seven men implicated, the five that were stabbed and two others, who made their escape. The five were brought before court but were discharged for lack of evidence. The police have been on the watch ever since for the two who escaped and Thursday Captain Richmond brought them back to this city from Derby. One was taken in Ansonia and the other in Derby. Information forwarded by the local authorities. The man now in the police station are Wasyi Dzwonezyk, who was found in Ansonia with his wife and little girl, and Kodrat Gran, who was caught in Derby. The former has been to the old country and returned about four months ago, and the other has been kind in Jersey. One of the fellows has a bank account totalling some $500 and the other is also said to have a good wad. Dzwonezyk's wife went out and endeavored in vain to obtain bail for her husband, and both will be given a preliminary hearing in police court.

this morning. Several witnesses of the Christmas racket are in town and will be summoned and it is generally believed that the case will be cleaned up in good shape.

Lebanon-Hebron Double Header.

Arrangements are being made for a double header on Windham field Saturday afternoon between Hebron and Lebanon. Jack Nichols and Arthur T. Kelley will be the battery for the Wablopers in one game and probably Manly will throw them over in the other contest. Lebanon will be strong with the Pultz brothers and a Smith or two. Hebronites are planning to come out in bunches, and Lebanon, since their win over the West Ends last Saturday, have acquired a bump and will also be well represented with a big contingent of rooters.

Arthur T. Kelley Going to Cushing Academy.

Arthur T. Kelley, Windham High's best athlete in years, is planning to enter Cushing academy at Ashburnham, Mass., late this fall and will there finish his preparation for Dartmouth college. Kelley is the best amateur pitcher in eastern Connecticut and a left hander and is a crack basketball expert, being one of the mainstays of Windham's great five for the past four years. He is a good football player and could easily make an end or half-back on a college eleven should he make the effort. His pitching stunts have been the marvel of the times in this vicinity for miles around and Cushing can count herself very fortunate in securing such a worthy successor to her premier athlete, Flaherty, who pitched her to victory so often.

Attractions for the Fair.

Weather favoring, the Willimantic fair will be the best in history. The speed horses are arriving earlier than ever this season. A carload came in Thursday morning and nine in the evening, five from Worcester, Mass., and four from New York, among which are some of the really fast stoppers of the eastern circuits. Another race has been added to the list, making six in all, as follows: 2:15 pace or trot, 2:22 pace or trot, 2:30 pace (stake), trot to all, pace or trot, 2:25 trot (stake), 2:25 (stake). The local association has decided to hang up a purse for a local race that will start on the evening of the racing card. The race will be some day of the fair to be decided later. T. R. Sadd, owner of Billiken; Louis N. Dondoro, owner of Donnybrook, and M. H. Jones have signified their intention to enter. Other horses in the race, and James Brown, owner of Robert S., John Curran, owner of County Beater, and others will in all probability also enter their horses. Secretary Frank P. Fenton stated that the committee was in communication with a balloon owner and that it was the management's intention to have an ascension each day of the fair.

Automobile Club Has Membership of Eighty.

The Willimantic Automobile club entered 50 new members upon its books at its last meeting, making a total membership of eighty. The year started with twenty-seven members, Samuel Chesbro and F. H. Elmore were appointed a committee to arrange for a fall outing for the club. The roads committee has eight large double cross roads signs that are to be erected in prominent places about town and will be of great help to tourists.

Everything was a Three.

George L. Nevins, a prosperous retail drug merchant of Jersey Shore, Pa., is spending a few days in Philadelphia on the way home from Atlantic City. He seems to have been pursued by a "No. 2 hoodoo" since he left home. So many times did the figure "3" bob up in the course of his vacation trip that Nevins could not help taking notice. Leaving home, he traveled in Pullman 103. The train was drawn by engine 223. The room to which he was assigned in a Philadelphia hotel was 23. The next day he went to Atlantic City in car 63. His hotel room at the resort was 142. Sunday he went to a ball game and his rain check was 332. He returned to Philadelphia on the same car that carried him to the resort—63. At the hotel here he was assigned to room No. 13. That was the last "straw. Nevins kicked on the real "hoodoo" number. He is not exactly superstitious, but says he has had enough threes for a while. He had a good time, however.
