SMITH'S WITCH HAZEL JELLY

It is, in our opinion, not surpassed by any other similar toilet preparation on the market. It is absolutely free from all substances that could in any way harm the most delicate skin. It is perfectly pure. It is delightful to use. It is quickly absorbed and very beneficial to the skin tissues.

It is not sticky or greasy. Gloves can be worn immediately after applying it to the hands. It can be rubbed on the face before going out-doors and will not make the skin look shiny or greasy nor soil the veil or other fine fabrics. It is exceedingly cooling, soothing and healing for all dry, chapped or rough conditions of the skin.

We recommend it to you with full confidence that it will be entirely satisfactory to you.

FOUND DEAD NEAR HALLVILLE

John Main of Ledyard Had Fallen Off of Wagon Seat and Neck was Broken—Horse was Going Home in Highway when Discovered.

With a broken neck and lying in the bottom of his wagon, the wheel bumped against his head and shoulder, John Main of Rose Hill, Ledyard, was found dead about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night in Hallville, near the old ice house, half way between the Hallville station and the mill here.

Just where the accident happened is not known, as the horse was walking along when the gruesome find was made by A. Buehse, who is employed in the mill here, and who was walking up from the Hallville station. Seeing the horse going along with no one driving, he considered it peculiar, and stopped the horse, whereupon he found the body of Mr. Main in the wagon and an investigation indicated that he was dead. From the home of W. T. Whitmarsh in Hallville Captain Linton was called and he advised notifying the medical examiner, Dr. Harris, as well as taking the man out from his position if he was alive.

Dr. Harris, when notified of the facts, ordered the wheel taken off so that the body could be gotten out, which was done, but the medical examiner, Dr. Harris, responded at once, and learned all the details of the affair, which could be obtained.

He stated that the man had evidently been drinking and fell from his seat, his head striking between the wheel and shaft, where his neck was broken. The back of his head was bruised by the continued bumping of the wheel, and his back and shoulder were also torn. It is believed that he had been to this city and was on his way home, the horse having continued on homeward after Mr. Main fell and was killed. He was in a buggy.

Medical Examiner Harris gave Henry Allen & Son permission to remove the body, and the family of the deceased was notified. He was about 35 years of age and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Main of Ledyard, by whom he is survived, together with two children. His wife is dead. He also leaves a brother and two sisters.

The affair caused much excitement in Hallville, and many were attracted by the finding of the body. Whether Mr. Main was alone during his ride into Hallville is not known, but it is supposed he was, as no one had reported the accident, and had not Mr. Buehse discovered the body when he spied the team going along driverless, it is probable that the horse would have continued on home with the body.

At 11:45 o'clock Wednesday night as the watchman of the building, Reuben Lord has an office in New London, was looking about the hallway he spied the office door open, and upon investigation found Mr. Lord dead upon the floor. He went to his office about 7 o'clock on his way to attend Mohogan lodge, and it is believed he was stricken while reaching for his hat, which was hung in a small ante-room. Acting Medical Examiner Heyes gave the cause of death as cardiac failure.

HANDSOME ROSES

Grown in New Addition to Mrs. Lanman's Greenhouses by Gardener Beasley.

For almost a week now the new rose house which Mrs. William C. Lanman built last spring as an addition to the greenhouses at her Washington street residence, has been producing its first crop of choice blooms to reward the expert care of Gardener Charles T. Beasley, and making an individual rose show of which any gardener may be proud. The daily pickings average from 100 to 125 of these lovely flowers, each as perfect as the most careful nurture and every available care can make it.

Mr. Beasley has devoted his attention especially to a few new varieties with which he stocked his house, the pink My Maryland, the pink and the white Killarney. My Maryland, and Ideal pink rose, and Killarney, both pink and white, nearly as fine as the first named variety. His 250 plants arranged to the best advantage on four benches of varying height are the pictures of thrift and vigor, witnesses to the expert care that has been bestowed upon them with such fine results. With Mr. Beasley the pink rose, My Maryland, is an especial favorite, for its prolific flowering, as every shoot produces a bud.

This abundance of these queenly flowers is almost entirely enjoyed by others than the owner, as Mrs. Lanman sends large quantities of them to the hospital, to the Halle club Open House, and to other places and friends.

Roses are not the only things which Gardener Beasley displays with pride, as he has a new variety of dahlia, the peony type which he is counting on as establishing for a new variety, and all around his greenhouses he has chrysanthemums for the fall, begonias for the winter, and lilacs for the season of Christmas to Easter, with countless other varieties of plants.

One interesting spot is the cellar, where he has two mushroom beds planted with American and English spawn, and also a sprouting place for a big collection of Japanese and Formosa lilies.

Putting in Compressed Air. Workmen are engaged in laying a compressed air pipe into the city hall building where the air will be used for the purpose of cleaning out the heaters.
