Opening of Football Season.

Saturday afternoon the first football game of the season will also be played on Windham field, the contending eleven being those representing the Norwich Free Academy and the Windham High school. Coach Dudley and Captain Richmond have not fully decided what lineup will start the game, as a number of the positions are in doubt. Probably all the most promising candidates for the eleven will be given a tryout against the Norwich bunch. The Academy has a good fast aggregation and may be counted upon to give a good account of itself. The lineup will be picked after today's practice.

Must Dwell in Soft Places. The thrush catches such worms as rashly show themselves above ground; but an ancient ancestor of the snipe found that, if it followed them into marshy lands, it could probe the soft ground and drag them out of their chambers. For this operation it has now a bill three inches long, straight, thin and sensitive at the tip, a beautiful instrument, but good for no purpose except extracting worms from soft ground. If frost or drought hardens the ground, the snipe must starve or travel.—Strand Magazine.

STAFFORD SPRINGS FAIR. Thursday a Big Day—Track in Prime Condition—Interesting Exhibits and Excellent Entertainment.

Thursday was the big day of the fair. The mills, schools, stores and all places of business were closed for the day and a constant stream of people poured through the gates from early morning until late in the afternoon. Special excursion trains were run on the central Vermont road and brought hundreds of people from up and down the state. A fifteen minute schedule was maintained by the trolley from the center to the grounds, and half-hour service from Rockville and Hartford. Every car was jammed and even then many were obliged to walk.

Fine Cattle. It was cattle day and the stock began to put in appearance at day-break. The spaces allotted to them were on the west side of the park. Some handsome specimens of Jerseys, Devons, Durhams, Ayrshires and Holsteins were to be seen, together with town teams, and draft oxen, tested on drag and cart.

Judge from Storrs. Prof. J. M. Trueman of the Connecticut agricultural college began the work of judging the blooded stock at 11 o'clock. The judges for the town teams, draft oxen and trained cattle were, A. Aborn, and William L. Williams, E. Battye of Willington and L. J. Crandall of Tolland.

Sheep, Goats and Swine. The exhibition of sheep, goats and swine was under the direction of Jarvis Hatch, and was notably larger and of a high grade of excellence. The judges in this department were Myron P. Avery, Stafford; E. L. Dimock, Stafford, and L. Hanson, Tolland.

Industrial Art Department. In the middle section of the main hall there is an unusually large and varied exhibit of industrial art, consisting of fine needlework, crocheting, knitting, sofa pillows, fancy silk quilts, dollies, shawls, etc. A very noticeable exhibit in this department is that of hammered brass by Emma Gary, the workmanship is excellent and the number and variety of articles large and interesting.

Farm Produce. At the north end of the main hall is the exhibit of farm and garden produce. Here Oliver K. Driggs of Vernon has on exhibition two mammoth squash grown from one seed, and having a combined weight of 170 pounds. L. E. Dimock has on exhibition some fine specimens of large cabbage. Other large exhibitors in this department are the Connecticut agricultural college, Seth Scofield and Edwin Baker of Woodland farm.

Repeated Drills and Fancy Drumming. The Father Mathew drum corps of Springfield repeated their exhibition of drilling and fancy drumming, on the track in front of the grand stand and were well received.

Mariotti's Speeding Stunt. A feature of this year's fair was Fred H. Mariotti's champion automobile driver of the world. Mr. Mariotti drove a mile on a straightaway course at Ormond beach in 23 1/2 seconds. He gave his exhibition Thursday in a steam car and will repeat his performance today.

High Standard Vaudeville. The managers of the vaudeville show have secured a fine list of attractions which were put on between the heats of the races. The show well received and was accorded a generous amount of applause. Two acts which stood out above the others was that of the Comaliss, a sextette of acrobats in a thrilling performance of seemingly impossible feats, and the Lee brothers and Allen, one man and two women, in a singing and dancing act. The execution of the act which evoked favorable comment from all present.

Along the Midway. The Midway was much longer on Thursday by reason of many new shows and attractions, which put up their tents early in the day and did a thriving business right up to the closing hours of the fair.

Two races were down on the card for the day. The track was in perfect condition and good time was made.

Family and the Meals. Meals should be something more than the consumption of food. All work stops at those times and people meet together. Nothing that can be done should be omitted to make it an occasion of agreeable interchange of thought and conversation, and when this is done not only the body, but the mind and nerves are refreshed.

Tragic. In being a success there is no pleasure if a man does not look the part. Prof. Frawley, one of Newark's most celebrated scientists, was out walking recently when a flashy stranger said to him: "How often do the Montclair cars pass here, me boy?"—Newark (N. J.) News.

Impatience. How weak we think, others are to show impatience! It is so clear to us that impatience in others is a foolish waste of vital force, since it cannot possibly do any good, since we are impatient ourselves, and learn nothing from the folly of others.—Athenian (Kan.) Globe.

For Convalescents. Little invalids who are on the high-road to recovery, but not yet out of bed, are sometimes difficult to amuse. Try putting a looking-glass where it will reflect outside objects—so that the little one can see them. It often proves a most fascinating amusement.
