BROADWAY THEATER. The Servant in the House. The Servant in the House, which will be seen here on Saturday, Oct. 9, at the Broadway theater, began its remarkable career in Washington City on the morning after the premiere at the Washington Post said: Henry Miller forced himself into the first rank of American producing managers...

BREED THEATER. The Stamped, Thrilling 101 Ranch Motion Picture. As a headliner for the balance of the week, Manager McNulty has secured the great western picture entitled "The Stamped." The picture is a western and surprising scenes depicting western life. It has few equals, the scenes being laid on an Oklahoma cattle ranch. The picture has some of the best scenes ever shown on a stage. The picture has two admirers, but as is customary, favors one more than the other. The slighted admirer sees the picture with a different eye than his rival, and decides upon stopping them to the extent of killing him in a way quite out of the ordinary. The favored admirer has gone out upon plains to care for the herd of cattle, several thousand in number, and the rival sees the opportunity, and knowing the sense with which a herd of the plains can be stampeded, loses no time, and gives the pistol shots and yells, sending the maddened animals stampeding across the plains. The favored admirer has gone out upon a good range, directly in the line of the stampede. The lover grasps the pony of the ranchman's daughter, and the pair jump upon it, riding like the wind ahead of the stampede, and are saved. The thrill of this great picture remains with one long after the picture has been seen. A wonderful auto picture is also shown, with one of the greatest climaxes ever seen.

FREE TO THE CAPTURED A New Home Cure That Anyone Can Use Without Operation, Pain, Danger or Loss of Time. I have a new method that cures rupture and hernia. I want you to use it at my expense. I am not trying to sell you a Truss, but offer you a cure that stays cured and is free of danger of strangulation forever. No matter whether you have a single, double or triple rupture or are following an operation, my method is an absolute cure. No matter what your age, sex, how long your work, my method will certainly cure you. I especially want to send it free to those apparently hopeless cases where all forms of truss, treatment and operations have failed. I want to show everyone at my own expense, that my method will end all rupture and hernia troubles for all time. This means better health, increased physical ability and longer life. Write free offer to me today. I will send you a complete set of instructions and begin your cure at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below: Do it to-day.

COETRY. "COMMON PROPERTY." Let misers hoard their shining dust, And wondering gaze at all they see; Let lords demand, if it must, Make man default a fellow-man. There are some treasures all must have, The title deed, by Heaven's decree, Makes every man a lawful heir, To partner in the company. The golden sun pours down his beams, To warm and cheer the rich and poor; To humble swain and lordly king, He makes his benefits secure. The cheerful light that makes the day, Shines not alone on princely domes; But cheers the laborer of the field, And radiates their humble homes. The rain that falls so gently down, From heaven no martial tribute brings; But far as human kind are known, It comes with gladness on its wings. The air we breathe, so sweet and pure, So careful and so reviving, To reach to every man secure, By chartered right God's own giving. The precious boon of sights and sounds To every eye and ear is free; When misty through the air resounds, All may enjoy the music of the sea. The earth arrayed in mantling green, The sky outspread in azure blue, By all of every rank are seen, Of every different shade and hue. The blush of morn, the golden cloud, The purple of the eve, the stars, With smiling beauties are endowed, And all are common property. And over all, and nobler still, The world's untold treasures of the mind, Not only God's, but man's, are given, But are as broad as human kind. Let grasping avarice do its worst, And closely hug its ill-got gain; Pursue their base, inglorious aims— There still is wealth in boundless store, Where all alike may press their suit; For God's gifts are not to be hoarded, And none its title dare dispute. J. W. E. CLEAR SAYINGS. Knicker—Can a couple live on bread and cheese and kases? Hooker—They can, provided the kases are home-made and the bread isn't—Judge. Will someone help me, for I've tried My utmost to investigate That most mysterious limbo where "The summer waters liberate?"—New York Sun. "Why do they call it this sweet land of liberty? I can understand the liberty part, but why sweet?" "Well, we have our forest preserves, and also our subway jam."—Pittsburg Post. Mrs. Brown (to the new maid)—Well, Nora, I hope we shall get along very well. I am not at all difficult to please. Nora—No, ma'am, that's just what I thought the very minute I set eyes on the master.—Sketch. "Politeness costs nothing," said the man who quotes proverb. "You are wrong again," answered Mr. Sirius Barker. "You have evidently not figured how much it costs to persuade a New York waiter to look pleasant and say 'Thank you.'"—Washington Star. "We are told, Tommy," said the Sunday school teacher, "that we should love our neighbors." "Now, who is your neighbor, Tommy?" "Well, my Tucker merely blushed, hung his head and said nothing. He didn't want to tell the little girl's name."—Chicago Tribune. Willy—You see, it was this way. They were all three so dead in love with her, and all so eligible, that to settle the matter they agreed to marry the one who could guess the nearest to her age. Arthur—And did she? Willy—I don't know. I know that she married the one who guessed the lowest.—Life. Pat was being shown the sights of America. His Yankee guide, after showing him numerous wonders, brought him to a statue of Washington. "I guess," he said, "there's a man, and a lie never passed through his lips." "No," said Pat, "I expect his words were cast off through his nose."—Pearson's Weekly. Western Relative—Well, Wendell, what was the score today? Little Boston. "No," said Pat, "I expect his words were cast off through his nose."—Pearson's Weekly. The woman of the future was about to leave town, and her husband placed his arms around her neck and kissed her. "Darling, light of my life," he whispered softly, "I love you more than words can tell. You know, do you, eh?" she responded, suspiciously. "Well, what is it now, Henry, a new silk hat or a pair of trousers?"—Success Magazine. MUCH IN LITTLE Trees bearing sour oranges have grown wild along Florida swamps for hundreds of years. The Swedish government is seriously considering the establishment of a tobacco monopoly. In the state of Washington 27 per cent of the area is still in forest. The greater extent being of forestry reserves. The south, with 27 per cent of the total area of the United States, contains about 42 per cent of the total forest area of the country. Filipino prisoners in Bilbid, both men and women, are now allowed a certain number of cigarettes a day at government expense. Seven 22-ton locomotives, each 25 tons heavier than the largest built in the world, are being completed in Philadelphia for the Harriman lines. Rhode Island received its name from what was supposed to be a resemblance to the island of Rhodes in the Mediterranean. Platinum, used extensively in electrical work, is only mined in California and Oregon in this country, the former supplying 46 per cent of the American product. The German toy output for 1937 is estimated at $25,000,000 of which $22,000,000 was exported, and of that total the United States and Great Britain took more than half. New York having put a damper on the noise nuisance, now comes a wall from far off Los Angeles, where those who live on the unbragous south side complain of the noise made by migrating birds, singing in the magnolia trees in the vicinity in the morning. Among the latest activities of awakening things is to be a service of notes to continue to the island of Rhodes in the Mediterranean. The service will repeat the desert between Urea and Kalgan, which will shortly be connected with Feling by rail. The thermal waters of Hot Springs, Ark., are to be tested in an effort to find a cure for the disease of pellagra. Two subjects, one case fully developed, and another in the incipient stage, have been brought to the place from Mississippi for treatment and observation.
