

How I Took the Hair Off My Face

The Same, Sure Remedy Which Cured Me, Will Be Sent You FREE. It Will Not Burn or Injure the Skin.

Don't Use a Razor. There was a time when I could hardly bear to look at myself in the mirror.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

I don't care whether it's just a few stray hairs or a full bed of bristles, but a woman's face will spoil her beauty. That's all there is to that.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL.

(Two rather mature young women are seated together on one side of the street car. Opposite them is a well-dressed, plump, amiable-looking, rather beaming man.)

First Young Woman—"Is my hat on straight, Grace? That man over there keeps looking at me in such a strange way."

Second Young Woman—"Oh, yes, you look all right. Probably he is tracing a resemblance to a long-lost sister-in-law or wondering what sort of animal you were when in some previous state of existence."

First Young Woman—"Well, I wish he wouldn't do it. He's making me desperately uncomfortable. Haven't I a speck of soot on the side of my nose?"

Second Young Woman—"No, you haven't. Do you get your mind off the man? It's only a question of mental attitude. Now, I want your opinion as to whether you think my gray dress would look better with little touches of white or very pale pink. You see, I've got to make up my mind if I get a light thing like—"

First Young Woman—"Why, yes, certainly, I think that would be the best way to trim it. I always did like pink and white."

Second Young Woman—"But this is gray, and what I want to get your opinion on is whether I'd better pipe it with white or make folds of the cloth and lay them over."

First Young Woman—"That would be lovely. I hope you will make up your mind to do that way. Grace, I'm afraid I'm simply glaring big eyes at you. Could you lean over just a little and see if my shoestring is untied and lay them over my skirt is coming off?"

Second Young Woman—"Yes, I'll do it in a minute. You just pretend to be examining these samples as they come down in an airy, unconscious way."

First young woman takes samples and pretends to be looking at them and second young woman gradually leans forward and reports in a low tone.

Second Young Woman—"No, there's nothing wrong that I can see. He's just a goose. Don't let him bother you."

First Young Woman (herocally)—"Well, I'll try. Now, what was it you were saying about your new hat? You said you were going to have a light-blue one, didn't you?"

Second Young Woman—"No, I did not. I was talking about my new young. I've just got to have something to wear to the Singleton's reception, but I hate to get anything that will do only for a reception dress. I go to so few places, you know, that anything like that would be a perfectly sinful waste of money, so I thought I'd got this gray—it isn't so very light, you know, and trimmed it with something darker, or perhaps lighter—but then I don't look well in gray, anyway."

Another Hiccup. George C. Higgen, of Albany is evidently the brother of his brother, Thomas L. Higgen of West Springfield. The Albany Higgen has put himself in a way to be nominated for mayor of the city of the Hudson by his democrats, with the backing of an "independent movement."

PERSONS TALKED ABOUT

Andrew Lang ventures the prophecy that Poe and Hawthorne will be more lively in 2009 than any living novelist in 1909.

Benjamin H. Eaton, former governor of Colorado and father of the irrigation system in the southwest, died at Los Angeles.

The celebrated Duchess of Palmella, grand mistress of the court to Queen Amelia, whose intimate friend she was, has died of heart disease at Cintra.

Prof. Thomas Jamieson of Aberdeen is making himself very annoying to orthodox science by insisting that plants take their nitrogen from leaves and not from roots.

After thirteen years with the associated charities of St. Paul, Miss Hanson left last week to accept a call to assistant general secretary of the associated charities of Pittsburgh.

Professor Turner of the Catholic university in Washington has been invited to the chair of philosophy in the newly established Catholic university of Ireland, but declined to leave his present post.

Miss Sophie Jewett, assistant professor of English literature in Wellesley college and connected with the college for nearly twenty years, died in Buffalo, N. Y. She was born at Moravia, N. Y., on June 3, 1861.

Mrs. Sophia Lichtenfeld, who eked out a living by taking in washings, contributed $60 to the annual convention of the Christian Missionary alliance which was held at the Gospel tabernacle in New York.

The London Standard understands that Sir Charles Rivers Wilson is about to resign from the presidency of the Grand Trunk railway of Canada. He is 75 years of age and has been president of the line since 1895.

Mme. Lillian Blauvelt, formerly conspicuous as a singer, who is the only woman in the world to have received the coveted Order of St. Cecilia, is undertaking religious instruction for reception into the Roman Catholic church.

New York, East Side is mourning the death of Dr. Albe Albert, who was self-sacrificing and generous enough to have sat for the model of James Ophem's admirable "hero-doctor" set forth in his new book, "Dr. Rat."

Miss Margaret W. Bartlett and Miss Louise L. Bartlett of Hartford, Conn. have left for China, where they will become teachers in the family of Liang Tun Yen, acting president of the Chinese bureau of foreign affairs.

Gorham David Gilman, ex-United States consul to Hawaii, master Mason and for many years a well-known druggist of Boston, died at his home in Newton of heart failure in his 85th year.

It cost William P. Loeffler of the Third ward in Waterbury $40.04 to be elected chairman of the republican ticket, and he didn't contribute to the republican campaign fund, either, according to his statement filed with the town clerk.

"Uncle" Henry Hobbs of Wrentham, Boston, at the age of 84 years, has been nominated by the democrats for the fifth Essex district to lead the fight against former Representative William H. Gove of Salem for a seat in the governor's council.

PERSONS TALKED ABOUT

J. He had been ill only a few days with pneumonia.

Hung Lo, a Chinese sailor on the British steamship Strathearn, from Taitai, China, attempted suicide on the vessel by swallowing unloading nitrate soda for the Dupont Powder company at Wilmington, Del.

Miss Helen Gould has given $150,000 to the American college for girls at Constantinople. The college is about to move from Sentari to the European side of the Bosphorus.

Dr. William H. Tolman, director of the museum of safety and sanitation of New York city, delivered an illustrated lecture in the Chamber of Commerce at New Haven recently. Dr. Tolman advocates the erection of an institution for the care of injured workmen.

At the regular monthly meeting of the New Haven Grays the other night Capt. Edward L. Fox announced the intention of resigning as captain of the company, the resignation to take effect next month, when he will have completed his 15 years' service with the company.

For the fourth time the Very Rev. Lawrence L. Kearney, V. G. of Zanesville, O., has been elected provincial of the Dominican Order in the United States. The election was held every four years. The provincial chapter met in Washington at Father Kearney was elected unanimously.

The German stage has lost one of its brilliant actresses in Wilhelmina Wittfurzer, who was one of the lights of the Hofburg theatre, after her death a few days ago. Frau Wittfurzer was born in 1848 in Prussia and made her debut in 1867.

Prof. C. K. Leith of the department of geology and mineralogy at the University of Wisconsin, who is at the head of a party investigating rock formations near Hudson Bay, and supposed to be working in the interest of the Canadian government in a search for ore, is believed to be lost in the wilds.

Mrs. Blanche E. Hyde of Newton, Mass., has been elected head of the department of household economics in the new college of domestic science at Newton. She recently completed a four-year course in Teachers' college, New York, and since then has been associated with the vacation schools in Newton.

Miss Ivy E. Woodward, M. D., has been admitted to full membership in the Royal College of Physicians of London. It is the first time in its history that this body has conferred the degree on a woman.

A woman has just been made a judge in Denmark and the Danish women are boasting that it is the first time in the history of the world that a woman has been given to a state. The suffragists of the United States reply by pointing to Mrs. Esther Morris of Wyoming, Mrs. Mary Walker, Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Mrs. Mary Cooper of Kansas.

Mark Twain said at the wedding of his daughter, "Rev. Joseph H. Twichell of Hartford, the officiating clergyman, is a friend of mine of 42 years' standing. I was a member of his church and he is 33 years ago. Mrs. Crane (sister of Mrs. Clemens), who is present now, was present then. Mrs. John E. Prescott, a schoolmate of my wife, is present now. I had only one tooth and preferred a nursing bottle to the constitution of the infant. She is a mother in Israel now—but this is merely figurative—she really lives in Brooklyn. Mrs. Crane and I have been comrades 41 years and our ages are both the same. Enter the good man for him to be on his drive, but he asked them for a few minutes more, again speaking of me as an old sweetheart."

PERSONS TALKED ABOUT

Some one recently asked Harold Bindon, the English novelist, about his literary acquaintances. "I have none," he said. "My associates in England are mostly postmen. One finds them so much more interesting."

Ben Davies, the Welsh tenor, now that he is 51 years old, concluded that it was high time for him to sing in vaudeville, so he made his first appearance in a music hall September 27, in the Palace theater, London.

Judge Oscar M. Welborn of Princeton, who has been on the circuit bench in Indiana 36 years, and who is in point of service the oldest jurist in the state, will retire October 26 and will be succeeded by Judge Herdis Clements of Mount Vernon.

O. Henry has gone south in search of health. He has had a year of such productivity that it is not surprising he needs a vacation. Besides his short stories, he has collaborated on the book of a comic opera which is now on the road, and he has finished his first play.

Miss Alice M. Bowen of Detroit and a number of professional nurses that city are contemplating erecting two houses at Put-in-Bay which will accommodate some nurses where they may go at all seasons and enjoy their vacations. Indigent nurses will also be taken care if the plans are carried out.

Everett E. Stone has resigned as chief engineer of the Boston & Albany railroad. He will remain in office until his successor is appointed, and will then take rest and recreation in a trip west with Mrs. Stone. The reason assigned for the resignation is that Mr. Stone is to engage in private business in Springfield, Mass.

The Turkish bath as known in the west differs materially from the Turkish bath as used in the east. According to F. C. A. F. A. F., wanderer and mighty hunter, the difference lies in the fact that at home the bath is visited only by men who wear broadcloth, whereas in Damascus almost the poorest are able to frequent it.

Harry Whitney, in an interview recently stated that he would leave New Haven for New York immediately in order to look after the skins and furs which were sent there direct from the far north. Mr. Whitney stated that he would probably be busy there for several days and would wait the arrival of a ship from Newfoundland in the hope of his spoils from the Arctic regions.

Not Like the Boy She Knew. Yielding to the pressure of interested parties, Mrs. H. E. Hodge of North Yakima, to whom the title of "old sweetheart" has been conferred as an "old sweetheart of mine" in his address at North Yakima, Wash., has told the story of that early romance.

Mark Twain said at the wedding of his daughter, "Rev. Joseph H. Twichell of Hartford, the officiating clergyman, is a friend of mine of 42 years' standing. I was a member of his church and he is 33 years ago. Mrs. Crane (sister of Mrs. Clemens), who is present now, was present then. Mrs. John E. Prescott, a schoolmate of my wife, is present now. I had only one tooth and preferred a nursing bottle to the constitution of the infant. She is a mother in Israel now—but this is merely figurative—she really lives in Brooklyn. Mrs. Crane and I have been comrades 41 years and our ages are both the same. Enter the good man for him to be on his drive, but he asked them for a few minutes more, again speaking of me as an old sweetheart."

PERSONS TALKED ABOUT

Some one recently asked Harold Bindon, the English novelist, about his literary acquaintances. "I have none," he said. "My associates in England are mostly postmen. One finds them so much more interesting."

Ben Davies, the Welsh tenor, now that he is 51 years old, concluded that it was high time for him to sing in vaudeville, so he made his first appearance in a music hall September 27, in the Palace theater, London.

Judge Oscar M. Welborn of Princeton, who has been on the circuit bench in Indiana 36 years, and who is in point of service the oldest jurist in the state, will retire October 26 and will be succeeded by Judge Herdis Clements of Mount Vernon.

O. Henry has gone south in search of health. He has had a year of such productivity that it is not surprising he needs a vacation. Besides his short stories, he has collaborated on the book of a comic opera which is now on the road, and he has finished his first play.

Miss Alice M. Bowen of Detroit and a number of professional nurses that city are contemplating erecting two houses at Put-in-Bay which will accommodate some nurses where they may go at all seasons and enjoy their vacations. Indigent nurses will also be taken care if the plans are carried out.

Everett E. Stone has resigned as chief engineer of the Boston & Albany railroad. He will remain in office until his successor is appointed, and will then take rest and recreation in a trip west with Mrs. Stone. The reason assigned for the resignation is that Mr. Stone is to engage in private business in Springfield, Mass.

The Turkish bath as known in the west differs materially from the Turkish bath as used in the east. According to F. C. A. F. A. F., wanderer and mighty hunter, the difference lies in the fact that at home the bath is visited only by men who wear broadcloth, whereas in Damascus almost the poorest are able to frequent it.

Harry Whitney, in an interview recently stated that he would leave New Haven for New York immediately in order to look after the skins and furs which were sent there direct from the far north. Mr. Whitney stated that he would probably be busy there for several days and would wait the arrival of a ship from Newfoundland in the hope of his spoils from the Arctic regions.

Not Like the Boy She Knew. Yielding to the pressure of interested parties, Mrs. H. E. Hodge of North Yakima, to whom the title of "old sweetheart" has been conferred as an "old sweetheart of mine" in his address at North Yakima, Wash., has told the story of that early romance.

Mark Twain said at the wedding of his daughter, "Rev. Joseph H. Twichell of Hartford, the officiating clergyman, is a friend of mine of 42 years' standing. I was a member of his church and he is 33 years ago. Mrs. Crane (sister of Mrs. Clemens), who is present now, was present then. Mrs. John E. Prescott, a schoolmate of my wife, is present now. I had only one tooth and preferred a nursing bottle to the constitution of the infant. She is a mother in Israel now—but this is merely figurative—she really lives in Brooklyn. Mrs. Crane and I have been comrades 41

DIRE DISTRESS

It is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Norwich Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is the kidney's cry for help. Neglect hurrying to their aid. Means that urinary troubles follow quickly.

Dire distress, diabetes, Bright's disease. Profit by a Norwich citizen's experience. Mrs. William H. Clark, 112 Chestnut Street, Norwich, Conn., says: "I can vouch for Doan's Kidney Pills as being a remedy that a kidney represents."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened and the cold is expelled from the system. Returns you to the genuine in the yellow package. The Lee & Osgood Co.

Governor Johnson Was Not Rugged Enough. A member of the Minnesota judiciary said to the present writer a year ago "Governor Johnson is my friend. He is ever-ready, friendly, of the most lovable of men. He is honest and well meaning, and has made an acceptable democratic governor for that great office."

A writer in the New York Sun recently enlarged upon these amiable characteristics of Governor Johnson in these words: "He liked his kind, 'joined' everything, was everybody's confidant, criticized nobody, had an unflinching fund of good humor and kindness and was as sympathetic as he was tolerant. In his social relations, as in politics, he hated a quarrel and avoided personalities. As an editor of a newspaper in St. Peter he always sounded the note of conciliation in heated campaigns, and as a public affairs editor he made speeches in all parts of Minnesota without a single intimation against an opponent who had a vulnerable point."

This view fairly supplements that of our Minnesota friend, John A. Johnson, who was an opportunity, in instinctively following the public affairs of the least resistance but by reason of his intellectual limitations and the lack of iron in the blood he was not equipped to play even that useful role with distinction in the vast sphere of national government.—Buffalo Commercial.

Congressman E. J. Hill of Newark is planning a lengthy trip, which will include a visit to the state of Mexico. Mr. Hill has been a busy man since congress adjourned, as well as before, and he feels the need of relaxing. He probably start about the 21st of the month. The first part of the trip will be a journey down the Mississippi river, and he will be in Mexico for several days. He will be accompanied by his wife and children. At the conclusion of this trip, Mr. Hill will continue down into Mexico.

Goldwin Smith has intimated that after his death the fine property known as the Grange, which is his home, will be given to Toronto, and the suggestion has been made that the citizens of Toronto should erect a statue in his honor.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Advertisement for Castoria. Includes the text 'The Kind You Have Always Bought and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.' Also features an image of the Castoria bottle and the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Letters from Prominent Physicians Addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

A collection of testimonials from various physicians. Each testimonial is a short paragraph praising the effectiveness and safety of Castoria. The letters are from Dr. W. L. Leister, Dr. W. F. Wallace, Dr. B. Halstead Scott, Dr. L. O. Morgan, Dr. W. H. Taft, Dr. Wm. L. McCann, Dr. Raymond M. Everts, Dr. Howard James, Dr. R. M. Ward, Dr. Wm. L. Boserman, Dr. F. H. Kyle, Dr. J. R. Clausen, and Dr. William Belmont.

Advertisement for Dr. King's Restoration Method. Includes the text 'What It Does for Toothless People' and 'A PAINLESS PROCESS'. Features an image of a man's face and describes the method of restoring teeth using a special process. The text states: 'By means of this wonderful method we are able to give back to a patient the full set of teeth he or she started in with in the beginning. All we require is two or more teeth in each jaw to work from, and we shall not resort to plates or ordinary bridge-work in the process of the work. Your mouth will be free from incumbrances. Before we accomplish this result we put the gums and the natural teeth in a healthy condition, tightening the teeth which may be loose and curing pyorrhea if the patient is afflicted with that dreadful disease. All of the teeth we supply are practical copies of each and every one of the original nature's plan, so that the staining is equally divided. One is able to bite on these teeth and use them in exactly the same manner as he would his natural teeth. They match nature's teeth so closely as to deceive experts. They are beautiful to look at and a source of constant delight to the one who wears them.'