SKIN ERUPTION CURED
Was So Sore, Irritating and Painful that Little Sufferer Could Not Sleep—Scratched Constantly.
CUTICURA'S EFFICACY PROVEN

"When about two and a half years old my daughter broke out on her hips and the upper parts of her legs with a very irritating and painful eruption. It began in October; the first I noticed was a little red surface and a constant desire on her part to scratch her limbs. She could not sleep and the eruptions got worse, and yellow water came out of them. I had two doctors treat her, but she grew worse under their treatment. Then I bought the Cuticura Remedies and only used them two weeks when she was entirely well. This was in February. She has never had another rough place on her skin, and she is now fourteen years old." Mrs. R. R. Whitaker, Winchester, Tenn., Sept. 22, 1918.

BROADWAY THEATER.
"The Third Degree."

Ever since Charles Klein achieved success with "The Lion and the Mouse" every announcement concerning a new play by this dramatic author is read with interest. It is no doubt a great pleasure to the theater-goers of this city to know that Henry B. Hart, in his production of "The Third Degree" at the Broadway Theater on Friday, Nov. 12, Mr. Klein's latest play, "The Third Degree." Like "The Lion and the Mouse," an attempt has been made to present a play under conditions that exist, but in this instance, instead of taking up the realm of finance, the institutions are the subject of debate.
A notable cast has been engaged to delineate the different characters in "The Third Degree," and includes such actors of repute as Marlon Kirby, Margaret Drew, Lawrence Eddinger, James Seelye, Walter Thomas, W. Ellis and others. It will be presented at the box office, Wauregan House, and Pitcher & Service's, on Wednesday, Nov. 10, at 8 o'clock.

THE AUDITORIUM.
Appearing at this popular playhouse this week is a talented young girl violinist who is studying with one of this country's greatest violin instructors, and who by special request takes a week now and then on a vaudeville stage for practice in appearing before the public. She renders with much feeling and most delicate touch the highly classical numbers, Schubert's Serenade, and Hauser's Hungarian Rhapsody, and for an encore, which she invariably receives, plays in a most finished manner either "My Old Kentucky Home" or "Way Down Upon the Swanee River." Her playing is so rich and intensely interested that a pin could be heard to fall.
A break-neck comedian, Mickle Peeler, presents a sketch on the subject of the acrobatic line which at each performance causes the audience to wonder how he comes off alive. The closing feature of his act, a series of sensational dives in which he alights upon his head, causes the onlookers to believe he is made of rubber.
Dan Darrett & Co. in a comedy Irish sketch, and Rich and Rich in their odd skit scored individual hits.

BREED THEATER.
Baseball Pictures Attract Large Audiences.
With two such sporting pictures as are shown at the Breed theater this week, under the titles of Pittsburgh Detroit and a Great Game, it would be difficult to excel the programme as presented by Manager McNulty, and the eager throng present every performance is entertained by a flattering compliment upon the judgment of the manager. The Pittsburgh Detroit game is shown in all its entirety, all of the crack players being shown at close range, and in their characteristic capacities. A Great Game is a complete picture of a football game between two scrub teams, who have employed a rather unpopular umpire, and the expressions of disgust on the part of the grandstand and the expressions of triumph in another portion at the various plays, and the unbounded enthusiasm everywhere is a never ending source of amusement to the spectators. Some unusually fine dramatic pictures are shown besides the excellent comedy and the bill is on the whole a fine one.
Miss Wolcott continues to delight all by her very broad singing and her rendition of the pretty song, "In Dreamland," is always encored, to which she is giving her very original interpretation of the sweet old "Swanee River."
