Friends and relatives of Mrs. Mary Lucy O'Mahoney attended an anniversary mass in her memory, celebrated in St. Patrick's church, Monday, at 8 o'clock, by Rev. Hugh Treanor.

At the twenty-second anniversary of the consecration of St. Francis' church, celebrated Sunday in Torrington, the sermon was preached by the Rev. Joseph H. King, a native of East Norwich.

The annual meeting of the Connecticut state board of agriculture is to be held in Harmonie hall, New Haven, on December 6, 7, and 8. The first day will be devoted to poultry, and will be held entirely to this subject.

A local farmer explains the scarcity of eggs by the fact that last year when grain was so many poultrymen killed off their hens. This year they have no old hens to lay, and it is too soon for this season's pullets to begin laying.

It is an interesting fact that of the few Hollanders in this state, four, all of distinguished lineage and attainments, are clergymen in eastern Connecticut: Rev. John Van den Noort, the able and scholarly Catholic rector at Putnam; his curate, Rev. Father De Vries, D.D., the able Episcopal rector at Saybrook.

Town Clerk Holbrook Has Received 300 Copies Which Are for Distribution as Long as They Last.

Three hundred copies of the public acts passed by the last general assembly have been received by Town Clerk Stanley Holbrook in this city, and is passing them out to those wishing them. The number is smaller than usual and it is probable that twice as many could be used. As the number is limited this year, there will probably be a scramble for them and it may be necessary to get more.

OBITUARY. Walter Chapman. Walter Chapman of Smith street, Groton, for sixteen years a carpenter, died at his home in that borough Sunday night after a brief illness. Mr. Chapman, who was in his 45th year, is survived by his wife, two sons and one daughter. Two brothers, William and Edward Chapman of Groton, and Mrs. Bridget, also survive, with a sister, Mrs. Strickland. Mr. Chapman is related to several families in and around Groton, being a native of the town and having spent the greater part of his life there. He was born in Poquonoc, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith Chapman.

He had followed the occupation of carpenter all his life, serving his apprenticeship in business in Norwich. At all times a conscientious workman, his services were in steady demand and he was invariably faithful to his employers and those for whom he did the work.

Mr. Chapman's death came as a blow to many in the borough, where there were few who knew him, until they heard news of his death. Of a quiet, retiring disposition, he never complained of illness and when he quiet work last Tuesday his employers thought little of it, expecting he would be able to resume work soon.

Mr. Chapman complained of chest pain in his ear and sought advice of Dr. J. K. Buckley, who found an abscess forming. Towards the close of last week the case was serious enough to call for a consultation of doctors, but no relief could be afforded. Mr. Chapman died at his home, 13 A. O. U. W., and also of Groton Heights Baptist church.

James Devins. About 9:30 o'clock Monday night the death of James Devins occurred at his home in Baltic street, he having been in poor health for some time.

Mr. Devins was born in Norwich, the son of Patrick and Nancy Devins, and has spent his entire life here, having a wide acquaintance. He was a carpenter by trade and was a member of the Carpenters' union. He was not married and is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Patrick Kelly, Mrs. Daniel F. Maher and Miss Mary Ann Devins, and one brother, Timothy Devins, all of this city.

Meeting at Plainfield. It is expected that there will be a number who will go from here to Plainfield Wednesday morning to attend the quarterly meeting of the Eastern Connecticut branch of the Woman's Board of Missions, which will be held at the Plainfield Congregational church. The session opens at eleven o'clock, and there will be reports of the annual convention at Boston, as well as a missionary address.

Shot Two Foxes. J. C. Phillips of Lisbon had an unusual experience with foxes last week, seeing two come out into the open after a flock of his hens which were feeding near the house. They got one hen and were making off with it when he acceded them so that they dropped the fowl. When they returned later he was waiting for them and ended their lives with his gun.

Falls Shooting Club. Six more members have entered in the tournament of the Falls Shooting Club, making twenty who are contesting for the prize mandolin. Seven are now tied for the lead in the competition.

JUDGE WALLER

In Common Pleas Court Judgment is Rendered for Defendant in Insurance Case—Horse Case Tried

In the case of the Metropolitan Insurance company vs. Mary McMahon et al, Judge Waller handed down a decision on Monday in which he finds that it was the intention of the policy that the insurance money should be paid to the beneficiary specially designated. Judgment is rendered that the defendant, Mary A. McMahon, recover of the Metropolitan Insurance company the sum of $146.50, and upon such payment the plaintiff shall be discharged from all further liability in this action.

In this case James Sheehan put in a claim for part of the money, claiming that he advanced money for the premiums. The policy was carried by Mary McMahon from 1901 to Jan. 25, 1908, Mrs. McMahon being named as the beneficiary.

Court was in session here for the trial of the case of Elmer R. Pierson vs. Michael Lavine of Colchester. This case came to the court on an appeal of the defendant. The suit is over a horse sale. Mr. Pierson having been in the city on Monday for the purpose of having the horse sold, and he was told by the defendant that he had a horse to sell, and the plaintiff made a deal with him whereby Mr. Pierson bought the horse for $100, Mr. Lavine was to get a buggy in trade. The plaintiff claimed that the defendant had sold the horse to a good buyer and asked for his money. Mr. Pierson paid $39 down and took the horse. Mr. Lavine intending to come back with the money for the remaining $60 and the buggy. Mr. Pierson drove the horse home and found it would not pull and that it was worthless. He at once wrote to Mr. Lavine.

NO TRACE FOUND OF POSTOFFICE BURGLARS. Police in Norwich and Other Places Have Seen No Suspicious Characters.

No trace was found Monday of the burglars who broke into the Taftville postoffice Monday morning shortly before 2 o'clock and blew off the outer door of the building. The burglars, who would have tried to blow out the inner door but for the timely approach of Constable John Reeves, who drove them off after an exchange of revolver shots.

Although the police of this city, of Willimantic and of Westport, and the authorities at Berlin, Groton and Versailles were notified immediately by Postmaster James Graham, the burglars were not seen until they were thought to be four in number, certainly two, were not discovered all day Monday.

The men left behind them a number of tools which they had secured at the Taftville railroad station, and blankets which they took from the house of W. B. Baldwin on Norwich avenue, and which were used to muffle the noise of the explosion. The explosion of the burglars, who were knocked off the tumbler locks and cracks filled with soap, and another charge of nitro glycerine was attached to a cartridge.

After being shot at by Constable Reeves, who was then behind the corner of the house of Dr. George Thompson, the burglars fled to the street, and Mrs. Joseph Jarry said that when they went past her house, which is opposite the postoffice, she heard one man say "a badly hurt."

The explosion awakened a number of people in the neighborhood, all of whom were alerted to see what was going on. Postmaster Graham was one of the first to see the burglars, and he called out to them, "knock off the tumbler locks and cracks filled with soap, and another charge of nitro glycerine was attached to a cartridge."

NORWICH HAD 36 DEATHS. Record During the Month of October for the State Was Below the Average.

By mortality reports received by the state board of health there were 1,230 deaths during the month of October. This was 65 less than in September and 18 more than in October of last year, and 3 less than the average number of deaths during October for the five years preceding.

There were 14.3 for the large towns for the small towns 12.8 and for the whole state 14.0. The deaths reported from infectious diseases were 183, being 18.4 per cent. of the total mortality.

NEW LONDON MAN MISSING SEVERAL DAYS. Disappeared After Sister's Illness Was Announced—Another Sister in Hospital Here.

William J. Wright, a baker, residing at 450 Main street, New London, disappeared under peculiar circumstances Thursday night, and nothing has since been heard from him. Wright's sister, Mamie, died Friday evening. Another sister, Margaret, was on her way to the funeral Sunday afternoon from Groton.

All Who Would Enjoy good health, with its blessings, must understand, quite clearly, that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to living right. Then the use of medicines may be dispensed with to advantage, but under ordinary conditions in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time and the California Fig Syrup Co. holds that it is alike important to present the subject truthfully and to supply the use perfect laxative to those desiring it.

Consequently, the Company's Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna gives general satisfaction. To get its beneficial effects by the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

Campbell's Mills and was hurt in a collision of a vehicle in which she took and another going in the opposite direction. Miss Margaret Wright is now in the Backus hospital in this city, suffering from internal injuries.

William J. Wright was employed by C. D. Boss & Son in New London and left his work Thursday afternoon. He had $9 or $10 in wages due him but did not collect. He met his brother, James, in State street and was told that his sister's condition was critical. James gave William $4 with which to do some errands and William was to come home directly they were done.

When the young man did not appear Thursday night it was thought rather strange, but it was considered more so when on Friday he was absent. Then at the death of his sister it was supposed the news would surely bring him home. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon and the police were asked to look for him, but he was not reported that he had said he was going to New Haven.

Walton Clayton Davenport has sent out invitations to the wedding reception of his daughter, Elsie Mabel, and Edward Knight Hillary on Saturday night at his home on Broad street. The at home cards read after January 15, 1910 at 11 Everett street, Cambridge, Mass.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Gertrude Harmon, daughter of the late Major Harmon, U. S. A., to Lester Stephen Crane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Henry Crane, of Bretton Hill, New York. The wedding, which will be attended only by members of the two families, is set for December 4th at the Hotel Marie Antoinette, New York, where Mrs. Harmon and her daughter are staying since their return from Paris, where they have lived much of the time for the past eight years. Miss Harmon improving her talent as a pianist and singer. After brilliant service in the regular army and in the Spanish war, Major Harmon died in February, 1907, while supervising the construction of a railroad in South America. Mr. Crane and his bride will reside in Hartford, where the former has been for two years in the employ of the Hartford Rubber Works company.
