COMMISSIONER MACDONALD UPHOLDS INSPECTOR DONOVAN
 Visited Work at Montville on Tuesday—No More Stone Will Be Laid This Winter.

On Wednesday, Highway Commissioner J. H. MacDonald was at Montville to look into the situation over the state highway there, where Inspector John Donovan held up the work owing to the poor quality of rock which was being used. Upon investigating the commissioner upheld the inspector and ordered that no more such stone be put down and that none be laid this winter, but that the grading should be continued after the road which a big improvement. The grade in the road at the bridge over the Oxbow river will also be raised. The work on the road has been held up for over a week, as Inspector Donovan found the quality of stone was not right for road building.

 Christmas Gifts for Western Missionaries—Talk by Mrs. Larrabee.

A largely attended and enjoyable meeting was held by the Vineyard Workers Tuesday evening in the Central Baptist church vestry, opening their season after the organization meeting last month. The president, Mrs. P. C. Wright, was in charge at the business meeting. Among the items of business transacted was a vote to make some Christmas gifts in the shape of magazine subscriptions for several western missionaries. It was also voted to hold an open meeting on Dec. 10th, to which the members will invite their men and women friends to enjoy an attractive programme.

Mrs. J. Holland Larrabee, who is to conduct the society's study upon Japan this season, gave an especially interesting introductory talk upon the subject, using a map to illustrate the outline she presented.

TAFTVILLE RESERVOIR A BIG JOB
Dam will be 670 Feet Long and 37 Feet High at the Highest Point—Getting Ready for the Core Wall—Third of a Mile of 12 Inch Supply Pipe.

The site of the Ponemah company's new reservoir at Taftville, about half a mile to the northwest of the village, is a scene of activity these days, and will be, probably, for nearly a year to come. The men of Contractor Torrance have been at work there for just about a month, and the progress made thus far has been satisfactory. The site is a rough, rocky country where the new dam and reservoir are to be built, but the location is considered excellent, as there are fine springs in the basin and watershed, assuring an abundance of good water, and also because for some hundred feet the hills will form a natural dam to help hold back the water.
 The dam, if raised to an average height of 15 feet, as is now planned, will be 670 feet long. Most of the work will come on the 100 feet at the northern end, where there is a deep hollow. Here the dam will be 37 feet high if brought up to the level of the rest, which will be built on the knolls that make up nearly all the 570 feet of the remainder of the dam. The site is now excavating for the foundation of the concrete core wall of the dam, and the loose rock is being taken off the ledges. A new concrete mixer is on the way and it is hoped to have everything in readiness so that work on the core wall can start at the first of next week. The core will be 35 feet high, coming to within two feet of the top of the dam, and tapering from 5 feet at the base to 2 1/2 feet at the top. An embankment of bluestone gravel will be built on each side of the core wall, with rip-rap tapering from 6 feet at the bottom to 2 feet at the top of the dam. The dam will have a bottom about 115 feet wide, sloping to a width of 16 feet at the top.
 Forty feet above the dam will be built an 8x13 screen house, with copper screens on wooden frames, which will slide up and down in grooves. There will be rubble wing walls at each side of the screen house, where arrangements will be made to shut off the water supply as well as at the dam itself.
 The 12-inch supply pipe will run south down through the woods and will swing around to connect with the present water main on Merchants avenue below the Woodhouse school. This distance is 2,000 feet. There will also be a 16-inch waste pipe 150 feet for draining off the reservoir and for use while the dam is being built.
 To present most of the force, about 50 men, which are at work are engaged in excavating in the basin of the reservoir, which will extend nearly up to the barn on Victor Marc-Aurele's place. Three derricks and hoisting engines are in use, also a steam drill. The Ponemah company's stone crusher was given its first trial Monday, but the shaft was sprung after three hours' work, necessitating a delay of a day or so.
 Foreman Edward J. Sullivan is in charge on the job, and Engineer Herbert B. Wightman of Chandler & Palmer's office is in charge of this department of the work.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF IN SUPERIOR COURT
 Jury Awards Mrs. Allyn $1,135—First Brought in Two Verdicts, One for Plaintiff and One for Defendant.

The entire day Tuesday was spent on the case of Mrs. M. E. Allyn vs. A. T. Miner, executor of the will of G. W. Comstock, a suit for $3,558.20, for acting as nurse for the deceased and caring for his home for a number of years. The arguments were taken up by Attorney Hankey, Hull and Geary being heard, after which Judge Reed charged the jury in the superior court.
 It was not until 4:10 o'clock that they returned with a verdict, which was given by Foreman John R. Fowler. This proved to be a double verdict, awarding a large amount to the plaintiff, and a small amount to cover the rent of the house in the property of the deceased after his death. There was a conference between the attorneys and the judge regarding this and it was decided that the jury should be asked whether they had taken into consideration the rent of the tenement occupied by the Allyn. Judge Reed informed them that he would require them to return to the jury room and strike a balance from the two verdicts, as he could not be rendered.

They returned to the room and again reported at 4:40 o'clock with a verdict for the plaintiff of $1,135, which was about the same as the first verdict for the plaintiff with the defendant's verdict deducted. They stated that the rent had been considered in reaching the verdict.
 Judge Reed then excused them until this morning at 9:35 o'clock, when the case will be sent to the grand jury Navigation company, a suit for $25,000, will be tried. This concerns the injuries received by Robert Swanton of this city, who was injured in New York while employed on one of the company's boats. A lawyer injured his leg, from which he died.

RECEPTION TO BE GIVEN TO DR. L. L. WEST
 By the Improvement Society of Second Church, Friday, Dec. 10—Union Service There Sunday, Dec. 12, When He Closes His Pastorate.

A farewell reception is to be given Dr. Lester L. West in the parlors of the Second Congregational church by the Church Improvement Society of the Second Congregational church, on Friday evening, December 10, from 8 to 10 o'clock. This was arranged at a meeting of the improvement society on Tuesday. Church officials will receive with him and there will be a musical programme which will include among other numbers solos by Mrs. Charles Tyler Bird. There will be other numbers. All the ministers of the church in attendance will receive with him and the affair will be arranged so as to welcome all the friends of Dr. West besides the members of the church and congregation. There will be refreshments served.

It has been arranged to have a union service at the Second church Sunday evening, December 12, which will be Dr. West's last Sunday as pastor and on that occasion there will be speakers to represent all the denominations.

COMMON PLEAS COURT
SUIT WAS SETTLED.
 Insurance Suit Did Not Occupy the Attention of the Court and Jury—Suit Against Lafayette Main Today.

In the common pleas court, Tuesday morning the case of George Dufner vs. the Order Sons of Hermann was assigned for trial, but after a conference of the lawyers Judge Waller was informed that it would not occupy the attention of the court. It was a suit concerning the life insurance carried by Peter A. Kocher of Norwich Town, who died Sept. 12, 1907, and was insured for $500. It was claimed that he was over 45 years of age when he joined, which is against the rule of the order.

As the attorneys in the next two cases of Senicola vs. the Putnam Furniture company and Gordon vs. the Central Vermont Railway company were engaged elsewhere the cases went to the foot of the list, as did the case of Brown vs. the Connecticut company.

This morning the case of R. H. Hewitt vs. Lafayette Main is down for trial, it being a suit for $600 for services Attorney Hewitt rendered Mr. Main in a number of cases brought by him for the defendant.

BOYS ARRESTED
 For Breaking into Cottages on Mason's Island.

Constable William Foley of Noank arrested Holden Wilson, 17 years old, and Charles Flannigan, 15 years, both of Waterbury, Tuesday night, for breaking into cottages on Mason's Island, a summer resort in Long Island Sound. The Wilson boys' family own a cottage on the island, and the boys went down there last week and have remained on the island since that time. They admitted stealing articles, found in the cottage where they were staying, from the cottages which had been broken into.

Wilson said that his father was Collin Wilson, who kept a store at 115 Main street, Waterbury, and Flannigan that his father's name was Nelson Flannigan and that he lived at 25 Plaza avenue. The boys will be given a hearing before a Noank justice this morning.
