Triple Alliance To Secure Fight. Such is Rumor After Jeffries-Johnson Bids Are Opened. —Jewett City Flays New London Tonight.

New York, Dec. 1.—No decision announcing the successful bidder for the world's championship heavyweight prizefight between James J. Jeffries, the retired and undefeated champion, and Jack Johnson, the negro titleholder, was made in New York tonight because the promoters wished to avoid any possible clash with the police authorities.

The decision will be made known in Hoboken, N. J., at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Gossip in sporting circles tonight picked as the winning bidder James C. O'Grady of the Colma Athletic club, San Francisco; Jack Gleason, the California baseball magnate, and "Tex" Rickard, the Nevada booster, who have apparently formed a triple alliance for the purpose of getting the fight.

Johnson came on first and sparred with a white opponent in a mid-western town. Jeffries came on an hour and a half later and went five snappy rounds with Sam Berger, the fastest work he has done in public at least since he started training for the fight. The crowd sized Jeff up as being in good condition and showing good form, but his nose trouble bothered him considerably.

Surprise for Jewett City Basketball. Manager League is to spring a surprise upon the Jewett City basketball public tonight when he lines his team up against New London. The active manager has secured Marlow, formerly of the Jewett City basketball team, who will add a lot of strength to the borough five.

Norwich Wants Small Pin Match. Not only has the Hartford team of the Connecticut Duckpin league arranged a home and home series with a Windsor Locks team, but a challenge has just been received from J. J. Stone of Norwich for a two-men home and home series. It is probable that it will be accepted and that the Hartford pair will be picked from Brainard, Lathrop, Lee and Stovall.—Hartford Times.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. SUBSTANTIAL PRICE RALLY.

New York, Dec. 1.—Prices of stocks had a substantial rally today, in accordance with the general expectation of the professional element in the speculation. A general demand to cover outstanding bids came from the market and the withdrawal of selling pressure marked the subsidence of apprehension felt for several days past over the anti-trust programme at Washington.

Another influence in the upward reaction was the formal action by the house of lords in London appealing the budget decision to the electorate. The effects of this action on British financial affairs have been so much dreaded that a sense of having overestimated the consequence is left in the presence of the actual event. The opinion holds that the steps made necessary by British financial affairs of this action, as well as the unsettling influence on public sentiment of the grave governmental issues involved are destined to have a restraining effect on financial markets for some time to come.

The same mixed view may be said to hold on the larger outlook in the corporation regulation question in this country. Something was made today of a report of an intention on the part of the department of justice at Washington to ask for a postponement of the hearing in the American tobacco case before the supreme court. This was said to have placed the first view of this report seemed to be a putting off an evil day from the stock market standpoint. This view was modified by the expressed opinion of corporation representatives for as a preliminary conclusion as possible of the pending cases. Another factor in the market feeling regarding the regulation prospect was the reported expression of confidence on the part of the congressional leadership in a substantial agreement between the executive and congress for the repression of radical measures. The demand for stocks, which was attracted to the market by the uncovered shorts, was somewhat desultory in character and showed some hesitation in the higher price levels and with the passage of time there was a resumption of leadership by some of the highly speculative issues and a renewal of real rumors. These rumors centered principally about the proposed solution of the Rock Island and St. Louis and San Francisco Union, and the possibly alternative alliance that might be made. Wabash was placed in the field of these conjectures, and a movement in Lehigh Valley in Philadelphia added weight to the supposed combination. Its movement was an influence also on the renewed advance in Reading, although the latter mostly receiving no notice in the combination stories. The retention of the same dividend rate by New York Central and American Smelting disposed of late rumors of an intended increase, but did not prevent those stocks from advancing with the market. Chicago and Northwestern furnished another example of the recent tendency of stocks to decline in price when stock increases are proposed, however attractive the subscription rights to present stockholders are made. The outside market promptly apprised the subscription rights of the new stock at par to the extent of 25 per cent. holdings at above 14, but the price of the present stock fell four points, following an anticipatory decline before the announcement. The effect of the December money settlements was perceptible in the rise in call loan rates late in the day to 2 1/2 per cent. The continued large shipments of gold for export and the withdrawal of cash from the banks by sub-treasury operations have narrowed the resources to meet the December 1st demand. The inauguration of the railroad switchmen's strike in the northwest proved a disappointment of hopes that satisfactory settlements of labor controversies, which are expected in other directions, would be effected. The market closed firm under the influence of the Wabash deal' rumors. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $4,426,980. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Wilkinson, former Nutmeg Arbitrator, Banished 26 Players. Connecticut league fans will recall Umpire Wilkinson, who worked in this circuit during the 1926 season, and who held the indicator in the New York State league last season. Wilkie had a rather tough time, according to the dope handed out by President Farrell in the recent annual meeting of the organization. The Albany Argus says:

Wilkinson, a peculiar sort of a chap, was probably the most abused official in the arbiters' ranks. Wilkie was compelled on twenty-six different occasions to resort to something more than words to keep the players in bounds. Wilkinson quit when the game got hottest. He was compelled to defend himself on one occasion from the short jabs of Silver Groh of Scranton, and another time to hop around to escape the spite of Moose Baxter, the Scranton first sacker, who threatened to crush Wilkinson with his pair of fists.

BASEBALL NOTES. Gus Dorner, formerly a pitcher on the Boston National league team, is expected to report to something more than words to keep the players in bounds.

The coming meeting of the National league in New York will be the most important sporting event in the city. The American league is immensely interested in the outcome.

Horace Fogel, the new president of the Philadelphia Nationals, once insisted that Mathewson would make a better first baseman than pitcher. He may turn out to be right.

Jeff Pfeffer, a former member of the Boston Red Sox, who was drafted from Toronto by the Cubs at the end of the season just passed, is making his home in Boston. Jeff married a Boston girl and is everything connected with the Hub.

The Pittsburgh club has sent out invitations to the big banquet which will give to the Waldorf Astoria on the evening of January 15. All the magnates of both leagues, the sporting writers and members of the winning team will be present.

Big Ed Walsh held Charley Conkley up for an $5,000 salary last year, and now another Chicago twirler, three fingered Mordecai Brown, demands the same. Hearty support is being given to Mordecai by the press.

John McGraw does not seem to share in the New York opposition to a replay of the World Series. McGraw, as president of the National league, "I always opposed Pulliam for good and sufficient reasons," says McGraw, "but I think that Heister is better educated and he certainly doesn't play favorites."

Harvard Wants Modified Game. The death of Cadet Byrne in the Harvard-West Point game has led to a movement in favor of changing the football rules in the direction of lessening the number and severity of the injuries occurring in the present game.

SPORT BRIEFS. Amherst won but one football game this year, and that was from Tufts, 6 to 0.

Al Seibach has been elected manager of the Harrisburg, Pa., club of the Tri-State league for next season. The Bloomfield, N. J., football team holds the season record for injuries. Nine of the 11 players are slightly damaged.

Severeburg academy has a sprinter in Gill who was credited with 9 4/5 seconds for the 100 yards dash a week ago. This beats the best interscholastic record.

Jack Johnson's mother and members of his family fled from Galveston, Texas, for Chicago, to make their future home with the champion in the property for sale bought with his winnings in big ring battles. Johnson was born in Galveston and for years has claimed Galveston as his home.

A mass meeting of athletes, business men and city officials was held at New Orleans Friday night, at which the requisite amount of money was raised and the program was presented to President Brown of Chicago a formal acceptance of the holding of the national amateur athletic association at New Orleans in October, 1931.

R. E. Walker, the sprinter, has left England for his home in South Africa. The record committee of the Scottish amateur athletic association has refused the 100 yards record of 9 4/5 seconds claimed to have been made by Walker at Glasgow August 7. The South African mark of 11 1/2 seconds for 120 yards over the same course on a different date has been accepted.

man at large is the big puzzle of the week. With the caucus only one day away, no one can say positively who will be at the head of the ticket. There is not a surplus of candidates to cause this condition; rather the reverse. The names of two prominent democrats have been repeatedly mentioned to head the ticket, but it was said Wednesday that their acceptance was uncertain.

The republican nomination is generally conceded to Archibald Macdonald, but his candidacy is unpopular. He will receive the republican nomination for alderman at large is also uncertain.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' REPORT. Jail Alone Earned $3,316 During Past Year—County Has Over $9,000 in Treasury.

Once more the annual report of the commissioners for Windham county—C. E. Barber of Plainfield, E. H. Corliss of Thompson and E. H. Hall of Windham—brings the attention of the making of a splendid financial record during the past year. The record is one of the best ever.

As usual the jail has proved to be the big money-maker of the county, and the year ends with that institution showing net earnings of $3,316.54, which is nearly double the amount of last year.

The cash balance in the county treasury is $9,081.10, a gain of $2,586.04 during the last year, and this last amount represents net gain in receipts over expenditures for the entire county.

As was to be expected from an institution with no earning capacity, the children's home shows a deficit, but only of $359.23, which is about one-half the deficit of one year ago.

As has been said, the jail is the money-making institution of the county and is responsible for the surplus. Favored by an exceptionally efficient board of commissioners, Windham county is also fortunate in the conditions that make possible such large earnings at the jail. Other connected counties are not so favored. At Brooklyn, well removed from competition with free labor, the prisoners can be worked without incurring the expense that would likely be given birth in counties where jails are located in more thickly populated centers and where the prisoners as laborers would be in direct competition with regular day labor.

In the country about Brooklyn the demand for laborers is so great that the jail workers are really welcomed rather than considered as competitors of the workmen. They are all out from the jail in charge of keepers to do all kinds of farm work and not only do it well but welcome the opportunity given them to get outside the jail and labor in the open.

The prisoners are as well clothed, fed and kept as any in the state, but they are made to show a profit for the institution that harbors them. This last year they earned $7,027.36. The total receipts of the jail was $19,867.82, and the total expenditures $12,840.46.

Included in the receipts were $10,243.01 from the state for prisoners' board, $446.67 from the sale of milk and cream from the jail dairy, $448.82 for wood and lumber sold, $288.69 for produce sold from the jail farm, $607.94 for pork, veal, beef and hides sold from the jail, $218.85 from the sale of ice harvested by the prisoners.

Jailer Albert Fields is in direct charge of the management of the institution and has a large measure to do due to the showing that makes it a model for the state. The system of handling affairs has given the county a fast and growing bank account. The money in the treasury is to be placed at interest, thus adding another source of revenue.

Norwalk—Fire Marshal Harold F. Clark has given orders to the management of Hoyt's new theater that they must make some arrangement immediately whereby there shall be an aisle leading to the end of the stage at both sides of the interior in the orchestra.
