MODERN WOODMEN HAD BIG NIGHT

National Director Murphy Tells of Tuberculosis Work and Deputy Hughes Addressed Large Gathering—Several Delegations in Attendance.

Members of the Modern Woodmen of America were gathered in Foresters' hall on Monday evening from all the camps in this district for the meeting of the National Council, at which National Director E. E. Murphy, who is treasurer of the tuberculosis sanitarium fund, spoke upon the work and the prospects of the Modern Woodmen's sanitarium at Colorado Springs.

There are now 96 on the waiting list. On the financial side, the sum of $140,000 has been raised by voluntary contributions from the camps, and the national treasury appropriates a sum of $100,000 each year. Ultimately it is expected that the colony will number 500 of the tent cottages and cost at least half a million dollars.

QUAKER HILL BOY'S DISAPPEARANCE A MYSTERY.

Alfred Comstock, Aged 16, Missing Since Sunday Evening.

Alfred Comstock, 16 year old son of L. A. Comstock, of Quaker Hill, manager of the People's Coal company, of New London, is missing. All efforts, including searches by the Norwich and New London police and by Sheriff Sidney A. Brown and a deputy, to find the boy were unavailing and the points connected by his strange disappearance.

Sunday night Alfred left a place where he had spent the early evening at 9 o'clock to return to his home. His younger brother John went to his home by what is known as the "front road," leading from Jerome's corners to the Comstock home. Alfred preferred the "back road," which also branches off at Jerome's corners.

Mr. Comstock notified the New London police, also the Norwich police, and he made a personal search for his son. Nothing that lent any idea of what had happened or of the whereabouts of the boy was found. No one who had seen him after he left the crossroads was found.

At the Falls Shooting club's rooms on Oneco street, the competition for the box of cigars now has about a dozen entries, who are putting up their best scores on the targets.

Entertained Friends. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taylor, who were recently married in Brooklyn, N. Y., entertained a number of their Norwich friends Sunday evening at their home, No. 370 Main street.

NO LONGER AN "EXCLUSIVE NEIGHBORHOOD."

New York, Dec. 6.—The neighborhood in which J. Pierpont Morgan, his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., and other multi-millionaire New Yorkers live, is no longer deemed "exclusive" by the courts. Commercial interests have already so far encroached on its confines that Mr. Morgan and others, who sought to enjoin the erection of a sixteen story office building, were denied their application today by Referee Charles F. Brown, who has been appointed to the case by the supreme court.

CLERICUS COMMENDS ACTION OF BOARD OF MISSIONS

For Sum of $10,000 Voted to St. Paul to Make Good the Loss of Boardman Bequest—February Meeting in New London.

The December meeting of the Clericus of the New London archdiocese was held at Trinity-Episcopal church Monday afternoon with the following present: Archdeacon J. Eldred Brown, Rev. Neilson Poe Carey, Rev. J. Johns Bohanan, Norwich; Rev. M. J. Simpson, Yantic; Rev. W. E. Hooker, Pottamuncks; Rev. E. D. Hatch, Willimantic; Rev. R. M. D. Adams, Stafford Springs; Rev. John Walker, Putnam; Rev. Franklin D. Moore, Black Hall; Rev. A. C. Jones, Mystic; Rev. C. J. Mason, Stonington; Rev. E. S. Swin, Foxboro; and Rev. C. S. M. Stewart, Groton.

The Clericus passed a resolution to the effect that the Clericus of the New London archdiocese hereby commends and gratefully approves the action of the general board of missions of the church in voting $10,000 to St. Paul's church, at Willimantic, to make good to them the loss of that amount by an adverse decision on technicalities by the supreme court of Connecticut, in the case of the will of the late Mr. Boardman of New Haven.

It was also voted to make the February meeting a joint one with the New London Fellowship association. There was a fine essay read by Rev. Neilson Poe Carey of Christ Episcopal church on Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, late rector of Grace church, New York city. Book reviews were given by Revs. A. C. Jones, C. J. Mason and R. M. D. Adams.

FUNERALS.

Mrs. John M. Whits. At 2.30 o'clock Monday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. John M. Whits was held from her late home, No. 469 Main street, the services being conducted by Rev. M. S. Kaufman, D. D., pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. There were many in attendance, including members of Trinity M. E. church and Grace circle of King's Daughters. Handsome floral forms testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock the funeral of Miss Caroline Everett, the seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everett of Uncasville, was held from the parents' home, Rev. S. F. Maine officiating. In the large attendance was the members of the class of the deceased in the Uncasville school, with the teacher, Miss Bartlett. Beautiful floral remembrances were placed about the casket, including those from the school and Sunday school, Harry Bogue, Edward Rogers, Roy Hart and Helen Rogers among the bearers, and burial was in the Comstock cemetery at Uncasville, where a committal service was read.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Attractive Vaudeville, Moving Pictures and Illustrated Songs.

The Auditorium management scored a hit on Monday with their bill of moving pictures and vaudeville, which they presented for the opening matinee and evening performances for the week. The house was packed at both hours with applauding crowds that showed their commendation of each turn on the bill.

For her two songs Lillian Morelle had well chosen selections, her picture songs being "Ten Quits a Party to You," and her spotlight number being "Mighty Lak a Rose," which she renders in pleasing form. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Barry are a big hit in their roasting Irish comedy sketch, "The Plumber's Mistake," which also introduces the miniature policeman, Billy Bedard. Francis Wood makes an entertaining turn of his skillful hoop rolling, showing a number of new moves which he has learned at the house.

Welch and Maitland, high kickers, contortionists and novelty acrobats, are wonders in their line and stars in the list that has been seen in this city. They had a grand success in their joint twisting turns and wondrously where the limit of their performance would be.

Among the best that has been seen here was Ralph Whitehead, character singer and monologist, whose songs and monologue is all original and of attraction. He is capital as the English chappy or the Italian in his recitation and stars in the prize fight story given in the Bowery vocabulary.

In the Probate Court.

Executor C. F. Gladding has made his final report on the estate of Dr. S. L. Geer, which estate inventories $18,740.38. There was advanced to the residuary legatee $33,067.32 besides real estate valued at $13,900 which will go to Helen Moore Gladding.

By the final report of W. S. Allis, executor of the estate of Lucy T. Smith of Oberlin, O., the appraisal shows the estate valued at $8,177.71, which has been distributed according to the will.
