New Move Proposed to Bring About Peace and Good Order in Philadelphia

STRIKE APPEAL TO THE COURTS

Both Sides Practically Ignored the Strike During Sessions of the Select and Common Councils from which Citizens were Excluded—Message from the Mayor Read—Attention Called to Old Law—Precautions Taken to Prevent Rioting Tonight.

Philadelphia, March 3.—Today, for the first time in five years, the citizens were excluded from the sessions of their chosen representatives. An hour before the time of the convening of the select and common councils, a big crowd had gathered on the fourth floor of the city hall, but several stalwart policemen kept all save the councilmen, reporters and a few privileged persons outside the iron gate which leads to the council chambers.

Dallas in MOB'S HANDS FOR NEARLY THREE HOURS. Negro Criminal Thrown from Window of Court Room, Breaking His Neck—Corpse Then Hung to Telephone Pole

Dallas, Tex., March 3.—Led by an old negro mob leader after search of the court room in which Allen Brooks, another aged negro, charged with criminally assaulting a two year old white child, was being tried, a mob of men broke through a second story window, breaking his neck. His body was dragged through the streets by infuriated men, and hung to a telephone pole, high above the heads of the crowd.

With it all, hardly a word was spoken, and not a shot was fired. Above the hubbub of the mob could be heard the negro's trembling prayers for mercy.

Mob Stormed Jail in Search of Other Negroes. After Brooks was hanged, Dallas for nearly three hours was in the hands of the rioters.

The jail was stormed and death was threatened to three other negroes held on charges of murder. They had been taken away to jail after search of the streets for them in vain the mob dispersed.

Immediately after his arrest last week for attacking the child, Brooks was taken out of Dallas for safe keeping. He was returned today and taken to the court house to await the calling of his jury.

Concerted action followed this morning. The court house was charged by the crowd and the locked doors of the court room on the second floor were wrecked, and the negro, crouching in the room, was seized by the mob's leaders.

Stamped His Face to a Pulp. Those rioters who could not crowd into the court room surrounded the building, massing mostly under the court room window where a hangman's knot was thrown up to the court room window when the leaders announced that the negro had been taken to the gallows.

Corpse Hung to Telephone Pole. A score of men seized the rope and at the head of the mob dragged the body twelve blocks up Main street to an arch which was erected during the Elks' national convention in 1908.

Bank's Extra Clerk Now in Custody

WILSON W. LOCKHART ARRESTED LAST NIGHT. CONSPIRED WITH COLEMAN

To Defraud National City Bank of Cambridge—He Also Acted as Embezzler's Chauffeur at Times.

Cambridge, Mass., March 3.—A second arrest growing out of the discovery of a shortage of $150,000 from the National City bank was made tonight when the police took into custody Wilson W. Lockhart of Belmont, an extra clerk at the bank.

Lockhart had also acted as chauffeur for George W. Coleman, the bookkeeper previously arrested.

Charged with Making False Entries. The specific charge against Lockhart is that he made false entries and conspired with George W. Coleman to defraud a national bank.

Lockhart was made on a United States commissioner's warrant served by Chief Inspector Patrick Hurley and Inspector James E. Cooks of the Cambridge police.

At the local police headquarters he was turned over to Deputy United States Marshal George Hancock, who took him to Boston, where he was lodged in jail pending a hearing on the charges tomorrow in the United States court.

23 Years Old and Single. Lockhart is 23 years old, unmarried and lives at 81 Marlboro street, Belmont. His arrest, however, was at a house in Central square. This is not far from the home of Coleman, who is the young bookkeeper who has remained most of the time since his release on bonds of $50,000 last Tuesday.

Conference Held Before Arrest. All day it was known about police headquarters that some new development was pending in connection with the National City bank case. There were several conferences held at which counsel for Walter Coleman, father of the young bookkeeper, was closeted with the police inspectors.

Coleman and Lockhart Intimate Friends. Young Coleman absented himself often, it is said, from his duties at the bank. While he was away, Lockhart was called upon in his capacity as spare clerk to take his place. At other times Lockhart acted as chauffeur for Coleman, who maintained two expensive touring cars. The men were known as intimate friends.
