FARMERS' INSTITUTE. Practical and Interesting Addresses at Wednesday's Meetings.

The farmers' institute held in the town hall Wednesday proved an interesting and successful meeting. When State Master L. H. Healy of Woodstock called the meeting to order at 11 o'clock there were about 200 present. A violin solo by Miss Mary J. Ross of Putnam, accompanied by Miss Violet Geissler of Thompson, opened the day's exercises.

State Master Healy introduced N. P. Hull, president of the National Dairy-men's association and master of the Michigan state range, who spoke interestingly on The Farmer of Tomorrow. He contrasted the farmers of the east and those of his own state. He told of the qualities of the farmer of tomorrow and emphasized the fact that he must be a man of ability and thrift, who can cope successfully with every difficulty that presents itself.

Mrs. G. S. Ladd of Sturbridge, Mass., was the next speaker. Her topic was The Woman in the Home. It was a talk full of wit and humor and was extremely interesting. She said a cow could be kept on $5 a year by feeding it meadow grass and a woman could be dressed on $2 a year, but that neither would bring forth good results. The real problem of today is the family and the really great success of today is the family success, and much of the latter is due solely to women. She related a number of pleasing anecdotes that were well received. A recess was taken until 1.15 o'clock. The attendance the afternoon session was larger than in the forenoon. The session opened with another violin solo with accompaniment by the ladies who played earlier in the day.

Miss Cecel Smith, elocutionist at the Connecticut Agricultural college, Storrs, entertained with an unusually fine recitation that was liberally applauded. Mr. Hull was then called upon again and delivered a brief, concise and immensely interesting talk on dairying. He stated the average product per cow for different countries and localities and substantiated his remarks with statistics. He described the kind of cow best suited for the purposes of the modern dairy, a cow that takes her feed and gives milk and not the kind that takes the feed all right but puts it on her back. He said that he would not keep a cow himself that would not return him $1.75 for every dollar's worth of feed that she ate.

Mr. Burr of Westport was then introduced and described in a practical manner the successful farmer of today. Many Attend Evangelistic Service. Thirty-Five Births During February. Returns of five marriages and thirty-five births in the town of Windham for February have been filed with Town Clerk Frank P. Fenton. The latter figures constitute a record breaking feat, as there is no record of so many births in a single month in the town, in recent years, at least, and February was a short month.

HARD CIDER Causes Trouble and Expense to Mansfield Man.

The Hanks Hill section of Mansfield was considerably excited Tuesday evening over the actions of a half-crazed man who threatened to do all sorts of terrible things and so terrified his family that they left the house to him seeking refuge elsewhere. Last Saturday John Farrell came home from Montpelier, Vt., where he had been engaged as a veterinary surgeon for some time. It is reported that he has been drinking freely of hard cider since his return and as a result acted like a crazy person Tuesday. He obtained a heavy sledge and proceeded to pound his family who were in the house. Constable William Place of Conantville was notified and secured the services of Constable Raymond Main, Jr. of this city. They went to the house and took Farrell unawares, coming upon him unexpectedly in his underclothes as he was in the act of undressing. He was taken to the station for safe keeping. Wednesday morning Farrell was taken to Mansfield and arraigned before Justice of the Peace George H. Allen, charged with breach of the peace and intoxication. He was found guilty and was fined $5 and costs, which amounted to $25.41, which he paid.

Reade Stock Bought by W. H. Phillips for $1,400. Wednesday afternoon the stock and fixtures of the grocery store of Herbert E. Reade at 717 Main street went under the hammer at 1.45 o'clock. C. F. Macfarlane was the auctioneer. A good crowd congregated, including practically every grocer in town and some from outside. There were only two bidders, W. H. Phillips of Hampton and Robert E. Reid of Manchester and Hartford, representing an auction and commission company of Hartford. It was stated that everything in the store would go to the successful bidder

Guests Entertained at St. Patrick's Party—D. A. R. Souvenir for Mrs. Frank Coulam—Electric Light Contract Authorized.

Miss May Raney and Miss Elizabeth Whiting entertained the A. F. class and their men friends at the home of Mrs. Raney at a St. Patrick's party Tuesday evening. After the business meeting of the class a delightful time was spent in games, singing, etc. Miss Katherine Babcock played several Irish songs and the person guessing the greatest number received a green Irish hat full of candy. Wallace Payne was the lucky one. The consolation went to Miss Alice McBroom in the shape of a green lilytop. The decorations were effective. Chinese lanterns covered with green crepe paper were conspicuous all parts of the house. In the dining room there were green streamers from the ceiling to all parts of the room. This room was lighted by Chinese lanterns. A large green centerpiece adorned the table. The napkins were bordered with shamrocks. Each place was furnished with a green card matching shamrocks that had been cut in two. The dainty lunch served by the hostesses included peanut butter sandwiches, olives, fruit cake with green frosting, green and white cakes, cakes decorated with small shamrocks, green creamed walnuts, green peppermints, assorted candies. Each person present received an Irish postcard and a dainty card in the shape of a shamrock bearing the words St. Patrick's Party. All spent a delightful time. Those present were: Miss Alice McBroom, Miss Mabel McBroom, Miss Elizabeth Whiting, Miss Theresa Raney, Miss Katherine Babcock, Miss Grace Eicknell, Miss Ellen Jones, Miss May Raney, Miss Ida Foster and Wallace Payne, Leland Raney, George Robertson, Theodore Robinson, John Hillour, John Baker, Coleman, John LaFontaine, Walter Corbett.

F. Pierce, Preston City road; Dexter A. Johnson, south west route; Edwin E. Lewis, south route; W. A. Edmonds, west route.

To Sign Contract With Power Company.

A special meeting of the foremen of the borough was held in the town hall Tuesday evening to consider means of improving the electric lighting system. The electric light commissioners state that two propositions had been placed before them, one to take up the old contract which was broken by the Nashua Power company, to supply the borough with a minimum of 90,000 kilowatt hours per year for $5,000, the other the installation of another oil engine of the Delevergue type. It had been found that steam was utterly out of the question. The oil engine would probably be of 55 horse power and cost installed about $8,000. Over 100 were present at the meeting. Many were in favor of signing the new contract with the Nashua Power company at the new figure of $5,000 per year. It is thought the borough may begin to get the new service in from four to six months.

Although the members of the district committee of the South school district, Hartford, have repeatedly denied that Supervisor Charles H. Keyes had resigned, it is now known that the rumor to the effect that he was to retire at the end of the school year is well founded. The members of the committee are still reticent about the matter. Mr. Keyes told one of them as far back as November of his intentions. He plans to take a year's course at Columbia university in the schools of education and pedagogy, and will then, it is understood, resume school work. Mr. Keyes will make New York his home for a time, moving there with his family next summer. Mr. Keyes has been at the head of the schools of the South District since 1899. He was born at Banfield, Wis., September 6, 1859, and was graduated from St. John's college, Wisconsin, in 1878, and has long been prominent as an educator. Immediately before coming to Hartford he was principal of the high school at Holyoke, Mass. Hurl by the Neck. Frank Harrison of Prospect narrowly escaped serious injury while at work for the New Haven Water company one day last week. He was sawing limbs from a tree when his foot slipped from the limb on which he was standing, and he fell. A rope fastened around his waist in some way caught around his neck and he dangled in midair, holding himself only by the saw which caught where he was using it. A ladder was got to him as quickly as possible, and he escaped with a sore neck and minus two teeth. Physicians Are Naturally Prejudiced against proprietary or advertised medicines, as the sale of these remedies decrease their incomes. However this may be, the general public is benefited by the use of such standard medicines as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, with its wonderful record of thousands of cures among suffering women. We are very glad to say, however, that there are hundreds of honest physicians in the United States who do not hesitate to recommend such medicines. A Timely Protection.
