OBITUARY. Mrs. Mary T. S. Holman. Mrs. Mary T. S. Holman, Smithwick Holman, aged 83, died Monday morning at 4 o'clock at her home, 393 Pleasant street, following four months' illness with pneumonia. She was born in the town of Willimantic, Conn., on the 15th of July, 1825, and sixty years ago removed to this city. She was married twice, her first husband being Charles Holman, and the second Abraham Holman. Following a two years' residence here, she returned to Norwich, where she resided until the death of her husband, which occurred here. Mrs. Holman was a most intelligent woman, a fine conversationalist and was well liked by a large circle of friends. She was a member of the earliest Irish settlers in this part of the state she could relate many incidents of early life in New London and Windham counties. Mrs. Holman's only daughter, the wife of John Lennon, of this city, died a number of years ago. She is survived by six grandchildren, Miss Mary Lennon, head nurse at St. Joseph's hospital, William P. and Patrick A. Lennon of this city, and the late William P. Lennon, Edward Lennon of Arizona and Thomas Lennon of Atlanta, Ga. There also survive a number of nieces and nephews. Burial is to be in St. Mary's cemetery, Greenview.

Lucian Bass. Lucian Bass, who would have been 80 years old had he lived until today, died late Sunday evening at the Norwich hospital. He was a member of the institution he was committed by the local probate court about a month ago. He was born in Scotland in 1830 and had lived all his life in New London, the exception of the years 1867-70, when he was in the middle west, passing most of that period in Minnesota. He had been employed by the Connecticut employ of a life insurance company for two years, when he gave it up to take up farming, which he followed up to a short time ago. He devoted most of his attention to fruit growing. His large farm was situated half in Scotland and half in Windham, but he had a small one in Windham. He was a republican and had held several minor offices, being at times a member of the board of relief, justice of the peace, and constable. He was a member of the Scotland Congregational church. For several years past, however, his family had attended the Willimantic church. Mr. Bass was a patient at St. Joseph's hospital from October of last year until February, when he was taken to Norwich. About thirteen years ago, when the Bass home burned, he received a fall from which he never fully recovered and that caused his infirmities at times. The body was arrived in this city Monday afternoon on the 4 o'clock Central Vermont train and was taken to his home in Scotland. There he was cared for by his wife, Mary R. Bass, a son, Eben Bass, of Exeter, R. I., and two daughters, Misses Clara and Anna Bass, of Scotland.

Interests of Company L. Thursday evening Company L. goes to Hartford to participate in the first of a series of battalion drills by the State National Guard. The company, composed of C. G. L. and F. The drill will be continued monthly and will be held in the new armory.

Proposed Construction Must Be Submitted to Council. Statement of the Rockville-Willimantic-Lighting Co. Made to Board of Aldermen—Other Business Done. The March meeting of the board of aldermen Monday evening was an unusually lengthy one, and matters of vital interest to the city and its citizens, aside from the general routine business, were brought up and discussed. The most important of these was the present difficulty that the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting Co. has recently encountered.

Excellent Entertainment Provided. The entertainment in town hall on Monday evening brought out a good sized audience and as a result the local branch of the W. C. T. U. realized a tidy sum. The programme was a fine one and consisted of numbers by the Tempo male quartette of Hartford, assisted by Miss Ethel Batting of Boston, who gave several fine impersonations and brilliant monologues that were well received. Miss Batting's work was the best of its kind and her efforts were liberally applauded. The quartette was accompanied by the organ for his excellent singing. Many who heard it at the Baptist church a few months ago found special pleasure for water service on Monticello street was referred to the water committee.

Mayor's Veto Sustained. The clerk then read the mayor's veto, with lengthy reasons, of the recent amendment to an ordinance relating to the appointment of a superintendent of sewers, and resolution No. 289 relating to the publication of the same. Upon motion, Alderman Whitmore seconded by Alderman Shepard, the veto was sustained.

A resolution authorizing the printing of suitable blanks for the use of the street department was adopted, as was one authorizing the mayor to borrow $5,000 for benefit and upon credit of the city in such fractions of parts as may from time to time be deemed necessary.

More Main Street Paving. The council also adopted a resolution to continue the paving of Main street from Railroad street westerly, same pavement of granite blocks grouted in cement, as far as the appropriation for the present year would permit.

A proposed amendment to the ordinance relating to sewers and specifications for the appointment of a superintendent of sewers, was introduced by Alderman Shepard and passed.

Pole Line Discussion. Mayor Dunn then called attention to the clause in the charter relating to the powers and restrictions of the Willimantic Gas and Electric Light company and alluded to the methods that had been employed by the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting company in getting a pole line erected. He told how the council had been absolutely ignored and that the company did not now know whether or not it was encroaching upon city rights as regards correct setting of poles, with reference to sidewalk laws on Pleasant street.

General Manager Campbell Explains. Alexander J. Campbell, general manager of the company, was present with the mayor and addressed his honor and the council, apologizing for any wrong that the company had committed and said that he agreed that there were grounds for the mayor's remarks. He continued by saying:

We were told that matters affecting our company were to be brought before you tonight and we want to state our position in relation to the incidents that have caused the apparent trouble as well as our general attitude. A few days ago it was brought to our attention that trees belonging to two or three parties had been damaged by linemen. The Rockville-Willimantic Lighting company, a holding company owning practically all of the stock of the Willimantic Gas and Electric Light company, employed a contracting firm to build the pole line. The contractor furnished the linemen. Whether we were legally liable for the damage we do not even discuss. As we are not a party to the damage we saw the parties who had sustained it and paid them. And I am glad to say that those parties are willing to come before you and state that not only are they satisfied with our treatment but they also are satisfied that we never intended to injure their property.

Necessary to Satisfy. The time has long since passed when a public service corporation can succeed unless it satisfies the community which it is serving that the corporation is doing the right thing by them. If the Willimantic Gas and Electric Light company succeeds it must satisfy you and the people you represent that it is doing just as well by you as it possibly can. We have been here less than a year—you know, and the people of this city know, whether and to what extent we have succeeded in furnishing better service, more courteous treatment and better lighted streets. We have invited complaints of any defects in our service, we have even gone so far as to furnish our patrons with addressed postal cards so that without any trouble to them they could notify us of any dissatisfaction with our service. If there is any cause for complaint, either from the city or from the community, we propose to remove that cause. And that is why we are here tonight.

City the Best Customer. The city of Willimantic is the best customer that the Willimantic Gas and Electric Light company has. The patronage of the people of this city is one of our most valuable assets. We are greatly indebted to you for your patronage and believe we can do it to the mutual benefit of our customers and the company. We want to help you to build this city, it is to our advantage to do this, and it is to the advantage of every citizen of Willimantic. We want to be helpful in bringing new industries here that will use electricity for power. With the unrivaled railroad facilities that Willimantic has it should have many more industrial and manufacturing enterprises. But your water power is all taken up, and steam power, in an inland city, is too expensive today, and the increasing cost of coal makes it more expensive in the future. We want to be in a position to furnish electric power at rates that will bring industries here. We are anxious to unite with you, Board of Trade or with any other organizations representing the city in bringing in these new industries. And we will do our best to bring in new industries to which we can furnish the power.

Only Business Relation. I have stated as well as I can our position. We want at the earliest moment to be in a position to furnish the electric power which we have contracted for with the Uncas Power company, and just here let us say that the Uncas Power company has absolutely no connection with us except to sell us power which we buy delivered to us at their plant at Scotland. We contracted with the Uncas Power company to take a certain quantity of electricity, and we must pay for it whether we get it or not. Every day of delay means a heavy loss to us. We have stated before you exactly the situation, what we have done, what we are trying to do, what we hope to do. If there is friction between us, it should be our fault.

Quite a number of pertinent questions were asked by Alderman Shepard and Whitmore, which were answered by Mr. Campbell and Attorney W. O. King, who spoke in the interests of the company.

Alderman Whitmore introduced a resolution that the Willimantic Gas and Electric Light company present to council a full statement of new construction and changes in existing lines at an early date, which was unanimously adopted.

It was voted that the special sidewalk committee of last year make a report of its proceedings at the next meeting.

The current monthly bills were ordered paid as usual.
