IMPROMPTU WEDDING.

East Longmeadow Man and Maid Married Thursday at Town Clerk's Office. Town Clerk Frank Fenton's office was a busy place Thursday afternoon. Among the unusual activities was a wedding performed there by a clergyman. The man and woman with relatives walked into the office during mid-afternoon and the groom-elect procured a marriage license. He then wanted to know where a clergyman lived. Clerk Fenton obligingly endeavored to get one by wire, but was unable to do so, but about this time City and Town Tax Collector J. E. Baldwin entered and being made aware of the situation, recalled the fact that he had seen Rev. Louis M. Flocken, pastor of the Methodist church, at the bank, when he came up to City hall. The telephone got to working again, the clergyman was reached and in the course of a few minutes arrived. After a brief conference, Clinton F. Markham of East Longmeadow, Mass., and Miss Myrtle T. Brooks of the same place were married at 4.15 o'clock. The attending couple were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Prentice, also of East Longmeadow, relatives of the bride. It was found that the party was too late for the 403 Central Vermont fly north and therefore a leisurely walk was taken about the city until Tuesday. The bride was gowned in a lavender suit of green and wore a stylish black Easter hat. They were away for a few days' visit, they said, and thought as long as relatives were also along, it would be a good time to get married.

Raymond-Smith. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Austin, 464 Pleasant street, there was a quiet Wednesday when the former's niece, Miss Grace Hazel Smith, daughter of Mrs. Cora Smith of Suffield, was united in marriage with James J. Raymond of Brooklyn, N. Y., son of Mrs. Cameron of Waterbury.

The house was prettily decorated with roses and ferns. The bride was handsomely gowned in a fawn colored traveling-suit, and wore a large black hat. Only relatives were present. The ceremony was performed at 5.30 o'clock by Rev. William S. Beard, pastor of the First Congregational church. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond left on their honeymoon in the evening and will make their home in Brooklyn, N. Y., where the groom is employed in the shipyards.

Coachman at Montville. Ex-Supt. W. B. F. Jeffers of the Willimantic camp ground has resigned at the American Thread company's plant in this city and has gone to Montville, where he is coachman for Mrs. Elizabeth Burdick.

FUNERAL. Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hyde. The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hyde was held Thursday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Franklin. The service was largely attended. Rev. H. A. Beadle of North Franklin and Rev. Harry Grimes, pastor of the Windham Center Congregational church, officiated. There was singing during the service. There were many beautiful flowers. The bearers were Frank Date, Herman, Charles and Theodore Gager. Burial was in the Plains cemetery.

Directors Elmore & Shepard of this city were in charge of the arrangements.

Trouble With Telephone Service. George W. McLean, state factory inspector, had quite a time endeavoring to get telephone service. A number of different persons with whom he wished to converse, Thursday afternoon, in this city, and while he was awaiting a leisure wire or two thought that he would telephone to a clerk in his own office in the capitol at Hartford. He supposed that he put the call through all right and when the telephone number rang he answered and conversed politely, thinking that the people at the other end did not know of any such person. Mr. McLean thought that it was a pretty good joke not to be known in his own office.
