WESTERLY DUMB MAN TALKS

Mysterious "Chas. Dutton" Finds His Tongue Suddenly—Lawton's Bottling Establishment Raided—Census Enumerators Named—Peeping Tom Rounded Up—Suit Against Insurance Companies.

While it has seemed to many in Westerly that for years James Lawton, who has a bottling establishment on what is known as the White Schoolhouse road, was immune from arrest for violating the liquor laws, the belief was partially dissipated the day before Christmas when the police made a raid on the place and seized a large quantity of beer, whiskey and gin. In due time the suit was brought against the seized goods and as no claimant appeared they were adjudged forfeited to the state by Judge Oliver and Williams and order issued for their destruction, but Mr. Lawton was not called to the bar or justice, and it was supposed that there was to be no further molestation of Mr. Lawton's method of business until Saturday when the police interfered with the Easter trade.

At ten o'clock Saturday morning, Chief Brandisfeld, accompanied by Sergeant Brown and Constables West and expected visit to the Lawton place and served a search warrant upon Mr. Lawton. Then the officers made search for intoxicating liquors and made a haul nearly as large as that of three months ago. They found and took to the police station five half-barrels of six three kegs of ale and one keg of porter, which had been shipped from the Providence Brewing company to J. Lawton, Westerly, R. I., as indicated on the labels. The officers also seized one hundred and thirty-two bottles of lager, twenty-four bottles of porter, one quart of whiskey, one quart of gin and a pint bottle containing a small quantity of whiskey. In due time suit will be brought against the liquor and Mr. Lawton given opportunity to claim the seized goods. Then will follow suit for violation of the liquor laws.

Thomas De Paolo, who conducted a store in the premises at No. 74 Pierce street, which the building was damaged by fire last October, has instituted proceedings in the Third district court to recover $1,000 for fire insurance for the contents of the store, $300 from the National Fire Insurance Co. of Allegheny, Pa., and $500 from the Commercial Fire Insurance company of Pittsburgh, Pa. It is understood that the reason for withholding the payment of the insurance money is the suspicion that the fire was of suspicious origin. Soon after the fire, the National Underwriters' association bills were posted in Westerly to the effect that the fire was of incendiary origin and a substantial reward was offered for the detection, arrest and conviction of the firebug, but Mr. De Paolo does not consider this suspicion a reason sufficient for the non-payment of the insurance.

her the chief persisted in the prosecution that ended in his committing Sunday afternoon, Sergeant Brown, with mittimus, took the prisoner to the court house and to police headquarters before proceeding to Cranston. There he was readily recognized as Charles Kelley, a resident of Point Main street and with an unsavory record. When he saw the game was up he commenced to talk, declaring that he had not uttered a word during his nearly four days' stay in Westerly. He did not feel much like talking then. He can hear as well and talk as well as anybody, he said, and added that he was also able to not the part of a dummy to the queue, even if the authorities of Westerly did resort to almost brutal methods to force him to quit shamming and tell the story of his life.

For the summer military maneuvers Fifth company, coast artillery corps, has been assigned to Battery Mitchell at Fort Greble. It is contemplated eventually to assign to particular batteries of home troops, but on account of the small number of troops, the instruction of coast artillery reserves, it is considered best that the companies be linked as closely as possible with the regulars and that these assignments be temporary. Colonel Tillinghast of the First artillery district has appointed Brantley Barnes as electrical sergeant. Sergeant Barnes is an expert in every detail of electricity.

Capt. Walter E. Harrington, Fourth company, coast artillery corps, has forwarded Charles Dutton, the deaf and dumb boy, to the care of the Point Main street lighthouse keeper, Mr. Whisley. Stops Lameness. Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first sign of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating—goes right to the spot—relieves the soreness—limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Here's the Proof. Mr. G. T. Roberts of Resaca, Ga., R.F.D. No. 1, Box 43, writes:—"I have used your Liniment on a horse for swerney and effected a thorough cure. I also removed a spavin on a mule. This spavin was as large as a gull's egg. In my estimation the best remedy for lameness and soreness is Sloan's Liniment."

Sloan's Liniment will kill a spavin, curb or puff, reduce wind puffs and swollen joints, and is a sure and speedy remedy for fistula, swerney, founder and thrush. Price 50c, and $1.00. Sloan's Liniment, Sloan's Liniment, Sloan's Liniment, Sloan's Liniment. Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass., U. S. A.

WE WANT MORE WORK. GOLD DUST. GOLD DUST. GOLD DUST.

The Gold Dust Twins are not happy unless busy. They want more work—your work. Why not give them a trial? Gold Dust is a necessity in every well-regulated home—it's a time-saver and labor-saver.

The economy of Gold Dust is its efficiency. A little of the powder does so much—goes so far. Other powders and cleansers may look the same, may be advertised to do the same, but there's a big difference in actual results. Gold Dust stands alone among washing powders, and nothing can successfully take its place.

Do not use Soap, Naphtha, Borax, Soda, Ammonia or Kerosene with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has all desirable cleansing qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form. The Gold Dust Twins need no outside help.
