ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE ARCANUM CLUB. Largest Ever Held, There Being 140 Present—Fine Menu Served—Meeting Postponed out of Respect to President Young.

What is thought to have been the largest annual banquet ever held at the club's history was that of Tuesday evening, when every seat at the tables was taken, there being 140 present. This was decidedly pleasing to the club officers, and all felt well repaid for their attendance as the fine menu served was one of unusual excellence. It consisted of:

- Blue Points on Half Shell, Escalloped Oysters, Cold Turkey, Cranberry Jelly, Potato Salad, Ice Cream, Coffee, Fruit, Cake, Cigars

The entertainment committee had charge of the affair, the members being F. W. Cary, Frank H. Smith, Arthur E. Story and Louis R. Porteous, while the capable assistance of Steward Charles H. Ames and Alexander Carrington was the chef, everything being prepared and cooked in the club's kitchen. It proved one of the finest the club members ever had, and was richly enjoyed by every waiter.

After the cigars were lighted, Vice President Z. R. Robbins called the annual business meeting to order. He said that it was with sadness that he had to refer to the bereavement of the late William B. Young by the death of his daughter, who was which he felt sure the members had been previously informed. As a mark of respect, he considered it fitting that the meeting be adjourned out of respect to Mr. Young and his family and offered to entertain such a motion. Upon motion of Col. C. W. Gale the meeting was adjourned for one week, when the vice president expressed the hope that there would be as large a number in attendance, and thank the meeting for the action.

FIFTH ANNUAL BANQUET OF PHI ALPHA MU SIGMA. Held at Wauregan House With About 25 in Attendance—Evening of Pleasure Spent.

There were about twenty-five members of the Phi Alpha Mu Sigma, an academy fraternity who were at the fifth annual banquet and reunion at the Wauregan house on Tuesday evening. The following choice menu was served by Manager Davenport:

- Grape Fruit Cocktail, Chicken Bouillon in Cups, Wafers, Celery, Salted Nuts, Olives, Crab Cucumber, Cardini, Fried Chicken a la Maryland, Pommes Penalade, Petit Pois, Orange Sorbet, Lobster, French Cream in Meringue Shells, Fancy Cake, Demi Tasse, Cigarettes, Cigars

As toastmaster, John J. McCormick was well chosen filling the place with much credit. The toasts responded to were as follows: Our Fraternity, R. L. Tarrant; Alumni, F. E. Snelly; New Chapters, A. J. McNamara; Benefits, Thomas J. Aubrey; Athletics, John Crowe; Future, N. V. Walsh. Others who were called upon for brief remarks were D. H. McCormick, C. J. McLaughlin and Joseph Henry. A number from out of town were present, many of the colleges being represented.

The committee in charge of the successful affair included Arthur J. McNamara, chairman; John F. McCormick and Richard L. Tarrant.

Williamatic May Invite Conference. SUPT. CHAPMAN AT ALMHOUSE

Commences His Duties on Friday, Succeeding Marvin L. Bailey, who has Made an Excellent Record—Native of Griswold.

The change in superintendents at the almshouse takes place on Friday, when Marvin L. Bailey, who for the past 17 years has been in charge of that institution, completes his duties there in accordance with the terms of his resignation, and James B. Chapman, who was named by the selectmen to succeed him, begins his term of service. Mr. Bailey has moved his goods from the institution and will reside in Williams street, although part of the time this summer he will spend on a small farm in Franklin near Ayers mountain, and he will also be at Sag Harbor, L. I., having decided to take a month of the summer at least. The superintendent-elect, James B. Chapman, is a native of the town of Griswold, where he was born in 1857, and remained with his parents until he became 21 years of age at which time he took a place as boss farmer in the town of Lisbon, where he remained a number of years. He has since been a successful farmer in this part of the state. He was united in marriage with Jennie E. Rathbun of Lisbon in 1879, and in 1893 he moved his family to Norwich Town, living for a number of years on the place known as the "Lafayette farm," of the town of Lisbon, and now owned by the city, the water department having acquired it for the protection of the water supply. From there he went to Franklin, having purchased the Hyde farm, located near Hyde tavern, and remained there eight years. Selling that, he bought the Gardner property in Bozrah, west of Fitchville. Some time ago he decided to retire from farming on a large scale and bought the Selden Wightman place on West Town street, Norwich Town, where he has since resided. For over twelve years Mr. Chapman has been a milk peddler in this city, where he is well known. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman will take up the work Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have been doing so acceptably, and it is believed they will prove the right ones for the place. In all things dealing with Mr. Chapman has been found to be a man of strict integrity and reliability. He is a temperate man with no bad habits and a high moral character, and the board feels that they have secured an excellent man for the place and Mr. Chapman's friends wish him success in his new work.

BOSTONIA LADIES' ORCHESTRA GAVE FINE CONCERT. Third of Y. M. C. A. Entertainments a Great Success.

Like the preceding numbers in the Y. M. C. A. course of entertainments, the concert by the Bostonia Ladies' orchestra of sixteen members, assisted by Dr. George R. Clark, basso, the third in the course, was a great success on Tuesday evening at the Central Baptist church. The audience present filled the church auditorium and applauded enthusiastically each number of the program, which was arranged with nice musical discrimination and performed with distinctive ability throughout. It was an encore programme all through and for one number a double encore was demanded from the orchestra. Under their conductor, Belle Yeaton Renfrew, they played with delightful spirit, harmony and expression that put their selections in the first rank of orchestral work.

In his bass solos Dr. Clark impressed his hearers most favorably with his cultivated voice and they eagerly asked for more songs from him, which he obligingly rendered. Miss Lillian Chandler, violin soloist, was equally a favorite for her artistic playing and was called out for another number.

The following comprised the brass quartet, which was heard in the first number of the programme: Dora Damon, cornet; Grace Mae Morse, solo horn; Alice Florence Morse, horn; Belle Yeaton Renfrew, trombone.

The following was the programme rendered: March, Triumphant, Venuto Overture, Summer Night's Dream, I'm a Roamer (Son and Stranger), Mendelssohn, Recessional, Dr. Clark, De Koven, Gems from The Operas, Tobiaki Violin solo, Second Polonaise in D major, Miss Chandler, Wieniawski In the Deep, Cold Sea, Petrie Dr. Clark, Intermzzo for strings, Pendant le Bal, Gilles Selection, The Prima Donna, Herbert

The usher for the evening were F. H. Cranston, head usher; L. R. Church, N. Eugene Smith, C. Edward Smith, Jerry G. Angell, William R. Frisken, Orest T. Ferguson, on the main floor, and Henry Arnold, head usher in the gallery, assisted by P. S. Ricketts, Jay Ricketts, Channing Huntington, Roy Sean and John Durr. Tickets were in charge of H. W. Gallup and J. Holland Larabee, and at the door were Harrison C. Noyes and Leroy Storms. Programmes were distributed by Benjamin Bruce and Richard Young.

PORTELANCE NOW LEADS IN ARCANUM POOL TOURNAY. Won His Game With Bailey and Has Finished His Games—Only Six More Games to Be Played.

There is certain to be a tie in the Arcanum pool tournament and in that will be Portelance, the unknown of the tournament, who with a handicap of 20 has won all but two of the games he has played. He is now in the lead and will have to play off a tie either with Pierson or Harwood. There will be six more games to be played. Harwood has two and Pierson one, but they must play each other. Five of the players have finished.

The games won and lost and the points secured in the 50-point games are as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Name, Won, Lost, Pts. Portelance 9, 2, 527; Pierson 8, 2, 494; Harwood 7, 2, 426; Whitney 6, 2, 475; Rawson 5, 5, 425; Stearns 4, 4, 348; Foss 5, 6, 454; Haviland 4, 5, 438; Jordan 3, 6, 368; Tainter 3, 6, 376; Pulsifer 4, 7, 409; Bailey 3, 9, 406

MORE SUBPOENAS ISSUED AT PITTSBURG. Yesterday's Evidence in Graft Cases Showed Further Sensation are Probable.

Pittsburg, March 29.—The principals or "men higher up" in the councilmanic briberies, were still unnamed at the conclusion of today's probe by the grand jury, but the activity of that body gave evidence that further sensations are kindling. The inquisitors have several more bankers before them today but their most important witness was Charles Stewart, the former councilman who is said to have received a large sum of bribe money and who is believed to know the source of most of the $102,500 which it is alleged was used in bribing councilmen. Stewart's story, which is said to have been told under three hours' pressure before the grand jury today is considered the strongest link in the chain of evidence against the six banks which are alleged to have obtained the privilege of holding city deposits by buying councilmanic votes. Stewart's face was drawn when he left the star-chamber. He refused to comment at all upon his testimony.
