

AT GENOA A DAY HEADS OFF THE

Change in Plans Made to Avoid the Constantly Increasing Demonstrations

ROOSEVELT PARTY ABANDONS DRIVE

Trip of Roosevelt Stirs to a High Pitch the Romantic Nature of the Genoise—Today the Party Visit Miss Carow, Mrs. Roosevelt's Sister, at Port Maurizio—Clifford Pinchot Due There Next Monday.

Genoa, April 8.—The sentimental glorification of Theodore Roosevelt and his wife, on which it was their intention to retrace by easy stages their honeymoon trip, today has been abruptly ended here this afternoon, twenty-four hours ahead of the schedule which has been planned.

The change in plans was made to avoid the constantly increasing demonstrations which have been directed against the party. At every little village or crossroads, they were met by men, women and children, the former with flags and the latter with bouquets. As an instance of the demonstrations that were being accorded them, six hundred persons, many of them Americans, including Colonel Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt with vivas and hurrahs as they left Rapallo, where they had dined today. This was the climax to their embarrassments, and Colonel Roosevelt gave orders to be driven direct to Genoa.

The people and press of Genoa have manifested the most intense interest in the movements of Colonel Roosevelt. His second honeymoon journey stirred their romantic nature to a high pitch and when the news spread of his coming, a big crowd gathered to the modest Hotel Britannia, where he had secured quarters, and with cheering and the waving of hats greeted the arrival of the dust covered carriage as it rattled up the stony street to the second floor of the hotel.

Had a "Bully" Time.

Both Colonel Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt were smiling when they descended from the carriage at the hotel entrance. They said they had enjoyed the trip hugely and were glad only that non-observance of their itinerary by the people had compelled them to cut the trip short.

Colonel Roosevelt said he had a "bully" time Thursday, when he and Mrs. Roosevelt drove along the shores of the Ligurian Alps from Spezia to Rapallo.

Greeted by the Mayor.

Half an hour after the arrival of Mr. Roosevelt, the conference and the mayor of Genoa called on him and greeted him in the name of the municipality.

Colonel Roosevelt and his wife dined quietly at their hotel.

At Miss Carow's Villa Today.

Tomorrow the Roosevelt will continue their journey by train to Porto Maurizio, where they will visit Miss Carow, Mrs. Roosevelt's sister, who lives in the villa there. The inhabitants of Porto Maurizio have planned elaborate festivities in honor of the American ex-president and his chief interest in his three days' stay at the Carow villa will be the visit there on Monday to see Colonel Roosevelt of Gifford Pinchot, the former chief forester of the United States department of agriculture.

It is said that the visit of Mr. Pinchot will not be followed by any of the sensational developments that evidently are anticipated in some quarters. Colonel Roosevelt has announced in advance that he will have nothing to do with the interview.

Will Not Talk Politics.

He continues to maintain the silence on political affairs he brought back with him from the heart of Africa. He has kept a diary open while being posted on what happened during his absence and with regard to the present political situation at home, without bias he is ready to listen to friend or foe.

Colonel Roosevelt will be accompanied by Clifford Pinchot, who is being accorded to Mr. Pinchot's request for an interview, and during it Mr. Pinchot will be a witness, standing at his side of the series of events that led up to his dismissal as President Roosevelt's chief forester.

It is said that by letter or otherwise, Colonel Roosevelt has had from ardent supporters and admirers in the United States a number of sharp criticisms of the Taft administration and it is believed also that he has received a number of letters from the press and the public, many of which are of an impression they have made. He always insists that he has nothing to say on the subject and he gets back to America.

The newspaper has ceased to be a luxury, because it has become a magazine of useful information from day to day which makes it a necessity. A good daily in 1910 is simply a guide to progress—progress in learning, progress in the utilities of life, progress in the economies. It is the continuous salesman of the advertiser and a never-failing help to the housewife and bargain hunter. The poorest newspaper handed right by reader or merchant ought to pay for itself over and over again. It not only keeps the consumers informed of what the merchants are offering, but it keeps them posted upon what their competitors are doing and qualifies them the more intelligently how to conduct business, as it opens to consumers the way to desirable goods at reasonable prices.

The Bulletin will be left at your door for 12 cents a week.
