Domestic, Imported and CLICQUOT CLUB

Those who have tried all three kinds prefer Clicquot Club, because it lacks the burning sting in other ginger ales, caused by the red pepper, and because its quality and taste are undeniably superior.

The best fresh ginger and the best sugar (not saccharine) are used in Clicquot Club, with a dash of pure citric fruit flavor. The water (Clicquot Spring water) is the best ginger ale water in the world; and the carbonating and bottling is perfect.

Danger Reappears in China

Another Anti-Foreign Uprising at Chang-Sha Feared—Foreigners Officially Notified to Seek Refuge on All Available Ships.

Washington, May 16.—Another uprising at Chang-Sha, China, is very much feared. The commander of the United States gunboat Helena has telegraphed to the state department from Hankow to the effect that the conditions at Chang-Sha are most serious and that all foreigners were notified officially on the 11th instant to seek refuge on the ships that were available. The war vessels in the river are believed to be sufficiently strong to control the situation. Although the state department has not been officially advised as to the exact nature or cause of the present threatened uprising, it is believed that it is directed principally against the Manchou government. It was pointed out that revolutionary uprisings were of more or less frequent occurrence throughout China, but that in most cases the scenes of the disturbances were so remote from news centers that many of them passed without the facts ever becoming known. The present movement, however, in Hunan province is of more than ordinary significance, inasmuch as the province is one of the most wealthy and important in all China. During the last century the troops from Hunan have borne the brunt of many conflicts, and credit is given them for suppressing the T'ai-ping rebellion in which the contest lasted from 1855 to 1864. The people of the province have long been noted for their anti-foreign sentiment and for their bravery in battle. The proposed line of railroad from Hankow south runs directly through this province, and it is believed that the disturbed conditions there will stimulate the Chinese authorities to their best effort to secure the construction of this road at as early a date as possible, as upon its completion the government will be in a position to rush troops to the disaffected sections in case of formidable uprisings.

QUITS PULPIT IN ORDER TO TAKE UP BUSINESS

Rev. McLaurin Would Rather Die Than Be Narrow and Unprogressive.

Chicago, May 16.—With a parting defense of his stand and a declaration that he would rather die than be narrow, bigoted and unprogressive, the Rev. Donald McLaurin gave his last sermon at the Second Baptist church yesterday. He said later he was through with the ministry, and would enter business. In his sermon on the passage of the "A" clergyman of today," he said, "should not be held responsible for the theology of the sixteenth century. We were hidden in grace and in knowledge, and I do not believe any one has yet exhausted the supply of either. A man may have a new vision or he may have an old one from a new angle. I shall always be a Baptist; but I shall be a progressive one; I should rather die than become anything else." Dr. McLaurin opposed the expulsion of Prof. George Burman Foster from the Chicago Baptist ministers' conference last year, but without indicating whether he shared the universal professor's belief. He called the act of the conference a "usurpation of authority," and after an unsuccessful fight against the ruling he withdrew himself.

CONGRESS MONDAY.

Administration Railroad Bill—Amendments Defeated—Inauguration Day Date Unchanged.

Washington, May 16.—The feature of the consideration of the administration railroad bill in the senate was the vote taken on an amendment by Senator Cummins to strike out the sections of the bill to provide for the establishment of a commerce court. This was defeated 23 to 37. The affirmative vote was cast chiefly by democrats and "insurgent" republicans.

A number of other amendments were offered to the sections, but all of them were defeated. Notice of other amendments was given and they will be considered when the senate convenes tomorrow.

This being unanimous consent and suspension day in the house a large number of bills were passed. Among the more important ones was a senate bill providing for a system of parole for United States prisoners sentenced for more than one year who have served at least one-third of their terms.

A resolution introduced by Mr. Henry of Texas, to change the date of the inauguration of the president and vice president from March 4 until the last Thursday in April, was defeated. Only one vote was lacking of the two-thirds of the house necessary to provide for the submission of a constitutional amendment for that purpose to the several states of the union. The house will meet tomorrow.

Mr. Taft as a Fighter.

Those insurgents who nurse the delusion in their rather immature political bosoms that President Taft is the kind of man who can be bluffed in the game of politics are apt to receive a rude shock when Mr. Taft returns to Washington from his present swing through the middle west. Mr. Taft is a peace-loving man, as was proved by his quiet diplomatic movements in the case of the friars' lands in the Philippines, as well as by his letter—hitherto unpublished—last September, urging an amicable settlement of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. But it is a notable fact that he left Rome after his little conference with the pope with all the honors of war, although the pope and the friars were fully satisfied with the arrangements he had suggested, and it is also noted that he wears Mr. Pinchot's scalp at his belt.

In his tour of the country last fall he threw down the gauntlet to the insurgent senators of Minnesota, Iowa and other states in their own battlegrounds on the Aldrich-Payne tariff act. The same sturdy quality of his character was demonstrated in the closing hours of the conference on the tariff bill. At the outset he had remained quiescent in his summer home by the sea, acting on the theory that it was the duty of a president to recommend legislation and of the members of the senate and house to enact it. But when the prospects of fulfilling the republican national platform pledges regarding the tariff began to grow faint he went to Washington and threw the weight of his influence into the fight with his coat off and his sleeves up to the shoulders. —Kansas City Journal.

Connecticut Charter Hidden in Vault. The ponderous safe which contained the charter of the colony of Connecticut was moved last week by means of a derrick from the state library to the first floor of the Capital. The safe is on its way to the new state library building, where it will be set up at the east end of the Memorial hall in a niche designed specially for the purpose. The charter has been deposited in the vault in the basement of the capitol and a large photographic copy of it is, for the present, taking its place in the state library.
