JEWETT CITY Town Decorated by Loving Hands— Graves Meeting Voted $1,500 Toward Soldiers' Monument—If Site Is Secured, David Hale Fanning Promises $2,000.

In spite of the cloudy weather, followed by rain, the streets were thronged at nine o'clock with people assembled to watch the Memorial day procession to the cemeteries. The line of march was formed by the Town hall, where the wreaths and bouquets were received from the ladies, who made 200 wreaths under the direction of Mrs. G. M. Hasker. A Buttonhole bouquet was pinned upon the lapels of all the men under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Webster. R. M. Brown was marshal of the day. The soldiers, led by the Jewett City band, Joseph Laboune, leader and followed by the school children with the principal, H. E. Jackman, visited the Baptist cemetery, and decorated the graves of the soldiers there by Rev. E. W. Potter.

On the return to the Town hall the procession was met by a company of the Connecticut national guard from Norwich, who acted as an escort for the soldiers during the remainder of the exercises. At the Jewett City cemetery prayer was offered by Rev. W. H. Gane, and the last bugle call sounded by a member of the C. N. G. Then St. Mary's church band, directed by the Rev. E. W. Potter, sang dirges in all the cemeteries. On the return, lunch was served in the Congregational church vestry, under the Misses Ida Young, Mrs. G. M. Hasker, Miss Mabel A. Young, Mrs. Star Spangled Banner, after which the company dispersed. It was a source of general sorrow that Frederick H. Fanning was unable on account of illness, to march with the soldiers. Since the graves have been decorated he has never failed to be present.

Son Takes up Father's Duty. This year the flag was carried by Fred Comager, the son of Andrew Comager, who always carried it, until unable to perform that duty.

The graves of Principal E. M. Swift and of Miss Mary E. Soule were decorated with wreaths and bouquets, and upon that of the latter was placed a little pillow of flowers, made by two girls, Josephine and Alice Thompson, while Olin Wakefield and Julia Palmer remembered that of Mr. Swift.

The hand placed bouquets upon the graves of two former members, John Burleson and William Gallivan. A conspicuous feature on Main street was the window of F. H. Brown's store, where were displayed army relics belonging to Lewis Howe and the large collection of badges, the property of the late Willard Potter.

Monday's Willing Workers. Mrs. Haskell was assisted by Miss Ida Foster, Mrs. A. P. Shaw, Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mrs. H. E. Cheney, Mrs. D. J. Champin, Mrs. A. C. Ladd, Mrs. A. E. Prior, Mrs. F. E. Gray, Miss Jennie Wild, Grace Olin, Mabel Young, Irene Young, Alice Brown, Ruby Morrison, Nellie Franklin, Pearl Gane, Dorothy Burleson, Alice Burdick, Marian Paul, Annie Jacobs, Agnes Olsen, Bertha Bennett, Mabel Bennett, Elizabeth Whiting, Grace Meech and Olive Wakefield.

FOR SOLDIERS' MONUMENT. $1,500 Appropriated at Town Meeting—David H. Fanning Promises $1,000 More.

A town meeting was held on Monday at which it was voted to appropriate $1,500 towards the soldiers' monument fund. The people are anxious to buy the old Catholic church property as a suitable site to erect the monument. David Hale Fanning of Storrs has offered to donate his subscription, making it $2,000, if the property can be purchased, a park laid out and there and the monument placed upon it.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Sullivan and daughter, of Willimantic, were guests of Mrs. Sullivan's sisters on Turner's Hill over Sunday. William O'Brien of Naugatuck was visiting relatives in town the past few days. Wilbert L. Hall and his mother, of Norwich, were calling on friends in town Sunday, coming in their touring car. Misses Alice and Ruth Jackson of Norwich were guests of their grand-mother, Mrs. Joseph Crocker, on Lincoln avenue over Sunday. Miss Ruby Bigelow, who is teaching in Columbia, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Emma Bigelow, on South Main street, over Sunday. A. E. Lyman of Columbia is in town for a few days, playing with Kelly and Bunce's orchestra.

There was a large crowd at the dance given by Kelly and Bunce's orchestra in Grange hall Monday evening. Prof. Bigelow prompted. The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church held a cake and ice cream sale in the parlors of the church Monday afternoon. A large crowd attended the sale. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White of Westchester were guests of Mrs. White's sister on Lebanon avenue Sunday. Rev. E. C. Ingalls occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday evening.

NOANK Soldiers Whose Graves Were Decorated on Monday—Theft from Fire Company's Rooms—Old Town House Razed.

Monday forenoon was devoted to decorating the graves in the Noank Valley cemetery. A few of the survivors of the civil strife are now residing here, numbering only twelve. The schools were closed, the post-office kept holiday hours and the places of business kept open only for a portion of the forenoon. Flags were flying about the village. Following are names of soldiers buried in this vicinity: Col. Henry Whittemore, Capt. James H. Latham, Lieut. Nelson Morgan, Mus. William Palmer, Acting Ensign Warren Rathburn, Sergt. John Palmer, Corp. Edward Fowler, Corp. Thomas Carroll, Corp. Oscar Chester, Corp. E. H. Potter, Abner Spencer, Lieut. Chester Joseph F. Adams, Charles Weaver, Amos Eldredge, Henry Spencer, Rufus Weeks, Fenimore Weeks, Abner Weeks, Sylvester Weeks, William Chickwick, Spanish war, Robert Spicer, James W. Finch, William B. Latham, George A. Fish, Thomas Spencer, Moses C. Latham, Clark T. Lamborn, Ezra Latham, William B. Taylor, John P. Fish, Charles H. Rathburn, Thomas Shirley, James L. Weaver.

John P. Fish was the first veteran to be buried in the Noank Valley cemetery, over whose grave the services of the G. A. R. was conducted. Fort Hill Cemetery—Lorenzo Burrows, Daniel Burrows, George W. Burrows. Packer Cemetery—A. A. Hyde, G. K. Hyde, A. A. Goffrey, John C. Douglas, J. Whiteaker (1812), Solomon Tift (1776), Burrows (1776).

Twelve living veterans of Noank are Thomas B. Fish, Cornelius Fowler, Benjamin F. Latham, Theodore Peck, Latham Rathburn, John Specht, Henry W. Tryon, John Smith, William Corey, E. D. Woodmansee, James Weeks and James W. Rathburn.

The rooms of the Noank fire company were entered some time during Saturday night and the proceeds of the pool table stolen. Entrance was gained through a window on the north side of the building, which has evidently been left unlocked, as there were no marks on the sill that would indicate that tools were used to pry the window up. The robbery was first discovered by Chief L. L. Parks, who closed the rooms Sunday morning. He found that the bank, where members deposited their money after a game of pool had been torn from the wall and was missing. The amount of money obtained by the robbers was probably small, as the bank had been emptied only a short time ago.

Old Town House Torn Down. The old town house located on Fort hill has been torn down. The building first used as a place of worship by the early settlers of Mystic and Noank, was erected in 1765, and was known as the Fort Hill Second Baptist church. In 1831 the Mystic members withdrew having completed the construction of a place of worship in their own village. A few years later, 1843, the Noank Baptist church was erected and Noank members of the old church withdrew to join the church nearer home. The building, after being repaired and remodeled, was converted into a tenement of the upper floor the lower part being used for years for town meetings and other political purposes. The building had not been occupied for a number of years and has gradually gone into a state of decay until it was found to be unsafe and was condemned.

Memorial Day Visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weeks of Providence spent Memorial day with
