Girl and the Man. There seems to be a growing and widely spread dissatisfaction among women with the men. Very few women appear to be thoroughly satisfied with the men of their households. One and all they fall far short of what they ought to be.—Ercingane.

The Grind That Dulls. If a scissor grinder kept his blade on the whetstone unceasingly the scissors would soon be useless. The grind that dulls women is not daily household duties. The housewife who is knowing keeps herself sharpened with frequent change and recreation.

Ivy Poisoning Quickly Cured by washing the affected parts with Glenn's Sulphur Soap. It's an excellent remedy also for pimples, blackheads, dandruff, itch and other skin diseases. Sold by druggists.

Too sick to even play. He has Whooping Cough—a distressing contagious disease, often fatal, among children. The percentage of deaths among children is largely from Whooping Cough and quite often leaves the little body with some affliction for life. Don't let the little one suffer. Don't think it necessary to let Whooping Cough run its course. It can be cured quickly and surely by Dr. Doud's Remedy for Whooping Cough. The most violent attack will be relieved in three to four days, and a permanent, perfect cure in from ten to fifteen days. Your druggist is authorized to refund the purchase price—50¢—if it fails.

IF SICK--WHY PAY Unless Health First Returns. Here is what should read can be done. Now you would not willingly pay for medicine that was worthless—would you? Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth? Positively knowing what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for you, you will not pay unless health first returns. And I back my Restorative with a signed and sealed 30 day "No help, No pay" contract. I positively pledge to the sick everywhere that "Dr. Shoop's Restorative" is absolutely free if it fails. Let others do the same—or else pass their prescriptions by. If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the immediate improvement. When the strength, or vigor, or vim is gone, then test Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I do not do the stomach nor stimulate the heart or kidneys, for that is wrong. You need least away that restful idea in medicine. The books below will tell you how I am succeeding. These books also tell of a tiny hidden "inside nerve," no larger than a silk thread. They tell how that nerve, used, actually gives to the heart its power, its tone, its never-ending action of impulse. These books will open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. They tell how the stomach and the nerves have their "inside" or power nerves. They tell how the Restorative was especially made to reach and revitalize these weak or falling inside nerves. All of these facts tell why I am able to say, "It is true if it fails." This is why I say, "Take the oldest and best medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer." So write me today for the order. I have appointed honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to issue my medicine to the sick. This is my plan for the order. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, but are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line and I will give you the disappointment and delay. Tell me also which book you need. A postal will do. Besides, you are free to consult me as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are free and without charge. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some of your doubts. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request. So write now while you have it fresh in mind, for tomorrow news comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 11, Reading, Wis. Watch Each Step of Your Health. MISS DREXEL MARRIED IN LONDON

Margaretta, Daughter of Philadelphia Financier' Becomes Lady Maidstone.

London, June 8.—The marriage of Viscount Maidstone, elder son of the Earl of Winchilza and Nottingham, and Miss Margaretta Armstrong Drexel, daughter of Anthony Drexel, the first of three Anglo-American weddings to take place in London this month, was celebrated this afternoon at St. Margaret's, Westminster. There was a large attendance, both at the church and at the reception held afterwards at Mr. Drexel's residence in Grosvenor square. The service was fully choral, the bishop of London and Canon Henson, canon of Westminster Abbey and rector of St. Margaret's, officiating. The bride was accompanied by her father, who gave her away. There were ten bridesmaids, as follows: Lady Gladys Finch-Hatton, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Hilda Chichester and Miss Essex Vere Gunning, cousins of the bridegroom; Miss Rhoda Asley, daughter of Dowager Lady Hastings; Lady Violet Manners, Miss Sybil Fellowes, daughter of Lord Dramsey; Miss Constance Combe, daughter of Lady Combe; Miss Edith Wayne of Philadelphia; and two American brides-elect, Miss Mildred Carter, who is to be married to Lord Acheson on June 21, and Miss Helen Post, to be married three days later to Montague Elliot. Charles Mills, son of Lord Hillingdon, was the best man. The two received many presents. The bride's father gave her a diamond tiara, as well as an automobile in which Lord and Lady Maidstone are to tour the continent on their honeymoon. Mrs. Drexel's gift to her daughter was a rope of pearls.

DISTRIBUTED FINE LINGERIE ON SUBWAY TRAIN. Salesman from Providence Made Some Blush and Others Titter.

New York, June 8.—Scores of shop and factory girls and pretty stenographers boarded a Bronx express at the Fourteenth street station of the subway last night at 6 o'clock. So did a number of clerks and other mere men.

In the crowd was a man about 22 years old, finely dressed, who carried a sample case, on the side of which was printed "A. C. P. Providence, R. I." He carried also a load of "strong waters."

After the usual scramble to find seats and when the crowd had braced itself to withstand the rush at the Grand Central station, the happy salesman began to address the passengers. "Ladies," he said, "I am carrying in this sample case the finest line that there is on the road. You are all good looking and I am going to give each one of you a sample of my line to remember me by."

Then he opened the sample case and began to unpack an especially fine lot of lingerie. It was the finest lot of goods of its kind that any of the men had ever seen.

Then the drummer, smiling his best smile and steepling himself as well as his condition would allow, began to hand to the girls embroidered, beaded and lace-trimmed chemises, corset covers and other things.

Some of the maids began to titter, others blushed and others got mad. One girl stared at the drummer in the face as he handed her an especially fine sample of his lingerie. Others, highly insulted, declined to take the goods, but many of them accepted what was offered, blushing the while. Every man wore a broad grin.

Over in the corner a messenger boy. The beneficent drummer saw him. "Here, I mustn't forget you," he remarked. "Take these home with you, and be handed the messenger boy several articles that the said messenger boy never will be persuaded to wear."

The girl stared at the goods and proceeded to examine them. He held up one affair embroidered and trimmed with blue baby ribbon and looked appealingly to the salesman.

"Wottels these?" he asked. Then he wrapped them up.

At the Grand Central station the man got off, having been warned by the guard that if he didn't he would be arrested.

The Ready-made Meal. The aversion that restaurant-fed persons show for "side dishes" is detrimental to their digestions and trying to their tempers. In seeking the difference between ready-made dinners and real home cooking this matter of the side dishes at once is found to be the most vital point.

Or the Appendix Ever Heard Of? The London Lancet assails the morning cup of tea as a very dangerous thing. Ah, the good old times we used to have in this world before the germ theory of disease was invented!

Drink Chocolate in Church. Mexican ladies are fond of chocolate. Even in church they have it brought to them, and drink it during the service.

TO DEBT DODGERS.

Yale Daily News Says They Are a Species of Highwaymen, Pickpockets, Etc.

For the benefit of those Yale students who have been dodging New Haven tradesmen as the college year draws to a close, the Yale Daily News in its leading editorial writes as follows:

"This is the season when the busy 'Fis - You - Like - Paper-On-The-Wall' men are lowering all speed records in the pursuit of collegians who have allowed their accounts to run up until the end of the college year. The art of highway robbery is losing prestige. Even pickpockets are looked at askance. Nor is the practice of appropriating one's neighbor's valuables by night held in high repute among the more prominent and respectable members of the community. But, somewhat curiously, the custom of living on credit—running up discreetly debited debts without a thought on the part of the discreet one of ever paying his creditors—is condemned only in whispers, and when indignantly and gracefully managed this philosophy has many devotees and admirers at college and elsewhere. The man who lives on credit with the intention of paying his debts in five or ten years is stealing the interest from his creditors. The man who lives on credit without ever intending payment steals the entire sum. Both of these types—not entirely unknown at Yale—are equal in heroism to the above mentioned practitioners who are the highwaymen, the pickpocket and the nocturnal craft whose code of morals they share."

IN GOOD CONDITION.

Chief Mooney So Shows Bridgeport Fire Department in Annual Report.

The annual report of Edward Mooney, chief of the Bridgeport fire department, was filed with the city auditor and shows the department in good condition. The chief makes many recommendations. The department has a net loss of only $22,945.

Women in Federal Offices.

An interesting study of the steadily increasing number of women who have succeeded in making their way into federal offices under the merit system does not show how many they were in 1909. The number of women in federal offices has increased in numbers at the rate of nearly one-half per cent. per year. In 1909 the number of women in federal offices was 13,488, and the census of 1910 may advance it to 15 per cent. In some departments women are doing well. In the agricultural, government printing and the interior their percentages are respectively 19, 29 and 31. The majority hold clerkships. A few are professional technical and scientific experts and still fewer executives. These posts are held by the same ablest women in noncivil life are desired in a translator, librarian, forewoman, statistician, stenographer or inspector.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Does the World Think?

Man is evidently made for thought; this is his whole dignity and his whole merit; his whole duty is to think as he ought. Now the order of thought is to begin with self, and with its author and its end. Now of what thinks the world? Never of these things, but of dancing, playing the lute, singing, making verses, tilting at the ring, etc., of fighting, making ourselves kings, without thinking what it is to be a king or what to be a man.—Pascal.

What Kind of an "Office."

Once upon a time a child who was asked on an examination paper to define a mountain range, replied: "A large-sized cook stove." The same method of reasoning seems to go with older growth. A recent examination paper at the Sheffield Scientific school at Yale contained the question, "What is the office of the gastric juice?" The answer on one paper read: "The stomach."—Everybody's Magazine.

Work Ahead for Josh.

"I'll be kind of glad when Josh gets home from school," said Farmer Corn-tassel. "I have an idea he can be right useful." "Are you going to put him to work?" "Maybe. I've exhausted all the language I know on that team of mules. But I haven't given up hope. I want to see whether Josh can startle 'em some with his college yell."—Washington Star.

A Census of Physicians.

Throughout the United States there is one licensed physician to every 709 persons; in New York city, one to 672, and in New York state, one to 653. The income of physicians varies fully as much as that of other professions. Noted city specialists often get in a single fee from a wealthy patient an amount equal to five years' income of some country doctors.

Daily Health Hqn.

Wounds, of whatever sort, should be treated by a surgeon, if they be too serious to be cured by court or adhesive plaster. In applying these plasters, however, be particular that no dirt be left in the wound, and also that the edges be brought into perfect contact exactly as the parts lay before the accident, or as near to that position as possible.

DON'T WORRY; It Makes Wrinkles.

Worry over ill-health does your health no good, and merely causes wrinkles, that make you look older than you are. If you are sick, don't worry, but go about it to make yourself well. To do this, read the words of Shoop's Restorative and other former sufferers from womanly ills, similar to yours, when we say, Take Viburn-O.

It is a wonderful female remedy, as you will admit if you try it. Directions for its use are printed in languages with every bottle. Price $1.25 at druggists. FRANCO-GERMAN CHEMICAL CO., 104 West 125th Street, New York, N.Y.

Snake Milked the Cow.

Muhro Coxwell is a small farmer living just outside the village of Tarrifville and he has a cow which has been turned out to pasture for some weeks now. He had noticed lately that the cow when she was milked at night did not give any milk from one udder. About a week ago he was in the pasture when he saw a big black snake run under a flat stone. He went to the house and secured aid to turn over the stone, and when this was done two black snakes were found and killed. One of them measured eight feet and two inches in length and the other a trifle over four feet. He remembers having seen the bigger of the snakes in the pasture last year, and it is a fact that all through the season the cow gave no milk from one udder. Since killing the snakes the cow has given milk from all the udders and he is satisfied that the snake or snakes had been in the habit daily of helping themselves to fresh warm milk.

Work for the Young Man.

There is a place for you, young man, and there is a work for you to do. Rouse yourself up and go after it. Put your hands cheerfully and proudly to honest labor. A Spanish maxim runs: "He who loseth wealth, loseth much; but he loseth a friend, loseth more; but he who loseth his energies, loseth all."

Fared Assassination.

When asked whether Napoleon shaved himself Tallyrand replied: "Yes. One born to be a king has some one to shave him; but they who acquire kingdoms shave themselves." Dionysius, the tyrant of Syracuse, not daring to commit himself to a barber's hands, is said to have singed his own beard with glowing walnut shells.

Girl Has Remarkable Voice.

A 16-year-old girl who sings bass was heard in a London hall the other day. Until a year ago she had the usual soprano voice of a girl of her age; then the voice grew deeper and deeper, and to-day it is as low as a man's. A specialist who examined her throat found the vocal chords to be singularly large and broad.

The Scrubwoman's Lunch.

"I used to let my scrubwoman get herself a little lunch," said the city flat dweller. "It's the nice thing to do, I know, and I like to do it, but I had to quit in self-defense. She took an hour to get her lunch and eat it and charged me extra for the time she put in."

Swinburne and the Cabman.

In his youthful days Swinburne had a quarrel with a cabman over his fare. The cabman abused the poet mercilessly. Addressing him Swinburne said: "And may I invite you to descend from your perch and hear how a poet can swear?"

Substitute for Leather.

Seaweed, dust, goats' hair and Irish moss, compounded by a secret chemical process, is claimed to be, by its inventor, John Campbell, a perfect substitute for leather, vulcanite, wood and marble. As leather it makes serviceable soles for shoes.

His Hope.

"Papa," wrote the sweet girl, "I have become infatuated with callithenics." "Well, daughter," replied the old man, "if your heart's set on him I haven't a word to say; but I always did hope you'd marry an American."

Happiness.

We should be as happy as possible and our happiness should last as long as possible; for those who can finally issue from self by the portal of happiness know infinitely wider freedom than those who pass through the gate of sadness.—Maeterlinck.

Gain and Pain.

Gain is according to pain—they are twin brothers, they resemble each other so closely their most intimate friends cannot tell them apart—the one plants the tree, the other cares for it until the fruit is matured.

Argumentative.

"Dar is two kinds of arguments," said Uncle Eben; "dem in which you is tryin' to enlighten somebody, an' dem in which you is tryin' to fool somebody."

Charley No Shirt is the name of the chief of the Walla Walla Indians in the Umatilla reservation.

Negative Virtues.

Beware of making your moral staple consist of the negative virtues. It is good to abstain, and teach others to abstain, from all that is sinful or hurtful. But making a business of it leads to emaciation of character unless one feeds largely also on the more nutritious diet of active sympathetic benevolence.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Maidstone.

The maidstone is a stone popularly supposed to cure hydrophobia. Such stones, usually of the size and shape of an egg, are superstitiously preserved in parts of the United States, because they are believed to absorb venom. The maidstone is a light, porous stone of greenish color. They are quite rare, being only occasionally found in the earth.
