Did you ever stop to think how often you are judged by the things you do?

Many people realize this fact. That's why they always call for BAKER, BELLE MEAD or WHITMAN'S CHOCOLATES.

They regard it as an index showing their appreciation of good things and a compliment to their friends.

FUNERALS

George W. Maples. The funeral of George W. Maples was held from the rooms of Church & Allen at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. A. H. Wilcox of this city. There were many present and a number of choice floral forms, including a pillow from his fellow employees in the street department. The bearers were George Miner, George Smith, George Adams and David Lewis. Burial was in Maplewood cemetery, where a committal service was read.

Mr. Maples' death occurred from pleuro-pneumonia at his home on Howe street Thursday morning. He was 55 years of age and was born in Norwich, the son of Stephen L. and Mrs. Mary Maples. He worked in a stationary engine and also had been employed as an engineer on the steamers Sunshine, Ella and other vessels of the New Haven line. He was employed by the city.

When a young man Mr. Maples belonged to the Neptune hose company on the corner of Elm and Water streets in that section.

He is survived by two sons, Orrin S. Maples, fireman in the Palmer quiet mills in Fitchville, and George W. Maples of Fitchville. There are two daughters, Ethel L. Maples of Riverdale, Conn., and Mrs. Mary Maples Brown of Norwich. Mr. Maples is the last of his immediate family and was a good citizen. Mrs. Maples died 15 years ago.

Mrs. Victoria Laguae. Mrs. Victoria Laguae, wife of George Laguae, of Montville, died at the Backus hospital on Saturday morning at seven o'clock. Funeral services were held at St. Joseph's church on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Rev. J. J. Ambot officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery and Undertaker was in charge of the arrangements. The deceased was a native of Russia.

A non-support case against Joseph Morrissette was settled in the city court Saturday morning by paying actual costs. Mrs. Morrissette made complaint against her husband but it was brought out that she with her five children had run away from her husband and was found living in Jersey City with a Taftville man. The Taftville husband later returned to his wife here and Mr. Morrissette got four of his children from his wife but left the six months' old baby with her as she could take care of it better.

In the case it was said she did not want the support for herself but for her child. It was agreed then that Mr. Morrissette would take the baby which he did. The mother gave up the child without a whimper and must earn her own support now. The baby with its four children will be cared for by relatives of Mr. Morrissette.

A Friendly Independence. The Waterbury American is an independent newspaper, and perhaps precisely in its editorial utterances the most independent position as consistently and as fairly as any of its contemporaries. The American favors the nomination and election of President Taft, to be sure, and has been friendly to him. But it has never allowed its friendliness to blind its eyes. It will be as ready as anyone to criticize the president when it sees anything requiring, for the public good, criticism. Meanwhile, it is somewhat more careful to see and emphasize the good points of a president who is working in the midst of serious difficulties than are some of our republican contemporaries.—New Haven Register.
