Senator Brandegee said today that he entered the work of the investigation with an open mind, not being convinced that the police departments of the country are using wrongful methods trying to get confessions from prisoners.

DIVED FROM BROOKLYN BRIDGE

For a Prize of $250 in Cash and Two New Suits of Clothes and Fame.

OTTO EPPERS, SEVENTEEN YEARS OLD

Son of a New York Lithographer, Successfully Did the Job—Picked Up Unhurt by Crew of a Tug—Taken to Hospital and Police Court—Two Hours Later was Proudly Walking the Streets.

New York, June 29.—A hatched-faced, underized youth in ragged swimming trunks, with a skimpy coat and an old pair of trousers thrown over them, dived successfully this afternoon from the center span of the Brooklyn bridge to the East river, 135 feet below, for $250 in cash, two new suits of clothes and whatever fame the world may hold in store for a bridge jumper.

The late Steve Brodie acquired fame as a bridge jumper, and long ran a Bovey saloon on the strength of it, but many say it was never proved that he really jumped. Several would-be suicides have been pushed out of the river unhurt, after jumping but this boy is the first to jump with unquestioned witnesses.

Passengers on the ferryboat which saw him splash into the water, who were not witnesses, were not scared a bit.

"I wasn't scared a bit until I jumped," he continued, "but I don't remember anything after that. When I came up again, I was found floating on his back, half stunned, and paddled to shore. He hoisted me in the next breath admitted 'but I wasn't feeling any better.'"
