Attention is called to another excursion to Newport, under the direction of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company. Train leaves Norwich at 9:10 a. m. Thursday, July 14, connecting at New London with the Norwich line steamer City of Lowell, due Newport 1:30 p. m. Rate for round trip, $1. In past seasons the combined rail and marine trips have proved exceedingly popular and those wishing to participate should purchase tickets at once, as only a limited number have been assigned. See adv. in today's issue.

Last Day of the Season at the Auditorium.

Tonight will see the "old" Auditorium close its doors for the last time on the "vaudeville" and will bring to a close a most successful season of theatrical entertainment. When these same doors closed last season, the interesting public again on the 22d day of August the interior of the playhouse will be so changed that one will scarcely remember it. Work has already begun on many alterations and will be rushed as much as possible so that everything may be completed within the brief time. The theater will remain closed. The moving picture show which is on today is very interesting and entertaining in every respect and all right up to minute. The picture, "Bison Married on Horseback," is a thrilling western picture and contains much wonderful riding by both the boys and girls of the golden west. The ever-favorite Imp comes forth with "A Bachelor's Love," depicting a very clever comedy story, while "Foolishness," which is always in trouble, is shown this time by marrying against his will. Others are "Lost for Many Years," "The Knot in the Handkerchief," etc. Mr. King is singing two well chosen songs beautifully illustrated.

BREED THEATER.

The Trimming of Paradise Gulch, Thrilling Feature.

A western picture that is filled with amusing incidents and beautiful western scenery is the leading attraction at the Breed theater this week and is entitled "The Trimming of Paradise Gulch." The term "trim" is used in the regular slang of the west, but there is no slang in the actual performance, for the whole town, consisting almost wholly of cowboys, is thoroughly trimmed, a fascinating sight to the woman behind the heroine. She wins all of the cowboys, one by one, and in groups, and all swarm down upon a traveling jewelry store which is stopping at the tavern and buy his entire stock of rings and brooches and present them to the winsome female. Little realizing that the drummer in the band is the husband of the wily heroine, nor do they realize it until the plot enters the stagecoach to leave town, when she introduces her husband.

The great event of the programme is the magnificent life portrayal, entitled "Convict No. 746," which with the extremely appropriate music that accompanies it makes it one of the strongest examples of animated art ever shown in this town.

The Biograph picture is "The Marked Timetable" and is a strong story of where maternal love was blind. Mr. Phoebe wins the house by his up-to-date scenes. "I'll Get You a Little Girl" and "In the Harbor of Sunshine and Love."

Forepaugh and Sells Bros' Circus. "Circus day" is so universally welcomed by the average being called summer that it has come to be regarded as a holiday in whatsoever place a big show pitches its tent.

This city is not immune from the circus fever, and especially when the popular Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' Big United shows visits here—next Tuesday, July 19—in which event the keys of the city are ceremonially turned over to the show. Without omitting any reflections upon the merits of other shows, it can be said the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus always gives the very best of satisfaction. The liberal applause given almost continuously during its performance eclipsed the applause ever given any other circus. A few days more and this big circus will have arrived on its special trains, and its city of white tents will spring up as if by magic. Its magnificent street parade will traverse the principal streets of the city, the galloping music of its several bands and calliope will be heard, and the children of the city and other people will spend the day with their circus friends.

Among the big acts to be seen with the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' Big United shows this year are the Riding Rodeos, Marie Meers, Karl Handley troupe, Hines-Kimball family, Paul Alvarez trio, clever and artistic Pincheletto troupe, unapproachable arenic stars, and a big ensemble of forty-circus novelties. The class of sixty-one equine high school marvels is a work of art in the way of its exceptional horse sense. All new and beautifully rebuilt is the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' Big United shows this year.

Keep Off the Track. Considerable sympathy will be felt with the plea of the Pennsylvania railroad that more stringent regulation should be passed against trespassing on the right of way of the railroads, especially in or near big cities, where the traffic is heavy. Everything that the railroad can do to lessen the number of accidents has been done—not because the railroads are philanthropists, but simply because they have found out how expensive it is to kill and maim people, even after they have taken due precautions. Deaths through collisions and through the running of trains are much more infrequent than they used to be, but the number of people killed through walking on the track is appalling.

The man who, daring, walks the tracks of a busy railroad unnecessarily—and it is difficult to see when it is necessary except for railroad employees—is an intellectual peer with the gentleman who rocks the boat or the crass idiot who "didn't know it was loaded." The roads really do all they can to stop the practice. The right of way is posted with innumerable signs warning people of their danger, but it is plain that the officials, other than railroad officials, do not give this matter the serious attention it deserves, and even when arrests for trespassing are made convictions are difficult.—Washington Herald.

Consult John H. Groat of Odessa reports that a school has been established at Tiraspol for the instruction of the viticulturists of the Russian province of Kherson, whose vineyards were planted without regard to uniformity or quality of the vines, many varieties of grapes being grown even in the smallest vineyards.
