CASHIER WIDER ADMITS HIS GUILT

Russo-Chinese Bank Emb. zzer Remanded to the Tombs for Sentence on August 10.

New York, Aug. 3.—Erwin J. Wider, the cashier of the Russo-Chinese bank, who was indicted charged with stealing from the bank 100 shares of the stock of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, valued at $11,400, pleaded guilty before Judge O'Sullivan in general sessions today and was remanded to the Tombs for sentence on Aug. 10. The only punishment that Wider can get on this one indictment, which is for grand larceny, first offense, is an indeterminate sentence of from five to ten years.

There are, however, several other accusations against him, covering thefts of nearly half a million, and between now and the day of sentence the district attorney will try and have him indicted on some of those charges. He can be tried in that event as a first offender on each.

Prisoner Takes Matters Coolly. Wider took matters very coolly. He sat at a window in the prisoner's pen while Judge O'Sullivan disposed of thirteen other cases. When his case was called he stepped to the bar. "The clerk told me that I had been indicted on a charge of larceny and asked him how he pleaded."

"Guilty," responded Wider. His pedigree was then taken, and in response to the questions put to him by a court officer he said that he was a cashier, 39 years old; born in Germany; that he lived at No. 21 Mount Hope place, the Bronx, with his wife; that he had never been convicted of any crime, and that he was a moderate user of alcoholic drinks.

Suggests Withdrawal of Plea. After the date for sentence had been fixed, Leon H. Ginsburg, counsel for Wider, said: "Your honor, does this mean that in one week's time I have the privilege of withdrawing the plea and changing it to a plea of not guilty?" "I have never heard of that practice in this court," responded Judge O'Sullivan. "Denies That He Has 'Salted' Money. While waiting in the pen to be taken back to the Tombs, Wider denied the story that he had made a profit in his cotton speculations and had money hidden away. Smoking a cigar and walking up and down his narrow quarters, the cashier answered questions put to him in the most matter-of-fact way. When asked the direct question if he had made money in his cotton speculation, he answered: "That is one fool report." He then became a little excited and spoke with a German accent, which he now notices in his quiet moments, and continued: "How could I make money? There has been a bear market since January in cotton, and I, like a fool, was buying the market. The books of the brokers will show this to be true. I wish I had made money."

When asked if it were not true that he had "salted" away two or three hundred thousand dollars of the money stolen from the bank, he said: "That is not true. I wish now that I had. Do you think I would have done that? Salted that amount? I would have had good lawyers and fought the case all the way through. If I had kept one-half the money I could have conspired with the bank and I would not be here—but what's the use of talking about it? Wall street got it all, neither I nor my family have any, and I am here behind the bars, and that is the best evidence that I am telling the truth."

FORMER PUGILIST JOE GANS DYING ON SANTA FE TRAIN Rushing Overland in Attempt to See His Mother in Baltimore. La Junta, Col., Aug. 3.—Joe Gans, former lightweight champion, rushing across the continent in an effort to reach his home in Baltimore and see his mother before he dies, has given up hope of reaching home alive. Gans is dying of consumption.

"I'm going fast," he said to friends who saw him when the Santa Fe train on which he is traveling passed through here today. "I won't take any chance by stopping in Chicago."

The trip over the Raton mountains affected the former champion greatly and restoratives had to be given repeatedly in order to prevent total collapse.

THE CHARLTON MURDER. Italy Has Not Yet Made Demand for Young Husband. Washington, Aug. 3.—Italy has not lost its legal right to demand the extradition of Porter Charlton, who is in the jail of Hudson county, N. J., charged with the murder of his wife, Mary Scott Castle Charlton, at Lake Como, Italy. The limit of forty days fixed by the treaty between Italy and the United States to govern extradition cases having expired today, it is now held at the state department that Italy is entitled to an extension of time equal to that consumed by delays incident to legal processes for postponements instituted by counsel for the accused. No demand has been made upon the government thus far for Charlton, and the matter is still in the courts for determination.

FROZEN DEAD ON HOT DAY. Thermometer 105, Man Slept Under Tarpaulin Where Ice Was Piled. El Paso, Tex., Aug. 3.—Frozen dead with the thermometer at 105 in the shade was the fate of a Mexican at Maricopa, 300 miles west of here, on the Arizona desert. A carload of ice had been unloaded on the station platform and covered with a heavy tarpaulin. The man, seeking sleep and escape from the terrific heat, crawled beneath the tarpaulin, where he was found the next morning frozen stiff.

Influence of Environment. Roosevelt's rashness and impetuosity is evidently for foreign use only. At home he is too cautious and discreet to venture an opinion even upon the weather.—Chicago Journal.

CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY CLOSES ITS WORK. Officers Elected at Plainville and Diplomas Presented. Plainville, Conn., Aug. 3.—The Chautauqua assembly, which has been in session here, closed its work today by the election of officers and the presenting of diplomas to those who had finished the required course of studies. The election of officers, which was to have been held early in the day was put over until the late afternoon on account of the funeral of the late Henry A. Bailey, who died while attending last Monday's meeting. Diplomas were presented to the following by Rev. A. H. Goodenough: Harry M. Fellock, Bethel; Mrs. Emma G. Williams, Danbury; Truman J. Spencer, Hartford; and Mrs. T. J. Spencer, Hartford.

YOUNG NEW JERSEY FARMER SHOT HIS WIFE IN ABDOMEN Fled to the Woods, Where Posse Are Searching for Him. Red bank, N. J., Aug. 3.—Daniel Taylor, a young farmer, today shot and probably fatally wounded his wife at Maxwell, near his home in this section in the Long Branch hospital with a bullet wound in the abdomen.

According to the local police, Taylor and his wife had been living together some time, the young woman residing with her parents. Today Taylor went to the house and told his wife that he had a revolver and shot her. Then he fled into the nearby woods, where he quickly possessed himself of a trolley and fled to Groton, where he was quickly located by a posse searching for him. Taylor is 21 years old and his wife one year his junior.

MIDDLETOWN PLAYGROUND After One Month's Use Has Demonstrated Its Success. The first month's work at the Good-year playground is completed, says the Middletown Sun, and has forcibly demonstrated the need of such a recreation ground in this city. The attendance has steadily increased until one day the park had between 500 and 600 children were there during the day. Any evening there are 200 or more young people present, many of these boys and girls who work in the factories. One evening last week an interested observer visited the grounds and reported three different groups of boys and young men engaged in jumping contests. Another group was absorbed in ring and toss and others in pitching quoits. In another part of the grounds some boys and girls were attempting a Virginia reel to the music of a harmonica.

Probably the most exciting diversion was the giant's stride, which was in constant use and afforded vigorous exercise to a half dozen young men. In addition, all the swings, see-saws, etc., were in use. Certainly the most skeptical person would, in one short visit to the grounds, be convinced of the good work being done there. The way the young people availed themselves of the advantages offered by the playground shows that they are ready to engage in healthy normal recreation if they have the opportunity. The Social Service league is furnishing this opportunity in daily answering in a very practical way the old, old question, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Evidence Another's Other Way. The Washington Herald says Jeffries is a democrat. We can't believe it. He would have been used to it if he had been a democrat.—Houston Post.

STONINGTON

Sunday School Picnics Today—600 Pupils Expected at Union High School Summer Guests and Tourists.

The Stonington fire police met Tuesday evening, when arrangements were made for their annual inspection. The monthly meeting of the Pioneer Hook and Ladder company was held Wednesday evening.

The sum of $13.33 was realized by the collection of Usher Sunday at the Congregational Sunday school on Sunday. The work of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Usher at Van Turkey is widely known here. Miss Lizzie Trumbull is receiving contributions for the work.

Soldiers Win Baseball Game. The soldiers at Fort Mansfield defeated the Wanderers of Stonington in a game at Uncle Sam's reservation on Sunday afternoon, the score being 12 to 4.

Owing to lack of wind Saturday the wherry race was not finished in the time limit. The life saving crew at Fishers Island went on duty for the season at 12 o'clock Monday. Mr. Newton and Manuel Clay of the borough will do duty at the station.

Jean Crevalier and family have taken possession of their new home on Cutter street. Mr. and Mrs. William Edgar will occupy the Palmer house on Dewey square, which the Chevalier family vacated.

Prof. C. T. Eaton Improving. Prof. C. T. Eaton, who has been very ill at his home on Main street, is much improved. Frank E. Ryan and family of New York are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ryan.

Winthrop Edgar of Baltimore, Md., is the guest of his uncle in the borough. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson and Miss Elizabeth Robinson left Monday for Bethlehem, N. H., for two weeks' stay. C. C. Ellis of Chicago is the guest of local friends.

B. F. Billings of Lockport, N. H., is the guest of his friends. Miss O. E. Schoville of New London is the guest of George E. Brayton and family. J. Carson of Brooklyn, N. Y., will spend the month in town.

Changes Under New School System. When the schools open in September they will be under the new town system of schools. Dr. W. H. Perry will be superintendent, having made a fine record in Westery. The high school will be in the borough of Stonington, one of the best equipped school buildings in eastern Connecticut. The Union High school will require more room than is now used by the Stonington High school, so town will finish off four extra rooms on the top floor of the new part of the building. It is expected that not less than 600 students will occupy the building, which makes this the largest in this section.

There will be four courses in the high school, viz., classical, scientific, general and commercial. Charles T. Eaton, who has been at the head of the borough high school for fourteen years, has been engaged as principal of the enlarged school. Several teachers will be added to those already engaged, and there is a large number of applications for appointments.

Sunday School Picnics Today. Today (Thursday) Calvary Episcopal church Sunday school will hold its annual picnic at the Casino. A collection will be served and there will be games and a free ride on the merry-go-round for the children. During the day there will be a trolley ride to Groton. Today also the First Baptist church here will go to Wheeler's grove for a picnic. Actors' Fall Plans. Mr. and Mrs. Malcom, who are spending the summer here, will star with "The Commuters" this fall. George Haley left town Wednesday for New York, where he will put on a sketch of special merit.

Miss Kate Gaston of Newark, N. J., is at the Wampasset Inn. Prof. W. O. Turner, the musician, has returned to Willimantic, after spending some time as the guest of Dr. Charles Maine. Miss Kate White of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. Griffin. George Burgess of New York is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Darrell. James Egan is able to be out after a painful accident last week.

Meriden.—Mr. and Mrs. George C. Griswold of 42 Reservoir avenue celebrated their golden wedding this week.

Torrington.—Rev. O. W. Foye, pastor of the Baptist church, has returned from Ouse, Mass., where he spent the past month.

Bristol.—The Acme Winemont company directors held their annual meeting Monday and elected Eugene Fairchild president.

Hartford.—Rev. Arthur F. Wilde, assistant minister at Trinity church, has resigned to become rector of St. John's church, Far Rockaway, N. Y.

Bridgeport.—The Bridgeport Poultry association, incorporated, will hold its third annual exhibition of poultry, pigeons and pet stock Nov. 8, 9 and 10.

Plainville.—Wednesday was Recognition day at the camp and a big crowd was present to witness the graduation exercises that have become a feature of camp life.

Winsted.—Chief of Police S. C. Wheeler was elected chief of the New England Chiefs of Police association for the third time last week. The meeting was held at Nahant, Mass.

Seymour.—The oil on the roads is standing the rains well. Contrary to most predictions that the rain would wash all oil away, the downpour seems to pack the dusty looking fluid more firmly in the ground.

Naugatuck.—The Rev. Dr. E. A. Zetler, pastor of Salem Lutheran church, is in New York to attend the conference of the board of missions of Swedish Lutheran churches of the eastern New York district.

Thompsonville.—State Chaplain Rev. E. A. Flannery and State President P. J. Sullivan of the A. O. H. society are expected home from their Portland, Ore., trip today (Friday). The Portland papers speak of Mr. Sullivan as one of the most popular state presidents present, stating that he was a candidate for national secretary, but was defeated by James T. McGinnis of Scranton, Pa., the present official, by eighteen votes.

Has Benefit of the Doubt. It is reported that the leaning tower of Pisa is in danger of falling, but the tower has leaned long enough to have the benefit of the doubt.—Washington Post.

Simply Soars Away. The cost of living is one high thing that doesn't get caught in tree-tops or have to be rolled down because of a broken propeller.—Chicago Record-Herald.
