PUTNAM

Antonio de Filippo Arrested in Boston Charged With Assault and Theft — Sydney P. Butler's Marriage Follows Secret Divorce.

Antonio de Filippo, 27, charged with feloniously assaulting Vasey Leo of Grovelandville on Front street in this city on Saturday night, July 16, was brought back to Putnam on Friday morning in custody of Deputy Sheriff George Holbrook and locked up in the cage at police headquarters.

The warrant against de Filippo also charges that he robbed Leo of $75. The prisoner denies the allegations.

de Filippo was arrested by Boston officers at his home on Chastell street early Thursday evening. At first he talked about demanding regulation papers, but later he came to Connecticut without going through that formality.

The prisoner and Leo were friends, both having worked in the mill at North Grovelandville. De Filippo has not worked there since, but he has visited frequently since, and admits he was in Putnam with Leo on the night the latter claims he was robbed of $75 by the prisoner.

Quietly Divorced. Sydney P. Butler, Minister's Son, Quickly Off With Old Love and On New.

Following the item in the Various Matters of the Bulletin on Friday, Putnam and Woodstock people were interested in the case of Sydney P. Butler, a son of the late Rev. P. S. Butler of Woodstock, and is well known in this section.

The announcement of the marriage of Sydney Perlin Butler, president of the Putnam Business Association, and Miss Margaret C. Simpson of this city, was made today. The wedding took place at Tremont temple in Boston yesterday, and the couple are spending their honeymoon in Maine.

Miss Simpson was formerly an instructor at the Butler business school. Reason for surprise was that no one in New Haven knew that Mr. Butler had divorced his first wife, who until about a year ago was prominent here.

They lived in an exclusive part of the town and seemed to be very happy. Mr. Butler had gone west for his health, and Mrs. Butler did not go with him. He would take up active work at his school in the fall, but said nothing of any divorce. So New Haven was naturally surprised today when news came that he had married Miss Simpson and Mr. Butler had been married.

Miss Simpson is the sister of Mrs. Fred Strong, wife of a prominent banker of New Haven.

JEWETT CITY

Congregational Pastor Pronounces Eulogy at Miss Hunt's Funeral — Good Catch of Crabs — Personalities.

The funeral services of Miss Margaret Hunt were held from the Congregational church Friday afternoon. The funeral discourse was by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Case, pastor of the church, of which the deceased was one of the oldest members.

Dr. Case's remarks were along the line of the indisputable proof that exists within one's self of the certainty of life after death. Two hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Rock of Ages," were sung by Mrs. E. S. Leonard, Mrs. E. H. Hiscox, E. P. Burleson and E. H. Hiscox. There were beautiful flowers. The bearers were: William Hogg, Martin Foley, Jameson Hulse, Michael Halsey and Michael McDermott.

Mrs. Eliza Preston of Denver, Colo., has been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. George W. Stoughton, on South street.

The Baptist church Sunday school, under the pastor, Rev. E. W. Potter, will take for his morning subject, "The Revival of the Holy Spirit." Evening, "Men Whom God Respects."

Curing Inebriety. The movement on foot in many states to secure the establishment of state inebriate asylums, in which the alcohol and drug habits shall be treated as diseases, would doubtless be advanced more rapidly if there were a wider conviction of the efficiency of such institutions. The possibility of curing the drunkard by medical treatment is very generally regarded with skepticism.
