BROKE LEFT LEG. Foreman P. J. Herlihe Jumped From Handcar to Flag Engine.

Patrick J. Herlihe, general foreman of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad is receiving treatment at St. Joseph's hospital for a broken leg.

Monday at 6.50 a. m. Foreman Herlihe left on the train for the supervision of job to be done on the three rail curve at Steele's near Bolton Notch.

Mr. Herlihe returned to the car with the three rail curve. As the car was in the middle of the first cut this side of Bolton station, the whistle of an approaching engine was heard.

Mr. Herlihe was thrown from the car and landed on some stone ballast in such a way as to bend his left leg under his body so as to fracture it between the ankle and knee.

There were several features at the outing notable among which was a football game between the teams of George Timmins, with Thomas J. Tangier of Middletown a close second.

There was a most striking feature of the day's festivities were two ball games between the Silms and the Fats.

Mr. Herlihe was taken aboard the engine brought to this city at 8.15 o'clock, placed on a stretcher and removed to the hospital where Dr. Owen on duty.

Mr. Herlihe lives on Pleasant street, this city and has a family.

SUDDEN DEATH. Mrs. Harrison B. Freeman, Jr., Expires at Breakfast Table.

Mrs. Alma Crowell, wife of Harrison B. Freeman, Jr., of Hartford, died suddenly Monday morning at her summer home in Andover while seated at the breakfast table about 8 o'clock.

She complained of feeling ill and fell forward in her chair. Dr. Louis I. Mason of this city and Dr. William R. Steiner of Hartford were hastily summoned and worked over the body without avail. Death was due to apoplexy.

Decedent was born in San Francisco, Cal., October 18, 1874, the daughter of Charles I. and Julia Crowell. Since her marriage with Mr. Freeman she had spent the greater part of her life in Hartford and her mother's home at her summer home in Andover.

There are left beside the husband two children, Harold and Howard; two sisters, Mrs. Joseph W. Danforth of Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Edith Crowell, one in Andover for the summer, and her father, living in San Francisco.

Death of Gertrude M. Lynch. Gertrude Margaret Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lynch of No. 20 Suffolk street, Hartford, died at her home in this city Monday morning of an amiable disposition and won for her the esteem and respect of a large circle of friends.
