The outing of the Thames club of New London will be held at Richards grove today (Wednesday).

Those whose vacations are taking the form of short trolley trips are enjoying ideal August days.

The annual reunion of the Fairchild-Camp family will be held at Durham, Wednesday, August 31.

One of the handsomest hydrangeas in town is that in the grounds at Chief Murphy's home, on Thames street.

The annual convention of the State Association of Rural Free Delivery Carriers will be held in Willimantic on Labor day.

The numerous vegetable wagons about town in the early morning indicate that suburban farmers have plenty of truck to sell.

Mint has grown unusually well this year. It is being gathered by those who retain the old New England habit of preserving "yarbs."

The Worcester division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is planning an outing Sunday at Fields Point, Narragansett bay.

The members of the Apostleship of Prayer in the Catholic churches will pray during the coming month for the success of the missions in India.

Local Spiritualists hear that the debt of the Lake Pleasant association, which a year ago was $3,550, has been reduced to $1,200, in the form of a mortgage.

Vacation time seems to make little difference with the Otis library, the demand for books being constant, and the reading room being occupied as much as ever.

At the Hay Harbor club, Fishers Island, the Clock Golf green has been enlarged and is in much better condition than last season. Weekly tournaments are held.

The ninth annual conference of the Scandinavian Salvation army officers of the eastern states, in session at the Salvation Army park, Worcester, is being well attended.

The outlook for the corn or ralthird shooting on the marshes is good this year, the wild oats on which the birds feed being quite heavy along Great Meadow and Thatchers Island, near Essex.

Excursion to Newport, R. I., Thursday, August 25. Last and best of season. Steamer City of Lowell. Get tickets at stations. Round trip from Norwich $1. Three hours at Newport.

REACHES HER 101ST BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Luther Pellett Enjoying Very Good Health and Has Taken Auto Rides During Her Second Century.

Today, August 24, marks the 101st birthday anniversary of Mrs. Luther Pellett of Broadway, who has passed the first year in her second century in her good health and active perhaps as some of the youngsters who may have started their first century as she started her second, yet she has been able to keep up to the times, as she has taken frequent automobile rides and derived much pleasure from the modern method of travel, something unthought of when she was a child.

Mrs. Pellett was born on the old Palmer homestead in Preston on the main road from this city to Jewett City, being one of twelve children of Walter and Martha Pendleton Palmer. Longevity has been a characteristic of the family, but Mrs. Pellett outlived all her brothers and sisters by many years. A cousin, Caroline Brown of Scotland, lived to be within five days of the century mark, her death occurring four years ago. Mrs. Pellett is the last member of her family, her only relatives being nieces and nephews.

It has always been the request of Mrs. Pellett that her anniversaries be not celebrated, and her 100th anniversary was informally noted. She retains her faculties to a marked degree, being able to get about the house. She has a wide acquaintance here where she has spent much of her life. For sixty-three years she has made her home in Broadway, and most of it was spent in the house where she now lives, No. 125, which was built by her father, George Pellett, in this city and whose death occurred 38 years ago. Her maiden name was Mary Palmer. She will doubtless receive the calls of her intimate friends in honor of the occasion, an anniversary which it is permitted but few to observe.

Tuesday, August 31, 10 o'clock, intermission and dinner. Afternoon—2 o'clock, devotional exercises; 2:30, business, reports of the schools and committees, collection; music; 2:45, address, What is It All For? Rev. O. G. Huntington, Poquonock Bridge; music; 3:20, address, The Sabbath School Teaching, Rev. W. G. Fennell, Hartford; conference; 4:30, intermission and supper.

Evening—7:30, praise service, collection, music, address, The Battle for the Boy, Rev. Nathan Bailey, Providence. An innovation this year is an evening session. Electric cars make it possible for most of the delegates to attend on Sunday. Refreshments will be made for those who desire to remain over night by Byron C. Wilcox before 10 o'clock. The committee are N. B. Prindle, Edward W. Potter, W. G. King, Byron C. Wilcox are on the committee of arrangements.

FUNERALS. Miss Harriet A. Pierce.

At four o'clock Tuesday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Harriet A. Pierce was held at her late home, No. 274 Broadway, there being a large number in attendance, including a number from out of town. There were beautiful floral tributes, and the services were conducted by Rev. Dr. S. H. Howe, pastor of Park Congregational church.

Funerals. Christopher Rathbun. The remains of Christopher Rathbun arrived here at 2:05 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from New York and were taken to the Central Baptist Church at Allen. Burial was in Yantic cemetery where a committal service was conducted by Rev. Peter C. Wright, pastor of the Central Baptist church. There were present relatives from Brooklyn and this city. Handsome floral forms were placed on the grave.

Charles H. Hill. Tuesday morning at 10:30 the funeral of Charles H. Hill was held from his late home in Montville, the services being conducted by Rev. G. C. Chappell, pastor of the Palmertown Baptist church. The funeral was very many present and a number of floral forms. Friends acted as bearers and the funeral was a most impressive one. Where a committal service was read. Funeral Director Gager had charge of the arrangements.

Ira W. Jackson. Funeral services were held over the home of Mrs. W. A. Jackson, Tuesday evening, being conducted by St. John's church. The body will be taken to Brooklyn today for interment in the New London lodge of Elks at a special meeting selected the following, all past exalted rulers of Elks, to attend the funeral: R. P. Freeman, Joseph Harrigan, W. H. Farrell, George Bindloss, Frank E. Gledhill, Thomas Howe and Thomas B. Donohue. A delegation composed of Exalted Ruler W. J. Clarke, Past Exalted Ruler M. R. Joseph, Joseph McCarty, J. J. Derosa, F. D. Stearns, J. D. Downey and Alderman Samuel M. Prentiss, Charles J. Ducey and John Cleary, with Walter Murphy, who had been the funeral manager of New London, also attended the funeral, representing New London lodge of Elks. The funeral will remain in Bridgeport and go on to the Brooklyn with the body this morning.

TROLLEYROAD WORK. Good Progress Being Made on All the Jobs.

The work of laying the new 50-pound rail on the Yantic trolley line is progressing rapidly. Roadmaster Guilan putting down another good-sized stretch of track Tuesday, joining it with the old rail near the schoolhouse at Bean Hill. During the day the passengers were anxious to see where the track at the present time is not to be laid beyond the Yantic bridge, the job will not take a great while longer. In a number of places the track has been moved slightly and the trolley company's men were at work Tuesday adjusting the wires at these points. On the Montville line new poles are being put up where needed to replace the old, by the linemen.

Reservoir is Dropping. Fairview reservoir on Tuesday, according to the measurement by Supt. J. J. Conroy, was 17 1/2 inches below high water mark. A steady drop of an inch a day. The superintendent, by keeping tabs on the Venturi meter, is of the opinion that the water level is not as great as it was before the curtailment was started. The reservoir, however, continues to drop, but an inch of water from the top means less all the time now.

Postmasters to Meet. The annual summer outing of the Connecticut Postmasters' association is to be held next Thursday at Ocean beach. The postmasters, together with Postmaster Morgan of New York city, and Connecticut senators and congressmen, will be the guests of Postmaster J. McGee. This is the postmasters' association second trip to Ocean beach.

Want to Change Memorial Day. Edson S. Bishop, state commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, at New Haven Tuesday said that at the national encampment to be held at Atlantic City next month an attempt would be made to change the date of Memorial day. Commander Bishop has been the growth of the party Tuesday night, when the anniversary was established in 1867, when it was established by Gen. John A. Logan, the national commander, and says the purpose for which the anniversary has been established has been put aside to a great extent and the day is given over very largely to holiday sports.

Commander Bishop says the delegates from Connecticut will back up this project to change the day to Sunday next to May 30.

BANKRUPTCY MATTERS. Max Boyer Appointed Trustee of Leahy Estate by Referee Browning.

Before Amos A. Browning, referee in bankruptcy, on Tuesday, the J. Leahy estate of New London came up for a hearing for the creditors. Max Boyer of New London was named as trustee under bond of $200, while the appraisers named were Thomas C. Dillon, Cyrus G. Beckwith and Charles Hickey.

In the bankruptcy estate of the Premium Tea company of this city, on Monday, Attorney Herman A. Sloan 2d was made trustee, and the appraisers named were J. H. Myer, George S. Rouse and Henry H. Pettit. The appraisers had a meeting on Tuesday for the appraisal of the estate.
