Your kidney trouble may be of long standing. It may be either acute or chronic, but whatever it is Foley's Kidney Remedy will aid you to get rid of it quickly and restore your natural health and vigor.

Most Extreme Measures

Your kitchen sinks, the water closets and bowls and all other plumbing in your homes should be periodically disinfected. To do this perfectly and to kill positively all germs of disease, use two to three tablespoonfuls of to a pail of water. This amount makes a very active disinfectant.

A tablespoonful to a pail is sufficient for ordinary house cleaning, such as washing the paint, rugs and linoleums in order to insure perfect cleanliness and health.

The latter amount added to the bath keeps the skin clean and healthy and also prevents the invasion of any germ of disease, should there be existing scratches, cuts, chafes or abrasions.

MISS CLARA LENEVE HALF FRANTIC

At Sight of Belle Elmore as the Lawful Wife of Doctor Crippen—Monday's Testimony in the Trial at London.

London, Sept. 19.—That Ethel Clara Leneve was half mad with jealousy as she impatiently waited the fulfillment of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen's promise to make her his wife, was revealed at today's session of the inquest into the death of Belle Elmore, with the murder of whom the doctor and his typist are jointly charged.

In her distress Miss Leneve confided in her landlady, Mrs. Jackson, and the story that the latter told on the witness stand rivaled the most sensational evidence introduced at the murder trial.

Mrs. Jackson said that the accused girl gave up the room which she had occupied at the home of the witness on March 12, explaining that she was leaving to be married to Dr. Crippen. Until the first week in February Miss Leneve had slept regularly at Mrs. Jackson's. After that she stopped at the house only occasionally.

Girl in Sad Plight. About the middle of February the witness said Miss Leneve appeared most miserable and distressed. Such was her state that Mrs. Jackson followed the girl to her room to learn if possible the source of her trouble. Miss Leneve, the witness said, was in a terrifying state of agitation. Her eyes seemed fairly starting out of her head. The landlady insisted upon an explanation, telling the girl that she must have something to eat and her mind to be in such a condition. The witness testified that the other replied:

SALARY INCREASES OF YALE PROFESSORS. New Scale Put in Force at Fall Meeting of Corporation.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 19.—The fall meeting of the Yale University corporation, here today, was presided over by President Taft, Gov. Frank B. Weeks and Otto T. Bannard of New York, the latter attending as a corporate member for the first time, was devoted in a great measure to a discussion of the salary increases of the professors. A sum of $50,000 contributed by the alumni to the alumni association last spring was announced as available for this purpose. Of this sum $19,000 was set apart last spring for the salary increases and of the remainder one-third was today appropriated to increase the salaries of the assistant professors and the remaining two-thirds for the increase of the salaries of the full professors. The new salary scale as put in force today continued instructors at from $1,000 to $1,500; increase assistant professors on the first term of appointment from $1,800 to $2,000; sets $2,500 as the nominal scale for the second appointment of the assistant professors' grade, and reduces the period of the second appointment from five years to three years, making $3,000 the normal salary for an assistant professor after the expiration of his first term. All the assistant professors of the first grade in the two undergraduate departments had their salaries raised to the new scale for the coming year.

In the case of assistant professors the normal salary plan of the past is continued and strengthened, though the corporation reserves the right to withhold salary increases where work is unsatisfactory. In the case of professors normal grades of $4,000, $4,500 and $5,000 were adopted, with the length of service, university responsibility and individual distinction as a scholar or teacher forming the criteria for an increase. On this plan twelve professors were placed on a maximum salary of $5,000 and a slightly larger number on the $4,500 basis.

PRESIDENT HADLEY'S ACTION APPROVED In Accepting Chairmanship of Newly Appointed Federal Commission.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the Yale corporation today at which President Taft was present, a vote was passed approving of the action of President Arthur T. Hadley in accepting the chairmanship of the newly appointed federal commission on railroad securities. President Hadley's appointment was announced by President Taft at a short time ago. Plans will be made later whereby President Hadley on his return from England and Germany, where he will study railroad conditions, may devote part of his time to the work of the commission.

President Hadley will make an address at the University of Berlin on Oct. 29.

YEAR'S IRISH EMIGRATION MAY EXCEED 30,000 MARK.

Statistics for a Fraction of the Current Year Evoke Adverse Comment in Ireland.

Washington, Sept. 19.—Too many Irish are leaving Ireland this year, in the opinion of the home government. A clipping from an Irish journal, forwarded here by Deputy Consul J. S. Armstrong, Jr., of Cork, says:

"The Irish emigration statistics prove unsatisfactory; 1,861 persons left this country during July as compared with 1,602 for July of last year, an increase of 259. Of the emigrants 1,097 were males and 764 females. In all 29,512 persons have left Ireland during the first seven months of 1910—an increase of 2,407 over the same period in 1907.

"The total emigration last year was 28,677 and was the second lowest on record for six decades. If the same rate of increase is kept up for the remainder of this year emigration will reach nearly 32,000 for the year."

Worry is the Real Enemy. A busy life is a healthy one, and few suffer from overwork. Mental strain is the worm that undermines health; worry and annoyance and impatience are not wholesome, and when a woman meets her duties with such weapons she can hardly expect to find happiness and contentment. Investigators are continually telling us that we waste both time and strength, and some of us are beginning to believe them.

A Neglected Occupation. While the girls are casting about to learn all that is learnable, will they please remark that one of the things worth learning is the girl's own job! It seems at times in danger of being neglected, so urgent is the assault of the petticoat brigades on all the other portals of the citadel of knowledge.—Life.

Candles Still Used in Europe. In many parts of Europe the candle business is carried on by large establishments with abundant capital. In Great Britain there was quite recently at least what we should call a candle trust that yielded good returns. Anybody who has sojourned in a very rural English inn will not need to be told where comes some of the demands for candles.

Degrees of Misery. Two young ladies were talking the other day about a third who had just become engaged to a widower who plays the cornet and has four children. "What could be worse," exclaimed one, "than four children and a cornet?" "Nothing," said the other, "excepting, perhaps, six children and a trombone."

Later Particulars. Macduff was laying on lustily. "I don't allow any man to swear at me!" he exclaimed. For at that time there had been no court decision to the effect that the word used by Macbeth was not profane.

Immunity Plea's Failure. Heike first pleaded immunity, because of the testimony which he had given before the federal grand jury in another sugar trust proceeding. His plea, however, was overruled by the United States supreme court and he was tried with the other defendants.

Heike as an Example. In imposing sentence Judge Martin said that as Heike had only been convicted on one count of the indictment charging him with aiding the conspiracy, instead of all six counts, as the other defendants had been, and taking Heike's age, 66 years, and his accustomed mode of life into consideration, he would be inclined to suspend sentence altogether. But as punishment must be inflicted as an example, he could not follow his personal inclination. Judge Martin said he would therefore add the eight months' prison sentence to the $5,000 fine.

Forcing a Handicap. Diogenes returned from his search for an honest man. "Given up the chase?" they inquired. "It became a matter of necessity," replied the philosopher. "Some one stole my lantern."—Lippincott's.

MRS. DODGE REMAINS PRISONER IN HER HOME. Charged with Murder of House Painter—William Heath.

Lunenburg Vt., Sept. 19.—The state authorities continued actively their search for additional evidence in the case against Mrs. J. Marshall Dodge, a wealthy widow who will be given a hearing tomorrow on the charge of being concerned in the murder of William Heath, Dalton, N. H., painter.

The authorities also found Mrs. Dodge's revolver near the body, with three exploded cartridges. Mrs. Dodge today reiterated her denial that she knew anything of the shooting or that she had had any quarrel with Heath.

It is alleged that Mrs. Dodge and Heath had had difficulties on other occasions, and that though she hired him to paint one of the chambers, she did not want him about the house after the work was completed. Mrs. Dodge is well known throughout Caledonia county, being well to do and of considerable social prominence. Harlan B. Howe, of St. Johnsbury, will represent her. She has not been placed in jail, but is allowed to stay in her own home under the guard of a couple of deputy sheriffs.

Salacity in Book-Making. "We denounce the author and her book," says the Houston Post, "but we intend to read it so that we can intelligently warn the people against it." This bit of breezy comment upon a novel that is described as eclipsing Mrs. Glyn's worst in point of uncleanliness serves to call attention to the volume of excellent free advertising that is available to authors of that kind of literature. What, with adverse opinions from the book critics, angry or humorous comment from editorial writers, denunciation from the pulpit and information from the thousands who give oral tips to friends whose tastes incline them toward the unclean, or advice to those who in their opinion stand in need of it, the authors get all of the publicity that is needed, and publicity is the spice of life to all who have goods in the market.

It is an indication of a good deal of respectability pretty widely distributed in this country that there are so few novels that could be condemned by the censorious as unfit for publication. No age in which literature and the arts have flourished has boasted a larger proportion of harmless or uplifting books and a smaller proportion of the other kind than this can proclaim as its possession. — Louisville Courier-Journal.
