

WESTERLY AUCTION BRINGS $46.48

Vessels which Held Forfeited Liquors Sold Publicly—Effects of License Vote in Pawcatuck—Alex C. Thompson New Administrator of W. Coit Pendleton Estate.

With Eugene B. Pendleton as auctioneer and Cornelius Bransfield, chief of police, as cashier, vessels that contained seized beer and other intoxicating liquors, that had been seized, forfeited to the state and destroyed by order of the Third district court, were sold at public auction for the benefit of the state on Tuesday morning.

The first lot offered consisted of fourteen Balauntine barrels, the purchaser to take one or more, and the balance, if any, to be offered at the price paid by the highest bidder. Harry B. Agard, town solicitor, started the bidding at 25 cents a barrel. His only opposing bidder was Horace Sisson, who evidently represented the brewing firm, the original owners of the barrels. Mr. Agard bid as high as $1 and then stopped. Mr. Sisson won him five cents better, and took the barrels at $1.05 each.

The next lot was twenty-seven Balauntine half-barrels, which were started by Mr. Agard at 25 cents each, but which were finally bid in by Mr. Sisson at 50 cents apiece.

The next lot consisted of fifteen Schaeffer lager beer kegs. Mr. Agard started the bidding up to 25 cents each, and none made higher bid. Mr. Agard took one keg at the price. There were no more taken at that price, so the sale continued. Alden B. Miner was the highest bidder this time and took one keg at 15 cents. On week 15 cents for a single keg. In the next try Henry Moriarty bid 15 cents, and took two kegs. Park B. Main taking the balance, eleven kegs, at ten cents each.

Then four demijohns that had contained whiskey, were brought forth from the police station, and Auctioneer Pendleton became an open bidder. The bid was raised to 27 cents each by the auctioneer and he knocked them down to himself.

Five barrels of empty bottles were then offered for sale and there was difficulty in getting a bid. The real bargain of the sale, just to get the sale going, Edward M. Burke, judge, prostrate, offered five cents for the lot, then the bidding taken up by Constable John Reardon and Constable Peter Rose, the latter making the highest bid of $1.13 for the lot.

Three earthen jugs were then produced, which were purchased by Herbert P. Clarke, town sergeant, for 20 cents. The 50c closed by the purchase of four brass spigots by Park B. Main for 25 cents.

The total amount realized from the sale was $46.48, which will reach the state treasury, less the expense of the auction sale.

There is still a quantity of liquor at the police station, which has been seized in more recent raids, and will in due time be ordered destroyed and the vessels containing the same destroyed or sold.

As soon as it was known that the town of Stonington was voted in favor of liquor license, those who had been making application for license were busy seeking location for their proposed saloons, business being offered to occupants of desirable stores for them to vacate and locate elsewhere. It is said that the law of the land for every 500 population will entitle the town of Stonington to eighteen saloons, and that an equitable division would be ten to Pawcatuck, five to Stonington borough and three to Mystic.

Coit Pendleton, died before the estate was fully administered. The court appointed Alex. C. Thompson administrator of the estate. Bonds $100. The appraisers are Everett E. Reinforcements have been sent against the outlaws, but the absence of roads in the mountain fastnesses hampers the operations.

The expedition tracked the band to the border of Persia province and surrounded it camp, which was pitched in an almost inaccessible gorge. The soldiers succeeded in capturing Zelim's family, his cattle and much booty, but further pursuit of the outlaws resulted in a reverse when the soldiers fell into an ambush.
